BRANDY SAUCE FOR THE DUKE AT HAMILTON

That is if the Luncheon to be Tendered Him Were Not Informal.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] HAMILTON, Ont. May 13-It may be that the Duke of Connaught has not forgotten the controversy that raged when he was last here as to whether maraschino punch and brandy sauce should be served at the dinner rendered him, but in any event there will be no chance of a repetition of the incident when His Royal Highness comes here this afternoon. The Duke is going to have a purely informal luncheon. On the occasion of his last visit the temperance aldermen controlled the council and barred the punch and brandy sauce. This year the temperance aldermen are not in control and it is hard to tell what would have happened had a public dinner been held.

After a morning of drizzling rain which threatened to seriously interfere with the plans of the civic welcome the weather cleared slightly at noon, although the sky was still threatening, The vice regal party spent the night on their private cars a Winona, and this morning the Duke made a private inspection of some of the fine farms in the Niagara fruit belt. He is due to arrive at the T. H. and B. station at 2.30 khere he will be welcomed by Mayor Allan and the council members.

Following the inspection of the guards of honor furnished by the Thirteenth and Ninety-irst, the Duke and his party will proceed down James street, which will be lined with thousands of school children, boy mental bands furnishing the music.

At the city hall a reception will be held in the Council chamber, where visit the east end manufacturing district, and turn the first sod on he site where the new million dollar Connaught hotel is to be constructed. After lunch at the Royal Hotel the party will be driven through Dundurn Park and along the Mountain brow.

The party leaves about 6.30 p.m.
