Carried Every Ward in the City—His Majority 103.

IT WAS A LANDSLIDE

His Aldermanic Supporters Elected Without Exception.

THE UNION VOTE SPLIT

The Wallace Committee Conceded the Election of its Opponent Early in the Afternoon—A Torchlight Procession and Short Addresses by the Victorious Candidates in the Evening—Betting at Long Odds Against Wallace—The Results of the First Municipal Election.

(From Friday's Daily.) THE WINNERS—For Mayor, A. S. Goodeve, majority, 103. For Councilmen, First Ward—O. O. Lalonde and John Hooson. Second Ward—Ross Thomson and J. F. McCrae. Third Ward—Albert Barrett and John Edgren.

It was a landslide. Even the most optimistic friends of A. S. Goodeve had not hoped that he would be elected mayor yesterday by such a phenomenal majority as the official count showed. As if to make his victory perfect, every aldermanic candidate favored by Mr. Goodeve was elected by a magnificent majority. If you were on Mr. Goodeve's side you were on the right side yesterday.

Prior to election day the general opinion was that the race would be a close one in the majority contest. The fact that Mr. Wallace had received the support of the labor unions was a new factor in local politics, as the unions had never before declared themselves in municipal affairs. Mr. Wallace's supporters declared that the union men were almost solid for their candidate. If such proved to be the case, the election would be a hot one. Mr. Goodeve on the other hand had the undivided support of nearly all the business and professional men in the city. As events have since proved, he also had the support of many of the union men as well. The union men decided that there was no real issue between the two candidates, and on the question of personal fitness many of them voted for Mr. Goodeve. The result cannot be considered a defeat to the unions, as they were really not united in their fight.

Prior to the election the result had been in doubt and the opinion had been general that the majority would not be 40 either way. Yesterday morning when the polls opened the Wallace supporters were astonished at the evident number of Goodeve votes that were being polled. They set to work with a will getting every available adherent to the polls, and sleighs were dispatched to every mine in the neighborhood for the purpose of securing the miners' votes. Nevertheless the Goodeve supporters continued to pile up their votes, and early in the afternoon Mr. Wallace's committeemen conceded the defeat of their man.

The polls closed at 4 o'clock, and the result of the balloting for mayor was known at 4:25 o'clock. The result was greeted with tremendous applause all over the city, and an informal reception was at once tendered Mr. Goodeve in his committee rooms, when speeches were made by Mr. Goodeve, E. Dalby Morckill, John Hooson and O. O. Lalonde. By 5 o'clock the result of the vote for aldermen was completed, and it showed that every single candidate favored by Mr. Goodeve had been elected.

The Election Returns.

The election figures were as follows: WARD ONE.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate and Votes. For Mayor: Arthur S. Goodeve (116), Howard Sylvester Wallace (49). For Aldermen: O. O. Lalonde (133), John Hooson (127), John McCrae (120), Horace J. Raymond (39). Spoiled ballots: 6. Aldermen elected—O. O. Lalonde and John Hooson.

WARD THREE.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate and Votes. For Mayor: Arthur S. Goodeve (63), Howard S. Wallace (36). Spoiled ballots: 3. For Aldermen: Albert Barrett (105), John Edgren (90), Eli Lavalley (47), J. J. McKinnon (4). Spoiled ballots: 4. Aldermen elected—Albert Barrett and John Edgren.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate and Votes. For Mayor: Arthur S. Goodeve (473), Howard S. Wallace (44). Spoiled ballots: 4. For Aldermen: Albert Barrett (105), John Edgren (90), Eli Lavalley (47), J. J. McKinnon (4). Spoiled ballots: 4. Aldermen elected—Albert Barrett and John Edgren.

The vote at the first city election ever held in Rossland, which took place on April 7, 1897, resulted as follows: For Mayor—Robert Scott, 586; O. O. Lalonde, 471; majority for Scott, 115. For Aldermen—G. A. Fraser, 895; Hector McPherson, 854; J. B. Johnson, 648; H. J. Rayner, 592; W. A. Campbell, 491; H. S. Wallace, 393; W. H. Bell, 383; T. W. Stack, 369; W. S. Weeks, 354; C. O'Brien Reddin, 22. The six first named were elected. The total vote cast at the first municipal election was 1,067. The difference between the vote then and now is due to the fact that in the first election the qualifications were merely that one must be a British subject resident in the city for three months, and one could register at any time up to the election.

A Torchlight Procession.

At 8 o'clock last evening an informal torchlight procession was formed by the enthusiastic supporters of Mr. Goodeve. It was headed by a brass band, and in it were hundreds of citizens carrying flaming torches. The procession was driven in sleighs and was received with tremendous cheering all along the line of march. After moving down Columbia avenue to Spokane street the procession advanced up Spokane street to First avenue, thence up Washington street to Second avenue, then down Spokane street again to Columbia avenue. At the Windsor hotel the line stopped, and short speeches were made from the Windsor porch by Mr. Goodeve, Alderman Lalonde and E. Dalby Morckill. Subsequently the line of march was resumed to the Montreal house, where more speeches were made, and the procession returned to THE MINER office, where an enthusiastic demonstration was made in recognition of the part that the paper had taken in the campaign. At Jerry Spellman's and Andy Revback's short speeches were also made. Some congratulatory telegrams.

Among the many congratulatory messages received last night by Mr. Goodeve were the following: HALCYON, Jan. 12. A. S. Goodeve, Rossland. The verdict of the electors today augurs well for the good of Rossland. Please accept our heartiest congratulations.

C. E. RACE and J. F. MCCRAE. SPOKANE, Jan. 12. A. S. Goodeve, Rossland. Accept my hearty congratulations. I wish you every success in your office.

T. MAYNE DALY. SPOKANE, Jan. 12. A. S. Goodeve, Rossland. Congratulations. ERNEST KENNEDY. NELSON, Jan. 12. A. S. Goodeve, Rossland. Congratulations, old man. Have something with me.

Scenes and Incidents.

In the Third ward J. T. Vick, who was poll clerk, challenged a Welshman, to his sorrow. The challenge was not allowed, and the man voted. As soon as he had deposited his ballot in the box he turned to the side counter, where a very tempting lunch had been brought for Vick. The Welshman turned and demolished the whole of it deliberately without asking to whom it belonged. Vick was so much astonished that he did not recover his breath until the man was leaving, and then he sang out: "Taffy was a Welchman, Taffy was a thief, Taffy came to my place, And stole all my beef."

Before 5:30 there were by actual count three men, a boy and a hot stove left in the winner's headquarters. Once in a while a small boy would push the door open and yell, "Hurrah for Goodeve," and the dejected men inside hadn't spirit enough to resent it.

Returning officer McQueen will be hard at work today making up the official returns of the election and these will be published tomorrow in THE MINER. They will, however, vary but little if any from those of THE MINER this morning.

C. F. Jackson on Wednesday bet Bert Hunter $40 to $20 that Goodeve would win.

Lorne Becher took several bets on Goodeve, giving the biggest odds that were offered in town. One of these was $60 to $25, another $20 to $5, a third $20 to $5 and two others $20 to $4, making a total of $140 to $48.

The work done by the Goodeve committee was wonderful in its effectiveness. The organization was perfect and every one took the task assigned to him and carried it out to perfection. The guiding spirits in the work were the executive committee of which R. D. Morckill, Jr., was chairman and the general committee, which was officered by T. Mayne Daly (who was prevented by illness from acting as president), C. O. Lalonde, vice-chairman, W. L. Orde, treasurer and James McGaughey, secretary. The chairman of the ward committees were: Ward 1, W. L. Orde; ward 2, F. W. Rolt, and ward 3, R. D. Morckill, Jr. A large portion of the work, of course, devolved on the executive chairman, but the secretary and they were fully equal to the task. Mr. Morckill was, for 20 years, active in politics in Montreal and brought his valuable experience to bear in the campaign with the result already known.

Gone to Fort Steele.

Rev. H. Irwin, M. A., left Thursday for Fort Steele to celebrate holy communion for Rev. H. Procnunier, who is in charge there. Rev. Mr. Procnunier, it will be remembered, was ordained in Rossland last June as deacon by Rev. Rev. L. H. Wells, missionary bishop of Eastern Washington. He remained here till August last, when he assumed charge of the new mission field in East Kootenay. Mr. Procnunier has many friends here who will, doubtless, be glad to learn he has succeeded well. He has a new church and a commodious vicarage. Rev. Mr. Irwin is visiting Fort Steele in an archidiaconal capacity. On Sunday Mr. Fred Burrough will officiate at St. George's church.

NERVES ALL SMASHED.

Indigestion and Dyspepsia Are the Arch Destroyers, But South American Nerve Proves the Never-Failing Health Builder. Mrs. Ellen Butler, 37 Collable street, Toronto, suffered from indigestion in a severe form for several years, was unable to eat meat or vegetables, was threatened with nervous prostration as a result of chronic dyspepsia. After many remedies had been tried and failed, she began using the South American Nerve. When she had taken three bottles, to use her own words, "I can eat anything set before me, and enjoy it without any bad after effects. I think it a wonderful remedy for dyspepsia and nervous prostration." Sold by Goodeve Bros.

Brief Sketches of the City Officials Elected.

WHERE THEY WERE BORN

And Other Particulars in the Several Careers of the Men Who Will Guide the Affairs of Rossland During the Year 1899.

Arthur S. Goodeve, who has just been honored by the election to the chief magistracy of the city of Rossland by such an extraordinary majority, was born in Guelph, Wellington county, Ont., in 1864. He received his education in the public schools and was graduated from the high school when he was 19 years of age. On leaving school he was indentured to the firm of W. S. Smith & Co., druggists, and while learning the business of pharmacist, he took a course in the Ontario college of pharmacy. Thereafter he served the apprenticeship for general proficiency in all branches of pharmacy. The medal is only given to one candidate in each term, and is one that must be worked for by him who secures it.

When he had finished his term he resolved to travel in order to obtain the acquaintance of his business that can only be acquired in that way. Going first to New York, he worked for six months in one of the largest drug stores there. Next in turn he visited Philadelphia, and remained for a year in the employ of John Weyth, who was the largest retail dispensary in the United States.

After a year spent in travel, he returned to Canada and established himself at Chesley, Bruce county, where he remained for a period of two years. In August, 1896, he came to Rossland on an excursion to Toronto to observe the progress of the proposed canal, and was so impressed with the place that shortly thereafter he associated himself with W. H. Goodeve, his brother, in the drug business here, where they have conducted with extraordinary success ever since. Mr. Goodeve is a man of family, as he has a handsome home built on his own on St. Paul street. Last year, when he first entered local political life, he was elected alderman from the first ward by a majority that showed in what esteem he was held by his neighbors.

Mr. Goodeve is a man of business, and at the present time he is a candidate for the mayoralty, and the success that has attended his campaign has been a surprise even to his best friends.

Alderman C. O. Lalonde.

In was only in response to considerable pressure that Alderman Lalonde consented to run for re-election from the First ward. The success which he had made during his first year in the council assured him almost unanimous re-election, but on account of business interests he declined to run. He did, however, run for the city's interests. Mr. Lalonde's record as a representative from the First ward has been a most gratifying one to all classes of citizens and, as his fellow-councilmen say, he personally has done more than any other man to bring about the present fine condition of the city streets.

Charles Octave Lalonde was born in Vuadreau, Quebec. Subsequently he removed to Port Arthur, Ont., where he engaged in the shoe business, and made a considerable commercial success. He was one of the councillors of Port Arthur, and the experience which he gained at that time has since stood him in good stead. Mr. Lalonde came to Rossland in 1895, and has been here ever since in the shoe business. He has prospered, and now has two stores in the city. In 1897 he ran for the mayoralty, at the time of the first election. Unfortunately, perhaps, for the city, he was defeated at that time. His public career since then as alderman shows of what value he could be to the city as mayor in the early history of the place.

Alderman Ross Thomson.

It went without saying that when Ross Thomson consented this year to let his name be used again for re-election as alderman from the Second ward, he would be returned by a rousing majority. It is only because of business interests that Mr. Thomson declined to be a candidate for mayor, it was a source of considerable regret to his friends that he declined to accept the position at the hands of the citizens.

Ross Thomson was born in Bruce county, Ont., not so many years ago. Afterwards his family removed to Portage la Prairie, Man., and he remained there until grown, when he embarked in mining and prospecting in Montana, Washington and Idaho. It was in 1890 that he came to the Trail creek country, and his varied experience in other mining districts convinced him that the struggling little camp here was to be one of the great mining centers of the world. Accordingly he took up as a homestead the plot of ground on which the city now stands. Later he platted it, and the place was named Rossland in his honor. By his liberal treatment of the residents of the place, Rossland grew rapidly and in 1896 the rush set in that has since made the place known all over the world. The rapid rise in the value of his realty, together with his keen business sense, made Ross Thomson a wealthy man, and he has valuable holdings all over the city.

Personally he is one of the most popular men in the Kootenays, and he has a large personal following. Mr. Thomson is happily married, and resides in a beautiful home on the avenue named after him.

Alderman Albert Barrett.

Albert Barrett, in whom the citizens of the Third ward testified their appreciation by re-electing him alderman by a heavy vote, is the manager of the Rossland Warehouse & Transfer company, and in that connection has handled some of the heaviest machinery that has been put in place at the mines of the camp. Mr. Barrett was born in Montreal 35 years ago, and until he was 16 years of age he attended the college at L'Esperance. Afterwards Mr. Barrett was indentured in the butcher business, and followed it for some time. He lived for a while in Winnipeg, and afterwards in 1889, removed to the Nelson district, where he engaged in the meat trade with Wilson & Pordue. Mr. Barrett is in a way one of the prospectors of the Rossland camp for he came here first on a prospecting trip in 1891, when, during a three months' stay, he located such valuable properties as the Iron Colt and the Gopher. For some time after that Mr. Barrett continued in business at Nelson, but in 1894 he returned to Rossland and opened a butcher shop here. After a few months he was induced to connect himself with the Rossland Warehouse & Transfer company, with which he has since remained as active manager. He is a married man, and has a family growing up around him to be the comfort of his declining years.

Alderman John Hooson.

The result of the election yesterday was a pleasing proof of the esteem in which John Hooson, provincial constable and polltax collector, is held by his neighbors in the First ward. It was Mr. Hooson's first advent into politics, and his campaigning consisted merely in making one short speech on Tuesday night at the Wallace meeting. Nevertheless Mr. Hooson, with 127 votes to his credit, stands in the front rank of the successful candidates. He was born 30 years ago in Halifax, England, and his first business connection was in a clerical capacity in a mercantile house. Eleven years ago he removed to the British Columbia coast, where for a while he engaged in farming and in quarrying. Three years ago Mr. Hooson joined the provincial police force, and in June of 1895, he came to Rossland in his official capacity. Since then he has been continuously in the district and he had been one of the most popular officers in the country.

Alderman John Ferguson McCrae.

John Ferguson McCrae, the newly elected alderman from the Second ward, has perhaps as wide a circle of acquaintances and friends as any man in the city. He has been a resident of Rossland since 1896, and since then he has been busy in every movement of the city to advance the welfare of the city. Mr. McCrae has interested thousands upon thousands of dollars of eastern capital in Rossland, and has promoted many successful enterprises. Mr. McCrae was elected with the largest vote recorded in an ward for any candidate in the city. He is particularly gratifying to Mr. McCrae, as he is now recuperating at Halcyon Hot Springs, and owing to illness he was unable to be here at any time during the campaign. He need not, however, have made any effort to secure the election, as he is tested by a majority of the polls yesterday. The mere fact that Mr. McCrae consented to let his name be used assured his election by a liberal majority.

Mr. McCrae is an Ontario, although of Scotch descent, and he has been prominently identified with all other Scotch organizations.

Alderman John Edgren.

Alderman John Edgren, who has just been honored with re-election from the Third ward by a substantial majority, is one of the old residents of the camp when Rossland was an exceedingly small place, and has been here continuously ever since. He is a native of Wernland, Sweden, famous for its silver and copper mines. He did not, however, emigrate to America, which he did when 20 years old. After spending some time at his trade, masonry, in the western states, Mr. Edgren removed to Colville, Wash., where he had charge of the Old Dominion construction Co. Mr. Edgren was married about two years ago, and with his family lives near Earl street in a comfortable home of his own.

DEATH OF C. VAN NESS.

He Was One of the Pioneers of this Section.

Charles Van Ness, one of the owners of the War Eagle hotel, died at 7:30 o'clock Thursday of pneumonia in Grand Forks. Mr. Van Ness had been ill for about 10 days, and had been steadily growing worse. The end had been expected. With his partner in the War Eagle, James Walker, he left Rossland for Grand Forks on a business trip about a month ago. Both were suffering with severe colds, but at that time Mr. Van Ness was the worse of the two, and was attended by Mr. Van Ness, who was then able to be around. Subsequently, after Mr. Walker's recovery, Mr. Van Ness himself was taken much worse, and for the past 10 days had been confined to his bed. The end came last night at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Walker, his partner, leaves today with C. B. Lockhart of Lockhart & Jordan, undertakers, to bring back the remains. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

FAIRVIEW IS LIVELY.

Several Properties Are Being Vigorously Operated There. Dickinson & Orde of this city, recently wrote to a correspondent at Fairview for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of the Fairview and other properties. The reply which has been received shows that there is considerable activity in the mines and mining properties there. Among other things he says: Work is being pushed on the Stenwinder with vigor. The directors have plenty of money at their disposal for that purpose. The Smuggler is to be further developed. The Fairview is making good progress. The Fairview Gold Mining company expects to yield the crushing of ore shortly. The correspondent could not give the result of the first clean-up of the Smuggler company as the reports vary and no official statement has yet been made. The managing director of the company, however, says the result was much better than he expected and this would indicate that the ore is not of low grade.

The members of the Rossland club are planning a minstrel show to be given soon. David W. Morgan, who is just back from Spokane, says that there will be a big delegation from Spokane in attendance at the Rossland winter carnival. Mr. Morgan estimates the crowd from that town at from 200 to 300 people. Joseph J. Taylor, who was in Haquiltlenag, Mexico, recently on mining business, is back again, and is stopping at the Allan.
