THE EVACUATION OF

Oku Will Probably Join Forces With Kuroki-Have Squadrons Put to Sea?

Tokio, July 9.—General Oku reoccupied Kaiping, or Kaichau, yesterday (Friday). The occupation of Kafchau throws the Japanese line clear across the Liaotung peninsula, and from the Yalu river to the Liaotung Gulf. Kaichau is Arthur. The Russians claimed to have about 25 miles south of Port New- driven the Japanese back on all sides, chwang.

THE RUSSIANS MAY RETIRE TO LIAO YANG.

St. Petersburg, July 9.—The capture of Kaiping brings the Japanese within reach of Newchwang, facilitating Gen. Oku's juncture with Gen. Kuroki, who may already be in touch. The Japanese reports of the severity of the fighting may indicate Kouropatkin's desire to hold Kaichau so long as possible for the purpose of preventing a juncture of the Japanese armies, but the threatening position of the Japanese columns eastward may have rendered Kouropatkin's withdrawal further north imperative. It would not be surprising if, after the juncture of the Japanese armies, Kouropatkin decided to retire even from Taitchekiao and Haicheng and concentrate his forces about his main position as Laio Yang. This would render possible the Japanese plan, repeatedly predicted in these dispatches, to flank the Rus-

REPORTS THAT JAPS ARE FALLING BACK.

Liao Yang, July 9 .- A column of Russians, after proceeding to a point about seven miles northwest of Fenchui pass on the Liao Yang-Feng Huang Cheng road last night, were worn out with heavy marching and fighting. Japanese hurried up fresh troops and attacked them at dawn with a superior force. The Russians Their losses numbered 300. The Japanese also suffered severely.

Another forward movement of the Russian brigade began during the night of July 6th. The Russians attacked the Japanese position in the darkness. No particulars of the engagement are yet obtainable, but it is believed that a severe fight occurred. The Japanese force of 25,000 which was advancing toward Mukden has now fallen back. BELIEVE SQUADRONS HAVE SAILED AGAIN

St. Petersburg, July 10 .- The Asso ciated Press is informed that there is reason to believe that the Vladivostock and the Port Arthur squadrons have sailed again, as there has been ample time for the former to recoal and prepare for another cruise since its return to Vladivostock on July 5th, and as it is considered unlikely that the Port Arthur squadron would remain at that more than a fortnight for the slight repairs necessary to the battle-ship Sebastopol. It is regarded as significant that the admiralty has not re ceived any report from Rear-Admiral Witsoeft, although the war office has a dispatch from Port Arthur partly dealing with naval matters. The admiralty does not deny that these squadrons have gone out.

The war office is still without information regarding the report of the capture of Kaichau, but general inclination is to the effect that most severe fighting took place there and that it reflected credit upon General Samsonoff's hundred Cossacks, who constituted the General Sakharoff, in a report received by the general staff, gives further de-tails of the advance of the forces and says that on July 7th several minor engagements occurred, but the casualties were not many. It is evident, the report says, that the Japanese are advancing along a wide front, though as yet there has been no serious engagement.

BRITISH WARSHIPS

IN THE FAR EAST.

London, July 9.—It is said in official circles that there is no likelihood of a serious question arising from the failure of the British gunboat Espiegle to reach Newchwang. So long as foreign life and property are protected, the British government is not disposed to station a gunboat at Newchwang. It is stated, however, that Russia is fully advised as to the purpose of Foreign Minister Lansdowne is respect to the protection British interests and subjects.

The presence of a British squadron in waters near the Gulf of Pichili has been the subject of considerable talk in diplomatic circles, and the orders for the squadron to withdraw south is credited to the desire of the British government to show Russia that it has no intention of giving them moral support to the NEWCHWANG PROBABLE Japanese fleet by the presence of a large British force in the vicinity of the scen of the latter's operations.
