Poetry, &c. COURTSHIP AND MATRIMONY.

A Poem, in two Cantos. CANTO THE FIRST—Courtship.

Fairest of earth! if thou wilt hear my yow,
Lo! at thy feet, I swear to love thee ever!
And, by this kiss upon thy radiant brow,
Promise affection which no time shall sever;
And love which e'er shall burn as bright as now,
To be extinguished—never, dearest—never!
Wilt thou that naughty, flutering heart resign?
Catherine! my own sweet Kate! wilt—thou be

CANTO THE SECOND - Malrimony.

CANTO THE SECOND—Malrimony.

Now, Mrs. Pringle, once for all, I say
I will not such extravagance allow!

Bills upon bills, and larger every day,
Eacough to drive a man to drink, I vow!

Bonnets, gloves, frippery and trash—nay, nay,
Tears, Mrs. Pringle, will not gull me now.

I say I won't allow ten pounds a week:
I can't afford it; Madass, do not speak!

In wedding you, I thought I had a treasure; I find myself most miscrably mistaken! You rise at ten, then spend the day in pleasure;— In fact, my confidence is slightly shaken. Ha! what's that uproat? This, ma'am is my leisure;

leisure;
Sufficient noise the slumbering dead to awaken!
swek retirement, and I find—a riot;
Confound those children, but Pil make them quiet!
[Pinch.]

ANES,
'ritten in the Album of a friend on the erc of her bridal.

I would not cast a darksome shade
Upon thy joyous heart,
Nor bid life's brightest roses fade,
Its sweetest joys depart.

Ah no! my friend, but rather would That life's uneven way, Might over be, as now, illumized, By love's bright beaming ray.

So may thy young combding heart But closer cling in sadness, To him who won thy heart and hand, When all was joy and gladness.

MILITARY INTELLIGENCE.—The Emperor of Russia has just made his grandson, a young Prince of three months old, a Colonel of the Imperial onal cockade.

They look splendid in this uniform; though it ther impedes the movements of the troops on the date.

The field officers of the regiment ride in superb.

The field officers of the regiment ride in superb T go-carts.

A splendid service of silver pap-boats has been are presented by the Imperial Grandmother to the regimental mess.

When the Colonel cuts his first tooth he is to be advanced to the rank of Major-General; when he is weaned he is to be made Field-Marshal.

A baton of barley-sugar is preparing for his Imperial Highness, and the devoted subjects of the Emperor say he will make as good a Field Marshal as a certain eminent and Royal warrior, who enjoys the same rank in this country; and who was seen at a late review reading the Orders off a paper on his saddle, and asking his Aides-de-Camp What was to be done next?"—Punch.

To the Affluent.—A young gentleman, who from a habit of dining out at parties, has acquired a taste for Champagne and other expensive wines, but whose means, alse: do not permit of his indulging in the same at his own expense, makes this earnest appeal to the benevolent and kindhearted, in the hope that, through their liberality, his small but too empty cellar may be supplied. Even single bottles would be mest thankfully received. Please to address to flon. X. Y. Z. 172 Fleet-st.—Ib.

The Way the Money Goes.—In the year 1843, eight million one thousand four hundred and fortynine pounds, one shilling, and fourpence, was spent by the people of this kingdom in tobacce! a tolerable round sum to end in "smoke." If the weed had been worked into pigtail, rather more than half an inch thick, it would have formed a line 99,470 miles long—long enough to go nearly five times round the world!—English paper.

by cleaning and purifying the body; it will be manifest, that if the constitution be not entirely exhausted—a perseverance in their use, according to directions, is absolutely certain to drive disease of every name from the body.

When we wish to restore a swamp or morass to fertility, we drain it of the superabundant waters; in like manner, if we wish to restore the body to health, we must cleanse it of impurity.

The Indian Vegetable Pills will be found one of the best, if not the very best, medicines in the world tor carrying out the
