THURSDAY, JANUARY 15.

A "20,000 Club" FOR CHATHAM.

Fort William has organized a ~10,000 Club," the object of which is to promote industries, and develop the town to reach a population of 10,000 in the near future, the present number of people being 3,000.

The Planet clips the above from recent issue of the Fort Frances Times, the enterprising daily of the New Ontario district, which, by the way, is edited by Mr. R. P. Laurie, brother of our esteemed young citizen, Mr. Frank D. Laurie, local manage of the Bell Telephone Company.

The idea is an excellent one, is it

How does it strike Chathamites? At the present time conditions are such as to indicate that the Maple City is on the verge of an era of exceptional commercial prosperity. New factories are being instituted and new industries settling with us. And the enterprising citizen is prepared to do years instead of one? all in his power to further the develand enthusiasm? The personnel of the new civic Industrial committee is a most promising one. They are strong, aggressive, hustling young men. Let them combine forces with the enterprise, stability and business weight of the Board of Trade, enlist, moreover, the services of all other patriotic citizens, compared to the services of all other patriotic citizens, for the services of t and organize a "20,000 Club" for

With the splendid natural resources of our locality, its unsurpassed shipping facilities and its excellent and progressive business enterprise, it should not be a Hurculean task to attain a population of 20,000 and over. The project is one well worth test-

We have all heard a lot lately about "empire building." It's all right; God speed to it! But what's the matter with our good people now going in for some Chatham building? Let us have a "20,000 Club" for

TO HIM THAT HATH.

It is always gratifying to hear that old friends of the family are doing well, says the Detroit Journal, and it may be that not a few persons have been wondering how the Standard Oil Company, that benevolent uncle of nearly all of us, was pulling through the hard winter. It is good news that it is not likely to be on the town for some months yet. The several advances in oil have amounted to an increase in its profits of nearly $80,000,000 annually or over $200,000 every day. The first effect of this is to tax a number of people who have been trying to support the coal trust as well as they could without selling the parlor fur-

The second effect is to increase in three months the value of the Standard Oil Company's stock by $95 on every share of a nominal value of $100, or a total to date of nearly $200,000,000. To him that hath shall be given, and if it does not naturally come your way then create a monopoly; the consumer will do the rest.

Dear Reader,-How does a "20,000 club" for Chatham strike you? Let us have your opinion on it.

We are ready to receive applica-"20,000 club" of Chatham. Don't all speak at once.

Will some thoughtful and worthy citizen please rise and tell us whether there is any hope of having a big Old Boys' Rennion here this summer ?

Very sincerely does this great home journal extend the sympathy of the entire community to Ald. George G. Taylor in his bereavement by the death of his mother.

The following well-worn but pertinent couplet is respectfully submitted to the members of the City Council:

"A postponed task more toil begets
And borrowed money pays no debts."

In selecting citizens to fill the vacancies on the Collegiate Institute and Public Library Boards the City Council should make every effort to select men with talent and aptitude for the work the appointments entail. It is not always the best policy to appoint the man who is most eager in canvassing for the position.

In Toronto, Hamilton and London the inaugural meetings of the new councils were opened by prayer from city pastors. Which was well, for none need prayer more than the representatives of these benighted burgs. In Chatham the members of the Council are evidently competent to conduct their own devotional exercises-and doubtless did so.

Even a fancy price may be stated in

One of the essentials to success is right start. The aldermen will show their interest in the city's welfare by calling for a full investigation of the city's present rating at their adjourned meeting to-night.

To-night the new City Council will naugurate a businesslike regime in a businesslike manner. They will appoint an expert auditor to go fully over the books and finances of the city and report to the taxpayers just where they stand.

A very enjoyable evening was spent.

On Friday evening the newly elected officers of the R. T. of T. were installed in their offices for the coming year. The officers are: James Charlton, Select Councillor; Lizzie Estabrook, Vice Consul; John Mabbett, Chaplain; H. Estabrook, Secretary; T. Chester, Treasurer; V. Chester, Financial Secretary; Ridley Chester, Herald; Winfield Foxton, Guard; and W. May, Sentinel.

He presented a bare outline of the romantic aistory of the Hudson's Bay Co., and paid a tribute to the enterprise and genius of Lord Strathcona as the magician who had opened and transformed the vast solitudes, and convinced the Americans of the northwestern States, now swarming across the frontier, that the new lands were as good as their own.

The physical conditions, resources and climate were described in detail, and the evidence of the astonishing increase in population, and in the grain-growing area, was received with satisfaction by the audience. Mr. Hickman, after recounting his personal experiences in the Saskatchewan country, where United States bankers, he said, were buying land in great tracts, a single company having taken one million acres, expressed the belief that the invasion from the United States did not involve the slightest danger to British interests. He look ed upon the investment of millions of American money in Canada as forging one more chain in the informal alliance already existing in the Anglo-American confederation. We wamarbed that six billion po of British money might be invested in the United States, and Yerkes might un-dermine the whole of London, but there would never be another such practical bond between Great Britain and the United States as was found in the great trek into Canada from the northwestern States of the Union. Lord Stratheona, who occupied the chair, said experience had shown that Americans who settle anada became excellent British sub-
