Strongly insisted upon.

Mr. E. Webster, 519 Seigneurs Street, Montreal, says: "One day as I was lifting a pan of water off the stove, my son Eddie ran toward me and knocked the pan upwards. The water ran over his neck and scalded him very badly. It is a very awk ward place on which to keep a plaster and several things which we tried failed to give him relief. We then applied Zam. Buk (which we had used some time before tor a bad gathering on my little daughter's head) and this acted like a charm. It drew away the pain and healed the scald. We have proved Zam. Buk an invaluable remedy."

POLITICAL NOTES.

entrusted with the formation of a government after the elections he will appoint an independent audit to go through the provincial accounts. The question naturally arises, why not accept the offer of the premier to submit the accounts to one or more financial experts at once and not wait to see what the results of the elections may be. As far as we can see Mr. Robinson has adopted a manly, straightforward course; and if Mr. Hazen and the other members of the Opposition believe their charges are founded in fact, they will at once accept the premier's effer. If the contention of the Opposition is found to be correct, which we do not fer one moment believe to be the case, Mr. Hazen would be the next premier. But if Mr. Robinson's statements are found to be correct, the Opposition would be even more discredited than it is now. If the offer is not acceptant, the public will draw but one conclusion, viz., that it is all "buncombe"—a ruse merely to gain the treasury benches.

A great many people are wondering why Mr. Hazen is afraid of an exam-ination of the Provincial accounts by experts, BEFORE the elections. Why does he want the examination post-porfed until the elections are over? Is it because he has no faith in his charges, and that he will be proved in the wrong? It is of very little use making charges againt the goernment unless there is material to substantiate unless there is material to substantiate the charges. It is one thing to make a charge; and it is quite another thing to produce evidence supporting the charge. By all means, if Mr. Hazen or any of his followers can produce the evidence, let us have it.

istration, it had risen to $5,983,342, an increase of $2,961,687. For thirty years there had been nothing but deficits in the post office department. From 1879 to 1896, i, e. during the eighteen years of Conservative rule, there had never been a deficit of less than $423,000, and it had even been as large at $911,031. The deficits under the Conservative government during the eighteen years they held office amounted to $13,000,000.

THE RESERVE OF THE PERSON OF T

The Local Government has been charged repeatedly with mismanaging the affairs of the provance and with cooking the accounts to cover up their crookedness. These are serious allegations, especially the latter, and no member of the Legislature should make a charge of so serious a nature unless he has good grounds for the charge and is prepared to support his charges by unimpeachable evidence.

Mr. Robinson, the premier, has denied the charges in the most emphatic way. Mr. Hazen says if he is entrusted with the formation of a government after the elections he will appoint an independent audit to go

Mr. Hazen feels he's in desperate straits and so is appealing to Liberals to come to his aid. It is most pathetic. He feels like a drowning man. One of Northumberland's representatives has appealed as a Liberal to Liberals to come to fir. Hazen's aid. But why should Liberals vote to place a Tory in charge of the government of the province? What has Mr. Hazen ever done for the Liberal party or in promoting Liberal principles? Nothing. Then why appeal to a party he has always opposed to place him in power? What does he take the Liberals to be? The trick is too thin. It may catch a What does he take the Liberals to be? The trick is too thin. It may catch a few, but not many. Every member of the local government is a Liberal in Dominion politics, and for Liberals to vote against that patry in favor of Mr. Hazen and his party is only placing a weapon in the hands of the Opposition which they will use against the Ottawa government at the next election. Liberals should not be hypnotized by Mr. Hazen and his backers.

In no department of the government has the policy of the Liberals been more triumphantly exemplified than in the post office department, In 1896, the last year of the Conservative government, the post office revenue amounted to $2,971,653. In 1906, after ten years of Liberal administration, it had risen to $5,933,342, an increase of $2,961,687. For thirty

To state the case succinctly, it shows thus:— A change of government took place in 1896. The deficit in 1897 was reduced to $558,540; in 1898 ment took piace in 1896. The deficit in 1897 was reduced to $586,540; in 1898 it was down to $47,602; in 1899 it was $398,918, the increase in that year being accounted for by the Yukon service and the reduction of the charge on letters from three cents to two cents. In 1900 it was $461,662; in 1901, $416,184; and in 1902 the deficit was a thing of the past. A surplus in the P. O. department was announced the first in 33 years. There was $5,100 to the good. From such small beginning it has steadily grown, as will be seen by the following figures;—

1905, "490,845.
1906, "1,011,765.
We may search in vain for a like showing during the eighteen years in which the Conservatives held office and reigned supreme at Ottawa.
