Do You Get The Guide On Time

THE Grain Growers' Guide should be in the hands of every subscriber between Fort William and the Rockies by not later than Saturday's mail each week.

Should your paper not reach you within this time hereafter kindly advise us at once so that means may be taken to insure your getting the paper on time. The large increase in our circulation since the First of January has necessitated the adding of additional facilities in our plant for getting the paper out quickly, but even these have been outgrown by the increased number of subscribers, and it is now found necessary to publish the paper in time to catch earlier mails than previously. This step should allow all papers to reach their destination in the West by Saturday, except perhaps in the case of very out of the way places.

Next thing in importance to having all questions affecting the Western farmer properly covered in the columns of The Guide, is to get the paper into the hands of our readers in good time and with regularity. You could help us materially in accomplishing this end by advising us should the service not be satisfactory.
