

DR. ELIOT LEFT $200,000 FUND TO UNIVERSITY

Proceeds of Sum, Raised by Alumni, to Benefit
Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 3.—The will of Dr. Charles W. Eliot, late president emeritus of Harvard University, probated in the Middlesex County Court, leaves the bulk of his estate to his wife and directs that the income from the Charles William Eliot fund, raised for him by alumni, be given to the president and fellows of Harvard. This was his only public bequest.

The income from the fund, accrued and accruing, is to be supplied at the discretion of the president and fellows of Harvard to the support of instruction or research in landscape architecture or preventive medicine. The amount is not revealed, but is estimated at $200,000. The will further provides in connection with this bequest that in case any descendant of his by direct line should ever need aid in obtaining a thorough education, aid shall be provided from the income of the Eliot fund.

TWO CODICILS

The will, which is in the form of the original will and two codicils added in 1924 and 1925, is returnable September 13.

Dr. Eliot left $1,000 to Orrin A. Donnell, of Northeast Harbor, Me., with the following thought: "To Orrin Donnell, who has been in my employ for more than forty years, I give $1,000 as a token of my respect and affection."

Dr. Samuel A. Eliot, of Cambridge, his son, petitioned for appointment as executor. Heirs-at-law, next of kin, as set forth in the petition for probate, include, in addition to his son, the following grandchildren, children of the deceased son, Charles W. Eliot: Mrs. Ruth E. Pierce, of Milton, Mass.; Mrs. Helen E. Paine, of Brookline; Miss Grace Eliot, of Boston, and Miss Carola Eliot, of Boston.

Under the terms of the will and codicils, Dr. Eliot bequeathed to the grandchildren and to his sons, all books, pictures, engravings and furniture which came from the Eliot or Peabody families; also all the silver which came to him from the Peabody family.

He provided that the Stuart portrait of his grandfather and grandmother Eliot were to go to the son, Samuel A. Eliot.

To each of his grand-daughters and the issue of any grand-daughter who may be dead he gave the sum of $1,000 to come from the Charles William Eliot fund and, after the payments have been made, the residue of that fund is to go to the president and fellows of Harvard College, to be held as a permanent university fund under the name of the Charles W. Eliot fund, the income to be applied, at the discretion of the president and fellows, to the support of instruction or research in landscape architecture or preventive medicine.

He bequeathed $2,000 to the children of the late William H. Prentiss, of Keene, N. H.; the children of the late John P. Hopkinson, the children of the late Ellen C. Goodwin or to the issue of the children if they die.

He made this bequest in accordance with the wish of his wife that the sum of $2,000 which she gave from an aunt's estate should ultimately go back to the aunt's heirs.

Other bequests were $100 to the heirs of Mary Lyman Guild, $100 each to Samuel A. and Mary Y. Eliot and $200 each to Mrs. Walter E. McDaniel and Miss Eliza Hoppin.

He bequeathed to the nephews and nieces of his late wife and in the issue of any deceased nephews and nieces the sum of $8,800 to be divided equally.

In his will he set forth that the residue of the estate should go to his heirs-at-law and next of kin—the son, Samuel A. Eliot, and the four grandchildren in the proportion to which they are entitled.

His son, Samuel, is named in the will as executor.

The original will is dated June 10, 1924, the first codicil is dated January 14, 1924, and the second January 30, 1925.

There is no indication of the value of the estate.

Bright Lights Not the Way To Footlights, Says Opera Star

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—When the Chicago Civic Opera Company opens the winter season here in November, there will be one member of the company to realize a life-long ambition and the rewards of years of determined study and work.

She is Miss Lorna Doone Jackson, the company's latest "find," a Chicago contralto, who, by perseverance has trod the path of toil to make a dream come true. Since she was 15 years old, Miss Jackson has been working to fit herself for her chosen profession and this year she is to make her debut in metropolitan opera.

Despite years of hard work and study, Miss Jackson has lost none of her girlish charm and enthusiasm. At the same time she realizes the seriousness of the step she is about to take and although the time for her debut is rapidly approaching, she continues to work as hard as ever.

"Playing in the bright lights will never land you behind the footlights," is her philosophy. "I go to bed late, get up late, but I never dissipate. Just work, nothing else occupies my time. I don't even have time to eat."

MONTREAL TALKS ELEVATED TRAINS

Plans to Relieve Traffic Congestion Under Consideration at City Hall

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—Plans for an elevated high-speed tramway line north from Place d'Armes are under consideration by the city administration.

These plans, it was stated, have been prepared for three or four years by the Montreal Tramways Company and the Montreal Tramways Commission, the need for some new method of relieving the congestion and providing rapid transit being pressing at that time and becoming more so since St. Urbain street is considered the logical route for the proposed elevated line. It would necessitate widening of the street to 40 feet from Craig St. Catherine. Neither Bleury street nor St. Lawrence boulevard is considered suitable for the elevated line.

Plans for the elevated line on St. Urbain street call for elevated tracks from Craig street to a little above Ontario street. At this point the tracks would go underground, below Sherbrooke street, and come out on the surface again at Milton street. From there north surface lines would be followed.

PUT "HABITUALS" IN PRISON FOR LIFE

Judge Says Trial Within 30 Days, and Drastic Punishment, Would Check Crime

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Judge Jacob H. Hopkins, of the Superior Court of Cook County, Ill., who returned after a sixty-two-day Mediterranean cruise, expressed the opinion that the present crime wave in the United States was the result of the fact that trial and punishment were not quick and drastic enough.

"A criminal knows that there is only one chance in ten of being caught," he said, "and only one chance in a hundred of paying a full penalty if caught. Coupled with sloppy jurors and sometimes sloppy judges and lack of an adequate police force, this is responsible for the crime wave in big cities. States should pass laws prescribing that criminals be tried within thirty days after arrest. For crime suppression certainty of punishment is the big thing. An habitual criminal should be put away for life."

Judge Hopkins declared that the Bauman law of New York State was a step in the right direction and that the parole of habitual criminals was a "terrible mistake."

Town Uses Magic To Eradicate Ant Hills

PHATT, Kan., Aug. 31.—(United Press.)—Regarding numerous ant hills in Pratt as a menace to grass and other vegetation, the municipal commissioners recently hired H. E. Salter, an Oklahoma Indian, to apply his "magic chemical" in the extermination of the pests.

The city officials reported the Indian's method as successful on more than five hundred colonies of the insects at his quotation of twenty-five cents a hill.

Hundreds of Dollars Found in Rooms Where Matilda
Ries Lived

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Hundreds of dollars in pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters were found in the two-room apartment of Miss Matilda Ries at 1731 avenue A, who was arrested two weeks ago for soliciting alms in a subway station. She was taken to Bellevue for observation, where it was found that she had sewed $1,800 in bills in her clothing. She was finally transferred to the state hospital at Central Islip, where she told physicians her former address.

Scattered about her room were small

London's Water Plant Largest In England

LONDON, Sept. 3.—London now has the largest plant in Europe for the pumping and purification of water.

The Minister of Health, Neville Chamberlain, has formally opened the new gigantic pumping station at Watlington-Thames, built for a normal daily capacity of 17,000,000 gallons which can be doubled in an emergency. The water supply is first run through 18 primary filters and is afterwards run through six secondary filters having a total area of five acres. The plant, including 18 miles of direct pipeline, cost nearly $8,000,000.

BODY CARRIED MANY MILES BY TWO MEN

Bring Out of Wilderness Remains of Man Who Was Drowned

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—After tremendous exertions and considerable peril on the part of two white men and two Indians, the body of Alvin Alexander, 21, who was drowned in the wilds of the northland, where he was employed by the Hudson Bay Company, has been sent east for burial in the family plot in the cemetery at Hensall, Ont., according to a despatch from Fort William.

Young Alexander's love of adventure and exploration took him into the remote hinterland, and when he met death in the Koochech river, about 800 miles from here, where his canoe capsized several weeks ago, his parents determined that the body should be brought home. It was to carry out their wishes that Hector Tremblay, of Fort William, left this city on August 19. He has returned after an exhausting trip.

Tremblay was accompanied by Joe

Use Insect Eye Lens To Make Photographs

LONDON, Sept. 3.—How well do insects see? The question was answered before the British Association for the Advancement of Science by Professor H. Ellingham at a recent meeting in Oxford.

Glow worms, he found, have perfect vision. Dragonflies can also see as clearly as men, and butterflies are able to see and recognize each other at a distance of three and a half feet. Insects have eyes which enable them to see the ultraviolet rays which are invisible to the human eye.

The professor made his discoveries by using the eyes of insects as photographic lenses and taking pictures through the tiny insect eyes instead of through the regulation photographic lenses. The eyes of glowworms are only one fifty-thousandth of a square millimeter in size.

A picture of a man taken in this way through a glowworm's eye was projected onto a screen and showed the man's figure with remarkable clearness.

Famous London Parrot Ill With Pneumonia

LONDON, Sept. 3.—That famous parrot in the Cheshire Cheese, who has killed more American girls than any other male bird in the world, has fallen ill with pneumonia.

Although he has been vainly calling for "Scotch" throughout his entire forty years at the Cheshire Cheese, it was only when he fell ill that he got his first taste of it.

He has been presented to every American ambassador in London, to six prime ministers of England, to Princess Mary and other members of the family, and to an immense proportion of American visitors to London.

He had some pleasant chophouse tricks. He could call most heartrendingly for "Scotch," he could imitate the popping of a cork, and he could whisper to gentlemen, softly so that the ladies could not hear, precisely what he thought of the Kaiser.
