SACKVILLE, May 19—Regents of Mount Allison adjourned tonight at 7 o'clock after being in session all day. At the morning session Rev. William C. Ross, well known throughout the Maritime Provinces for his splendid work among young people and for his outstanding record as an athlete, was appointed principal of Ladies' College. He agreed to accept the position for one year in succession to Rev. Dr. Wigle, who is retiring after nine years of faithful, efficient and successful service. This afternoon plans for a memorial library, to be built of stone, were submitted to the board by a committee previously appointed. The recommendation of the committee to ask for tenders and to proceed immediately with the erection of the library building on the site facing Main street to the southeast of the McClellan School of applied science was adopted after careful consideration. The structure will be in tudor style of architecture of most pleasing design and will undoubtedly prove a splendid addition to Mount Allison's plant. Rev. William S. Godfrey, Campbellton, was chosen physical director for the university while Rev. Norman M. Guy, of Bermuda, a brilliant scholar, was appointed to the chair of economics.

LONDON, May 19—J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, was elected vice-president of the Royal Colonial Institute at the annual meeting today after a motion to delete his name from the list of nominations on the ground of his connection with the general strike was withdrawn. Lord Stanley of Alderley, chairman said that it was true that the general strike was in the nature of an attempted revolution, but he very much doubted whether the ordinary strikers had any intention of subverting the political conditions of the country.

Mr. Thomas, he said, was one of the first to see the necessary results of action into which national sympathy
