Poultry Show Now On Is the Best Yet Held.

Judging Will All be Finished by This Evening.

Owing to the large number of entries at the annual exhibition of the Hamilton and Wentworth Poultry Association, the judges found it impossible to finish the judging yesterday, and although they commenced at 9 o'clock this morning it will likely be late this evening before it is completed. The quality and quantity of all the classes shown are far in advance of previous years, and the judges expressed themselves to be thoroughly pleased with all the exhibits. A good number attended the exhibition yesterday, and a much larger crowd is expected this afternoon and evening. The officers are satisfied that the exhibition this year will be the best yet in the history of the association, and are also assured that it will be a great financial success.

During the evening the members of the association gathered together in the museum room in the Public Library building, where they listened to a short but instructive illustrated lecture on "Practical Poultry Breeding," delivered by Prof. R. W. Graham, of the Guelph Agricultural College.

The result of the judges' work yesterday is as follows:

A LITTLE COLD.

He caught a little cold—
That was all.
So the neighbors sadly said
As they gathered round his bed
When they learned that he was Dead:
He caught a little cold—
That was all.
—Puck.

You can break up a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable with a mixture of two ounces of Glycerine, a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine and eight ounces of pure Whisky. Take a teaspoonful every four hours. For throat and bronchial trouble and to soothe and heal irritations of the mucous surface this formula is highly recommended by the Leach Chemical Co., of Windsor, Ont., who prepare the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine for dispensing through druggists.

WENT IN STATE.

Crowd of 100,000 Cheer Protestant
Leader to Jail.

Liverpool, Nov. 10.—Fully 100,000 people took part in a demonstration at Liverpool which attended the return of Mr. George Wise, the Protestant leader, to Walton Jail.

As a sequel to the recent religious riots Mr. Wise was ordered to give surety not to hold his Bible-class parades. He refused and went to jail, but was released pending an appeal. His appeal was dismissed and he therefore returns to prison.

Between 1,500 and 2,000 police were on duty, including 320 from Manchester. Huge crowds gathered in St. George's square, through which Mr. Wise was to pass, the various Protestant contingents marching into the large open space in Orange Order regalia. When Mr. Wise arrived in an open carriage, escorted by a strong bodyguard, there was a roar of cheering which lasted for a quarter of an hour.

It was the precincts of the jail, however, that the most stirring scenes were witnessed. In Hornby-road, leading to the prison, there was a quarter of a mile of struggling humanity. Mr. Wise's party and the contingents following in procession had practically to fight their way through the surging crowd. The din was tremendous. Bands played triumphantly, whistles and women shouted and sang themselves hoarse.

It looked as though nothing could prevent the rushing of the prison gates. The dense multitude swayed irresistibly towards them, but a force of police came out of the prison and formed a barrier while Mr. Wise spoke to the crowd.

He counselled them to be law-abiding citizens, stating that any manifestation of hostility towards the police would do him more harm than good. Mr. Wise then surrendered himself to the prison officials and disappeared through the gates of the jail.

FOUND DEAD.

Niagara Falls Labor Man Overcome
by Gas.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—With a letter to his wife telling of the good time he expected to have during his visit to Toronto as a delegate to the Labor convention lying on a table nearby, the body of Ernest E. Russ, a delegate from the Typographical Union of Third street, Niagara Falls, N. Y., was found in a room at his boarding house at 22 Shuter street last evening. He had been dead for many hours, and the gas-filled room, with a jet half turned on, told those who found him the cause of his tragic death.

Russ came to Toronto on Monday morning and took a room at 22 Shuter street. He went out that evening and came back about 11 o'clock. Yesterday morning the proprietor in whose house he was boarding called him, but, receiving no answer, came to the conclusion that Russ was still sleeping, and so did not make any further attempt to rouse him. Later in the afternoon it was noticed that his door was still locked, but the innkeeper of the house did not attach any significance to that fact, thinking that Russ had gone out and taken the key away with him.

About 7 o'clock they became nervous, however, and called in Dr. Edgar C. Dixon, whose office is just around the corner. Dr. Dixon and others went up, and, failing to get any response to their knocks, smashed in the door. Russ' body was found stretched out on the bed. The room was full of gas and the jet was half on. Dr. Dixon examined the body and found that the unfortunate man had been dead for six or seven hours.

President Gompers was notified of the tragedy late last night, and arrangements will be made to send the body back to Niagara Falls. Russ was about twenty-five years of age, and leaves a widow and two children.

OUR FACES.

Punch on J. A. Macdonald's Impressions of England.

London, Nov. 9.—This week's Punch has a witty article regarding Mr. J. A. Macdonald's impressions of England. It is entitled "In Defence of Our Faces," and comprises letters of protest from the different cities singled out by Mr. Macdonald. Each is signed Ali-d-d Mac, probably the unidentified individual who earned notoriety in the Bermudez by-election by writing from a fictitious number in an alleged street in Leicester on the horror of free trade.

Smith, in these letters, gives various humorous reasons why, at the precise moment Mr. Macdonald happened to look at him and his wife "Imperially," they presented the hopeless physiognomies, hollow chests and anemic appearances described by the editor of the Globe.

Miss Annie Pelley, a clerk in a local dry goods store, was murdered at Cairo, Ill., on Monday night. Children found her stripped and mutilated body in an alley.

Nikola Rodits will stand trial for manslaughter for having shot Petro Bohones in a fight over a five-cent piece at Gimli, Man.

DINED IN THE KING'S HONOR.

Banquet and Reunion of Acorn
Lodge, S. O. E.

Fine Address by Rev. E. H.
Tippett on Canada.

Some of the Grand Lodge Officers
Were Present.

His Majesty the King's 68th birthday was appropriately celebrated last night by Acorn Lodge, No. 29, of the Sons of England, when they held a reunion banquet in their hall, John street south. About 150 sat down to a sumptuous repast. All that should be provided and after full justice was done to the dainty comestibles, toasts, singing and general jollification prevailed, and lasted till the night was far spent. There were many guests of distinction present among whom were the Mayor and several aldermen. Mr. W. H. Wilkins, president of the lodge, was toast master and chairman and he proposed the following toasts:

"The King," responded to by all singing "God Save the King."

"The Empire," responded to by Rev. E. H. Tippett, who, in an impassioned response spoke in glowing terms of this great Dominion. He also spoke of the accomplishments that British rule had wrought in all parts of the Empire. Then the great territory of Canada was commented on, and he said the vastness of it was not really known yet, and though Uncle Sam laid claim to the discovery of the North Pole, yet the land nearest to it belonged to Canada.

"We stand as the Empire that says 'Innocent till proven guilty,' and the principles of justice that differentiate the British Empire from other lands." He then pointed out that with the remarkable growth of this country there were great responsibilities to be faced and to-day we are setting the national mould of developing the Canadian spirit for future Canada. Finally, the speaker pointed out that righteousness exalteth a nation, and it was up to her people to be true to the trust imposed upon them "Lest we forget; lest we forget."

"Supreme Grand Lodge," was responded to by S. G. P. Bros. Smith and D. D. S. S. P. King.

"The Ladies," responded to by Bro. J. H. Robinson.

"Our Candidates," responded to by all singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

"Sister Lodges," responded to by Bros. C. Raymond and J. W. Buckingham.

Mr. Melville Staunton was the able pianist.

The banquet committee deserves much praise for the very excellent repast. The committee was composed of the following members of Acorn Lodge: H. W. Wilkins, chairman. T. H. Easterby, vice-president. H. Thompson, H. Kempton, A. W. Perry, E. Jarrett, J. Steadford, J. H. Price, C. Kemp and F. Hayward, secretary.

LORD DUNDONALD

Advices British Towns and Counties to Buy Estates in Canada.

London, Nov. 6.—Lord Dundonald, writing to The Morning Post, suggests that each town and populous county in Britain should acquire large estates in Canada and other dominions for relieving the unemployed problem, on condition that, instead of spending money on useless relief works, all men should be emigrated under contract to keep to their agricultural communities for a specified time.

The Post editorially emphasizes that Canada wants men, not loafers, but endorses a duly safeguarded scheme and hopes Dundonald will see what practical steps can be taken immediately.

The Standard also endorses the proposal, remarking it would be a business proposition, and, as Dundonald says, a paying investment in the one hand and a means of employing the workless on the other.

Rumors in the city persistently associate Sir Arthur Godley, who to-day was given a peerage, with the presidency of the Grand Trunk Railway.

"HELLO, KID."

Toronto Men Heavily Fined For Using the Phrase.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Saying "Hello, kid!" to young women on the streets of Toronto will soon rank among the more expensive amusements, if Mr. Kingsford has his way. In the Police Court yesterday afternoon he fined Edward Leadley ten dollars and costs for using the offensive phrase to three young women on Keble street. Henry Rennie, who was with Leadley at the time, and who figured in the disorderly conduct which followed the girls' complaint, was fined $5 and costs.

The three young women all said that Leadley accosted them with the words, "Hello, kid!" so they complained to an officer.

The defendant protested against the fine, saying that one of the girls had used improper language to him. "I am sorry to say I do not believe your evidence. I do believe the evidence of the girls," said his Worshipship.

LABEL CHARGE.

Montreal, Que., Nov. 9.—Dan McDougall, President of the local organization of United Mine Workers, at Glace Bay, N. S., organized the miners' strike against the Dominion Coal Co., was committed for trial in court of Kings Bench to-day, on the charge of uttering a libel against the Coal Company.

TRADE DISPUTES.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 9.—There were nine trade disputes in Canada during September as against 17 last year. 30 firms and 4,474 employees were affected. 316 individuals were injured in industrial accidents during the month, 91 fatally.

NINE DEAD.

Loss of Life at Colliery at Manticoke.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 10.—The loss of life in the fire following the explosion yesterday afternoon in the Auchincloss colliery of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railway Co. at Manticoke, reached nine to-day. When the ninth body was brought to the surface this morning it was believed that all the men in the underground working when the explosion occurred had been accounted for. With one exception, all the dead miners are Slavs.

It was at first thought that only four men were caught behind the fire, but when the flames were brought partly under control seven bodies were found.

This caused the superintendent to increase the force of rescuers, who last night searched all parts of the mine.

The fire is still burning to-day, but is under control. It is not yet known what the financial loss will be.

GOLD MINE FIRE.

Perth, West Australia, Nov. 10.—Fire has broken out at the Great Boulder gold mine, and to-day the surface of the workings were at blaze. The damage already is estimated at $1,500,000.

"Why did you accept George?" "He was so much more original than the other fellows." "In what way?" "He was the one that asked me to be his wife." —Puck.
