CRADLE AND COFFIN. Two receptacles awaiting Moet the needs of human kind ; Each with its appropriate freighting, Each with garlands intertwined ; Cradle, where the child reposes— Coffin, which the dead encloses.

Cradle, placed in marriage chamber, Swaying, swaying to and fro ; Up its sides the children clamber, Toiling in a rosy glow : Whispering angels oft descending, Sweetest dreams the child are lending.

Coffin, midway placed, and dreary, Cold, funeral drar.ed, and still ; And its tenant resting wearv. With the death-damp stealing chill : Shrinking shapes, grief-struck and weeping, Round the couch are vigils keeping.

Cradle-coffin-intervening O, the long and aching years ! Soul, slow learning time's dark meaning, Eyes out-looking through their tears: Kindly, seems the death-cold stillness, Genial, scems the rest and chillnes

All the nooks where self lies hidden All the noots where sell lies hidder Memory searches to the core; Till dark spectres come unbidden Through the lattice and the door Come, upbraiding our omissions--Self-convicting our commissions.

Loving deeply, fondly, traly, We infinitudo demand; Yielding up spontaneous, duly, Free-will offerings, heart and hand; Thence this anguish is but telling Of the depth whence love was welling.

LIABILITY OF NEWSPAPER SUBSCRIBERS.

LIABILITY OF NEWSPAPER SUBSCRIBERS. We invite the attention of Sabacribers to the following extract from a late London Paper, by which it will be seen that the prin-ciple has been finally settled by the Coarts of Law in reference to the legal responsibilities of subscribers to Newspapers. "1: Subscribers who do not give express moties to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions. "2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their Periodicals, the Publisher may seen them, until all arrears are paid, and Sub-scribers are responsible for all the numbers sent. "3. If Subscribers medlett or refuse to take their Periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled their Bills and ordered their Periodicals form in the office, is not such notice of discontinuants, as the Law requires. "If subscribers remova to other places without informing the Publisher, and their periodical is sent to the former direction, they are held responsibile. "5. The Coarts have decided, that refusing to take a Newspaper or Periodical from the office, or removing and leaving it uncalled for until all arrears use unit in string corriging to take a Newspaper of periodical from the office, or removing and leaving it uncalled or Periodical from the office, or removing and leaving it uncalled for, until all arrears are paid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud. The above law has also been acted upon in the United States: the following from the  $\mathcal{N}c\sigma$  York Tribune, clearly shews "The liability of Subscribers to Newspapers and Periodicals," is not in many cases, duly and correctly considered. A case has recently been decided, which we think will awaken attention on the subject. been decided, which we think will awaken attention on the subject of the deputition of the subject of third deputition of the subject of the without forwarding the money for payment. The radianter took no notice of this, nor several subsequent notices of refusal to take the papers from the Post Office. The result was that, notwithstanding the Rhoie Islander did not receive the papers for several years, yet he was forced to pay Mr. Harding the whole amount up to the period claimed in the Bill."

To Professor HoLLowar, Sin,—At the age of 18 my wife (who is now 61) caught a violent cold, which settled in the legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less note, and greatly inflamed. Her agonize were distracting, and for months together she was deprived patiently of rest and skeep. Every remedy that medical men advised was trevel, but a thoust effert; her health suffered severely, and the state of her legs was terville. I had diften read, our Advertisements, and advised her to try your Fills and Ontment; and, as a has resource, after every other remedy had proved useless, the consented to do so. She commanered six weeks ago, and, strange to relate, is now in good health. Her legs are panhes, without even the sufferings of my wife during the last 43 years, and contrast them with her prosent enjoyusers of health, you would indeed field elighted in having been the means of so greatly aleviating the sufferings of a fellow creature.
