SQUABBLE OVER PEKINESE PUP

New York Financier and Divorced Wife Both Claim Ownership—Two Lawyers and Supreme Court Judge Dragged Into Scrap.

New York, July 21.—A Pekinese is about as small a dog as can be seen, yet the one that lives in the home of Daniel G. Reid, leader in the tin plate industry, at No. 907 Fifth avenue, is causing as much trouble as a Great Dane or a Russian wolf hound could reasonably expect to start.

Two busy lawyers appeared before a busy supreme court justice and submitted voluminous briefs on the question of the ownership of the Reid Pekinese. Mrs. Margaret Carrere Reid, who divorced her husband more than a year ago, claims that the small pet is part of the household furniture which belongs to her. Mr. Reid is as insistent that the dog is his property. Edmund L. Mooney, attorney for Mrs. Reid, says the Pekinese sleeps on a pillow at the foot of Mr. Reid's bed every night. The subject of all the controversy, the Pekinese himself is now at the country place of Mr. Reid in Greenwich, Conn.

Although the most important bone of contention between Mr. Reid and his former wife, the pup is not the only obstacle to an amicable settlement of their respective claims. The ownership of a painting of King George I, by Sir Thomas Lawrence, is also in dispute. Is Pup Part of Furniture?

From the statements of attorneys for

DIDN'T SEE WHY KING GEORGE SHOULD NOT BE ROTARIAN

London, July 5.—(Associated Press by mail)—The reputation which Americans have of blunt speaking even in the face of royalty, is likely to be enhanced by a remark that passed between King George and Klumpp of Cleveland, O., on the occasion of the Rotarians' reception at Buckingham Palace the other day.

King George affably said to Mr. Klumpp that he, too, would like to become a Rotarian.

"I don't see what is to stop you," said Mr. Klumpp.

Notice!

Because of the recent bad reports concerning the purity of the City water supply, naturally people are somewhat concerned regarding that used in the manufacture of beverages of all kinds.

For our own reputation and the protection of the public, we submitted samples of the water used by us to the Department of Health with the request that a Bacterial examination be made and a report submitted.

The Department under the direction of Dr. H. L. Abramson, advises that the necessary tests have been made and
