

UNION HOUSE.

Is situated on Queen Street, Charlottetown. Mr. P. P. Gillis, the proprietor, has, by prompt attention and courtesy to the wants of his customers, secured a fair share of public patronage. The numerous persons who come to town and find that they cannot delay until meal hours will do well to give Mr. Gillis a call as meals are served at any time on the shortest possible notice. First class oysters are always kept on hand and are served up in any style that may be desired. Refreshments of all descriptions will also be found here, all of which are the finest quality. In connection with this establishment there is a barber shop, which is neatly and comfortably furnished, and gentlemen having occasion to visit this department will always find experienced and obliging attendants to wait on them.

FRANKLIN HOUSE.

This hotel is situated on Central street, Summerside, and in consequence of the proprietor's (Mr. George Muttart) constant endeavors to please one and all who may favor him with their patronage, we find that he is gaining quite a goodly share of public support. Farmers and others visiting the town will do well to call at the "Franklin," as the stabling accommodation is excellent, the rooms comfortable, the table fare substantial, and the charges very moderate.

REVERE HOUSE, PICTOU, N. S.

Persons who for business or pleasure, have occasion to sojourn in Pictou, N. S., will not be at a loss for accommodation, for at the house which we have now under notice may be found all the requisites to make a home from home most comfortable. Mr. Charles L. Rood, the proprietor, is widely and favorably known as one of the most obliging and attentive of hosts. The house is situated on Coleraine Street, and persons patronizing it will find that even in the hot summer months, cool and bracing air is always to be enjoyed in this locality. Business men and others will find this house admirably adapted for them, it being in close proximity to the Railway Station, Banks, Post Office, &c., and they will at all times meet with every attention from the obliging proprietor. The tables are furnished with all the delicacies of the seasons, while the charges are very moderate, the motto of Mr. Rood being "live and let live."
