ST. PATS WON OUT

Defeating Ottawa in Pro. League by Two Goals, Before Great Crowd.

IN SECOND PERIOD

St. Patricks defeated the Ottiwa Senators here on Saturday night in a close and hard-checking game by a score of 5 to 3, before one of the largest crowds that the Arena has held this season. The Irish were outplayed the first half, but came strong the latter half, and secured a two-goal lead during the second period. The Senators cut this advantage down to one goal twice in the last session, but St. Pats came thru both times and added the tallies that kept them out of danger.

The checking was very close all thru, and, therefore, it was not as interesting to watch as some of the games seen here. However, the closeness of the score kept the crowd on their to-s, and the efforts of Noble, Roach and Matte, in which they each scored pretty geals, had them cheering continuously; in fact, the noise was so great that play at different times continued for some seconds after the referee had blown his whistle. This system of using a whistle does not suit the Toronto fans, who for years suit the Toronto fans, who for years have been used to a bell, and they were not slow to express their dissatisfaction. The St. Patrick management even asked the official to change to a bell for this game, but he refused, claiming that, as he had never used one, he would only get balled up and the game would be even slower in consequence.

same, but he refused, claiming that, as he had never used one, he would only get balled up and the game would be even slower in consequence.

Each team scored a goal in the opening round, Broadbent slipping one in from the side, and Wilson getting the other from a long shot. In the second period the Irish counted twice, and should have had another when Matte and Wilson went in together, but the latter was bumped away as he was about to bat the puck in past Benedict. Roach scored the first goal of this period when he went in after his shot and carried the rebound into the net, after ten minutes of play, and Noble secured the other one eight minutes later, when he also went in alone. The last session started with St. Pats two goals up, but of tawareduced that advantage half way thru the period, when Cleghorn took the puck down, went into the corner, and passed across in front, and McKell, closing in fast, tallied. Matte came right back with another tally when he went thru alone and scored after a pretty effort. Cleghorn again reduced the margin with a wing shot, but thirty seconds afterwards Wilson got St. Pats' fifth and last goal when he took a pass from the face-off and sailed the puck past the Senators' goaler.

There were several penalties handed out, most of which were for minor offences. Wilson drew the only major for being too aggressive on one occasion, and Benedict was given a penalty for slashing at Heffernan's head when the latter went around behind the net. No score resulted during his absence, tho the Irish had several shots, but Darragh, who took up the net duties, performed like a veteran.

Clarkes' combination and their condition won for them and at one stage they led 6 to 0, but the electric sextet got better as the game progressed and in the last period scored their all three goals, Armour, Burbidge and Shannon being the sharpshooters. McBrien, who starred for Clarkes, scored four of his team's goals, with Nixon getting the other two. Jess Spring was effective on the defence and Spanton was real good in goal. In addition to Clarke and Hicks, Book and Burbidge were C. G. E.'s best. Canadian General will be decided factors in the race from this on.

Massey-Harris and Fords had a real battle in which feeling between the players ran high at times and they mixed it up rather strenuously. Fords back checked hard all thru the game, and Masseys found it hard to break away for many dangerous rushes. Masseys' defence was weak, too, but Dingle played splendidly in the nets. Stroud was miles the most effective player on the forward line, and Landriault rushed well. Freeman, Brody, Horsfield were Fords best.

The Pas, Man., Jan. 24.—The third annual race of the Hudson Bay Dog Derby Association—the classic of winter struggles in Canada—will take place St. Patrick's Day. The 1902-mile dash will be the first year in which a variety of dog breeds will be represented. From The Pas to Sturgeon Landing, and return.

A purse of $1000, and a gold and silver cup, more than three feet in height, will be awarded to the winner. The cup is the gift of Frank Burns of Toronto. The prizes are infinitesimal compared with the money wagered by miners, trappers and dog fanciers.

Unusual interest is centred in the approaching derby. The gold strikes north of here and the record prices for furs has the monotony of winter. Then, too, this will be the first year in which a variety of dog breeds will be represented. Present indications are that 50 teams may compete, as 16 teams already are entered.
