The Church Missionary Society reports a remarkable advance in the South Indian Missions in the last two decades. In the twenty years—1886-1906, the baptized have increased by 46,699, or 65 per cent. In the same period the communicants have increased by 77½ per cent. (or by 15,257);

the contributions of Indian Christians for religious purposes by 120 per cent.—the figures rising from Rs. 43,026 to 94,649 (or £6,300); while the growth in area, i.e., stations and out-stations, is 35 per cent., and in staff of Indian workers 45½ per cent. The English clergy in the same time have shown a very slight increase, if any.

The spire of the historic church, Christ Church, Philadelphia, was struck by lightning and totally destroyed lately, entailing a loss of about $10,000. This spire, which Benjamin Franklin was instrumental in erecting, was built in 1752. The church was founded and the first edifice erected in 1695, and the present building was begun in 1727. The American Church was organized, its constitution framed and the American Prayer Book was adopted within the walls of this church in 1785. The Right Rev. W. White, D.D., the first Bishop of Pennsylvania, is interred in the chancel. Amongst the worshippers which have gathered within its walls have been Washington, Adams, Franklin, and a host of others. People, irrespective of creed and nationality, hold this church in great reverence, and thousands assembled during the fire, notwithstanding the severe storm which was raging.
