"MAY NANNARY" LEAVES TODAY FOR 'FRISCO HOME

St. John Girl Who Rose to Fame on the American Stage.

May Nannary Dailey, famous in theatrical circles from coast to coast and who for many years was one of the leading actresses on this continent, will leave for her home in San Francisco, Cal., this evening after spending the summer months visiting her aunt Mrs. Teresa Hansen, 28 Douglas Avenue. She will return home via Boston, New York and Chicago.

May Nannary Dailey is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Nannary and was born in West St. John. For many years her father was manager of the old Academy of Music, which was destroyed during the fire of 1877. He also opened the Academy of Music in Halifax and while in charge of these theatrical houses brought to these parts many of the leading dramatic actors and actresses of the American stage. In his younger days Mr. Nannary was also one of the leading amateur actors in the city and was a member of the old St. John Dramatic Club.

Early Showed Talent.

May Nannary as a young girl showed marked dramatic ability and was performing in San Francisco, Cal., attracted the attention of William E. Sheridan who induced her to join the cast of his company then presenting Louis XI. Later she signed for a six weeks engagement with Dion Boucicault, who was reputed to be one of the greatest Irish comedians on the American stage. At the conclusion of this engagement she signed with Edwin F. Thorne's company then presenting "The Boy Ned," "The Black Flag" and the "Three Musketeers" at the old Standard Theatre in San Francisco. She appeared as Constance in the latter play. Later she was with Daniel E. Bandmann at the California Theatre in "Narcisse," or the Fall of the Pompadour. From there she accepted an offer from Walter Morosco for a ten weeks engagement, with the proviso that if she succeeded she would receive a contract for one year. Instead of one year she remained under his management for 186 weeks appearing in leading roles. She then went to Portland, Oregon, under direction of John F. Cordray, Thorne's brother, one of the present day leading lights in the movies, was a member of the cast.

Her Own Company.

At the conclusion of the season in Portland Miss Nannary organized a strong company and went to Honolulu where she remained for two seasons. She then went to New York under the management of Harris and Woods. While in New York she won fame throughout the theatrical world by offering to substitute for the leading lady in the production of "The Past Mail," receiving her part one hour before the performance was to start. When the curtain went up she appeared without script or without having had a rehearsal and her acting won the highest commendation for many leading critics present, who proclaimed her achievement as one of the greatest in theatrical history. It was a wonderful test of study and memory.

Opera House Here.

Miss Nannary spent two seasons with Sullivan, Harris and Woods and later came to St. John with her band, who had a two season run at the Opera House with the Dailey Stock Company. After leaving the Opera House, she appeared in Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Toronto, and other cities in "The Old Cross Roads," playing the leading role. She was then engaged by Robert Mantel and appeared with him taking leading roles in "King Lear," "Hamlet" and other of his famous productions. She had the misfortune to contract laryngitis and was forced to take a rest for some time. In recent years she played sketches on prominent vaudeville circuits throughout the Western States, scoring a hit in "Father's Way," "The Two Virtues" and "The Silver Fox." She also appeared in many other acts under her own management.

Her career on the stage has been marked with success and her name, especially throughout the Western States, is known to every lover of the legitimate drama. Her career here and her brothers have also won fame on the American stage and in the movies. Many friends in this city will be wishing her a pleasant journey to her home in San Francisco and future success. Her visit here has been marked by renewal of happy friendships of other years.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "I'm still gittin' my eye-teeth out. Now, I went into one of them restaurants the other day to get my dinner. It seems I was a little airy—but I didn't know it. I took up the printed bill of fare and give a gal my order. It was a sixty-five cents—but hevin' got down I wouldn't git up an' quit—so I made up my mind to pay it. Well, sir, while I was eatin'—an' jist afore I got through—the waiter gal come along an' pinterd a paper onto that there bill of fare. After she went away I picked it up an' there it was the regular bill of fare. I right alongside o' me an' ordered it for forty cents. An' it had a lot of things I didn't order at all. If I had waited fifteen minutes afore I got it I'd heve saved twenty-five cents an' got a lot more things to eat. I didn't dust tell Hanner about it, fer she says I orto hev a keeper when I go out to buy anything—an' she'd load me up with a bottle o' tea an' some doughnuts every time I come to town. But I bet you won't kech me doin' that trick again—no, sir."

LOCAL NEWS

ON INSPECTION TRIP

S. R. Weston, acting chief engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, left this morning for Moncton on a general inspection trip.

TO ATTEND DEDICATION

Rev. C. P. Carleton, pastor of St. Joachim's church, Silver Falls, left this morning for Moncton, and from there will motor to Hillsboro, where he will be present tomorrow at the dedication of Rev. Father Walker's new church.

ACCEPT CHALLENGES

The Thistles accept the challenge of the Olympics for a game tonight on the Rockwood diamond and that of the Ramblers for a game tomorrow evening on the North End Improvement League diamond.

DEATH OF CHILD

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens, 42 St. John street, West End, will sympathize with them in the death of their little daughter, Lois Vivian, which occurred on Sunday. The funeral was held this afternoon.

NEW SIDEWALK

Sidewalks are receiving the attention of the public works department these days, and among the streets being looked after is Parks street, between the old and new bridges, as "Cradle Hill," on which a brand new walk is being placed.

SHOWS HEAVY TRAVEL

Commissioner Pink is leaving this afternoon for Shawigan Falls to attend the annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities. Some idea of the tide of travel these days can be gleaned from the fact that with two C. P. R. trains leaving for Montreal every day, it was impossible for the commissioner to get anything but an upper berth on either of them.

RETURN TO U. S.

A motor party, composed of Mr. and Mrs. James MacLaine and two sons of Detroit, who have spent the last month in the Maritime Provinces, left today for their home. While they were the guests of Mrs. P. A. Young, Mrs. MacLaine's sister, at her summer home. They were accompanied as far as St. John by Mrs. MacLaine's son, a Prince Edward Island boy, and has not been home for 20 years.

MARRIED IN ENGLAND

A pretty wedding of interest to friends in St. John was solemnized on August 8 at St. Matthew's church, Brighton, England, when Alice Laura Colman, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colman, College Gardens, Brighton, England, was united in marriage with John Andrew Linton, formerly of St. John but now of Montreal. Their many friends, join in extending congratulations and best wishes for future happiness. They will make their home in Montreal.

A FLAG INCIDENT

A rather regrettable incident is reported by two young men who returned recently after a motor trip to the United States. From the radiator of their car floated a Union Jack. The sight of it did not seem to inspire much joy in the hearts of the motorists of the republic, but the climax came when they reached Lynn, Mass. There they were stopped by a policeman. When a man came out of the building and approached the car. He informed them in no uncertain terms that unless they removed the flag from the car, he would be forced to tow it down. It is hard to imagine such remarks as this being passed to an American tourist who chanced to stop in front of our City Hall.

HAVING PICNIC

The first of what is planned to be an annual event, a picnic of the employees of the water and sewerage department is being held at Lake Robinson today and everybody is looking forward to having a "whole of a time." The families of the men were conveyed by automobile this morning to the lake and after a fine dinner had been well looked after sports were enjoyed. This picnic is an outgrowth of a movement inaugurated by Commissioner Wigmore, who soon after assuming office in 1922 organized a club and fitted up a reading room for the men in the water and sewerage building, Germarthen street, as means of bringing the men closer together and promoting a spirit of comradeship.

LIBRARY MEETING

A public meeting under the auspices of the Maritime Library Association was held this afternoon in the Free Public Library, for the purpose of discussing the installation of a library system for the various districts throughout New Brunswick. The system has worked well in Ontario, and at the last session of the Nova Scotia Legislature legislation was introduced in that province. It is sought to bring the same thing into effect in New Brunswick. W. Milner of the Dominion Archives Department is the president; Miss Starry of Halifax is vice-president; for Nova Scotia, Miss Estelle Vaughan, vice-president for New Brunswick, and Miss Mary Ingraham of Acadia University, secretary-treasurer.

BARRISTERS CONGRATULATE COUNTY JUDGE

Wish Him Success in High
Position—Jury Throws
Out Two Cases.

The St. John County Court opened this morning in the Court House, Germain street, with His Honor Judge J. A. Barry presiding. Before His Honor delivered his charge to the grand jury, William M. Ryan, on behalf of the senior and junior members of the bar, welcomed Judge Barry. He extended congratulations and expressed the hope that His Honor would be long spared to fill the high position to which he had been raised.

B. L. Grew spoke briefly, expressing the same thoughts as had Mr. Ryan. Judge Barry replied feelingly. He thanked the barristers for their kindness. He felt full well the responsibility which had been placed on him, and trusted that he would always be found fair. He had practised for fifteen years, he said, and during that time, had always had the good will of the members of the bar. He hoped that he would continue to have their good will, and said in whatever case came before him, he would be just and fair irrespective of color, class or creed. Barristers, he said, belonged to the greatest profession in the world, for upon them rested the responsibility of framing the laws, criticizing them, and protecting homes, persons and property.

To the Jury.

In opening his charge to the grand jury he thanked the members for attending. He said that we should be grateful in this city for the peace that reigned here, as compared with the trials and tribulations to which the people of Europe were subjected. During the last two months he had but two minor cases before him for hearing, and in this connection he paid a high compliment to the police force, detective force and the commissioner of public safety, for the order that was kept in the city, and the fact that there was so little crime here.

The two criminal cases on the docket were the King vs. Cyril McAdam, charged with stealing a photograph from the Phonograph Station, between July 1 and September 30, 1921, and of converting monies collected by him to his own use. The other was that of King vs. Alfred Williams Downing, charged with robbery with violence from William L. Doherty on or about July 18, of the sum of $102, and a gold watch and chain. The grand jury returned no bill in either of these cases.

The grand jury was composed of Alfred Barclay, foreman, A. Ernest Cunningham, Charles F. Dykeman, Richard H. Irvine, Harry L. B. Egan, Allan Dykeman, Charles P. O'Neill, Zeb- edee G. Allwood, and Allan A. McIntyre. His Honor discharged the grand jury, thinking them again for the services.

William M. Ryan, prosecuting attorney in the case of King vs. Thomas Carter, charged with an offence against a young girl, announced that they would not proceed in this case. Carter was discharged from custody. At his trial at the last sitting of the court the jury disagreed.

J. D. O'Connell Case.

The two criminal cases being disposed of, the only jury case was that of the Purity Ice Cream Company and J. D. O'Connell. His Honor said that he could not hold the jury for this case, as it was indefinite when it would be taken up, owing to the absence of D. Mullin, K. C., counsel for Mr. O'Connell, and therefore he discharged the jury.

The petit jury panel was as follows: S. Allen Thomas, G. J. Foster, Albert E. Caron, John F. Sullivan, Fred Leonard, George Sprunt, James H. Wilkes, Gerald Doherty, Harry L. Armstrong, Edward Tait, Walter P. Fullerton, Robert H. Murray, Thomas E. Simpson, Frederick W. Dean, David J. Lynch, Beverly Stevens, Alfred Jones, Louis L. King, John E. Roy, Shanklin, and Harry J. Dustin.

The docket for non jury cases follows:—

Allaby vs. Harding, William H. Scott.

Miller vs. Wheaton, C. J. Mellday.

Miller vs. Doherty, C. J. Mellday.

Green vs. McLoud, C. J. Mellday.

Evans vs. Carey, Kelly and Ross.

Townsend Piano Co. Ltd. vs. Schofield, E. P. Raymond.

Corbitt vs. Mills, J. Starr Tait.

Nyman vs. Woods, J. Starr Tait.

Robinson vs. Hatfield, F. R. Taylor, K. C.

Massey Harris Co. Ltd. vs. Green, M. B. Innes.

Greenbury vs. Sharpe, M. B. Innes.

Court adjourned until Friday morning at 10 o'clock.
