penies of a Summer in Germany.") (From "Soupenirs of a Summer in Germany.")

[A few nights since I heard a man's voice under the window singing a few simple notes. An hour five away, and the song rose once more under the window. The singer proved to be the watchman of the little town, and his Nacht-lied, or night-song, as it is beautifully called—a sort of hymn, each verse adapted to the hour at which it is sung. There is something dollating in this idea; it is beautifully characterisals of the spirit of antered religion which seems to pervade Germany, and the custom is primitive and posticula to the prevade Germany, and the custom is primitive and posticula to the greatest degree.—What can be more touching than to hear the quardian of the silent village, as he walks his nightly rounds, this drawing a simple moral from the fleeting hours; and invoking for the sleeping lababitants the protection of that God, who neither dumbers nor cleeps. The following is a translation.]

Hark, while I sing! our village clock

The hour of eight, good sir, has struck,

Eight souls alone from death were kept,

When God the earth with deluge swept—

Unless the Lord to gard us deign,

MICHIGAN.

Among the acts adopted by the late Legislature, was one abolishing all laws for the collection of debt. Michigan has now in force the most of national reform measures. No land limitation law has yet been exacted, although the homested has long been exempted. A number of mercantile firms and declers in Kalamazoo, since the abolition of the law relating to debt, have announced their intention of publishing the names of all delinquents, "being well convinced," as they say, "that no man of good intention and honorable principles will allow himself to be thus posted before his neighbours and fellow-citizens." The honour of the man is hereafter to be the foundation of all ordinary transactions. A bold Legislature is that of Michigan.—They have before abolished capital punishment, and now have abolished all obligation to pay debts. But one act more remains to complete their works, and that is, to abolish all laws for the punishment of crime. Then they will have rendered all further legislation needless, and may vote a perpetual dissolution of its own body. And yet we are not prepared to say that good will not come of the experiment. It may be well to see how that principle will work in actual experience. In some respects it will bring an advantage. It will essentially destray the credit system. It will save the expence of collecting debts—and, possibly the risks trull save the expence of collecting debts—and, possibly the risks of loss in the transaction of business will be less than under the prevailing system. It will supersede all bankrupt have. And bankrupts who cannot be released from the creditors in other States, will be tempted to seek a home in Michigan. But there are some kinds of business, such as banking and others, that cannot be pursued where no legal enforcement claims can be made. And how the courts can aljudicate on any, questions that involve property, and enforce their judgment under such a system, we do not see.—

Econosity of Stease Powen.—In Mr. M'Nicoll's timber-yard and saw mill at Liverpool, steam-power has been applied to work the travelling-cranes used to convey the timber about the yard. Each crane, when worked by hand, required four men, whereas the steam crane is worked by a man and a boy only, and does double the work, the wages being about three hundred and thirty pounds per annum in one, and sixty-saven in other. The steam machine will carry thirteen legs of timber, weighing together insteem and a half tons, one at a time from one end of the yard to the other, a distance of one hundred feet in twenty-six minutes, at a cost of less than sixpease.

LUNGWORT, and no remedy has ever before been discovered that will certainly Cure Consumption.

The most strongly marked and developed cases of Pulmonary Consumption, where the lungs have become diseased and ulcerated and the case so utterly hopeless, as to have been pronounced by Physicians and friends, to be past all possibility of recovery, and at times thought to be dying, have been cured by this wounderful remedy, and are now as well and hearty as ever. It is a compound of medications which are peculiarly adapted to and essentially necessary for the cure of COUGHS AND CONSUMPTION.

Its operation is mild, yet efficacious; it loosens the phlegm which creates so much difficulty, relieves the cough and assists nature to expel from the system all diseased matter by expectoration, producing a delightful change in the breathing and chest, and this, after the prescriptions of the very best medical men and the inventions of kind and sorrowing friends and Nurses, have failed to give the smallest relief to the Consumptive sufferer.

The changes of weather and season, with the change of use and feed, have a very great effect upon the blood and sinuous fluids of horses. It is at these changes they require an assistant to nature to throw off any disorder of the fluids of the body that may have been imbibed, and which, if not attended to, will result in the Yellow water, Heaves, Worms, Botts, &c. All of which will be prevented by giving one of these powders, and will at any sime, cure when any symptoms of disease appear, if used in time. They purify the blood, remove all inflammation and fover, lossen the skin, cleanse the water, and invigorate the whole body, enabling them to do more work with the same feed. The action of these powders is direct upon all the secretive glands, and therefore has the same effect upon the Horse, the Ox, the Ass, and all Herbivorous animals—all diseases arising from or producing a bad state of the blood, are speedily cured by them.

PROFESSOR A. G. BARRY'S TRICOPHEROUS or MEDICATED SYRUP—Truth loves an incredulous audience, for if they listen, they are sure to become converts. If there is any man or woman who challenges the statement that Barry's Tricopherous is a specific for cutaneous diseases and injuries, and the best preparation for the hair extant, all that is saked is that he or she will try one twenty-five cent bottle of the fluid, and read the pampiblet in which it is enclosed. Read and make the trial. Truth will then force conviction upon the miod, that all, and more than all, that has been claimed for the pre-paration by the inventor, is as palpable a fact as the existence of the sun, or challess of day and night. Referring the reader to the thing itself, and the accompanying treatises for a solution of all his doubts, if he catertains any, we will here briefly state what the Tricopherous will do. It will remove seurf and dandruff; it will restore, preserve and beautify the hair; it will prevent it from becoming harsh or gray; it will dispose the hair to curl and render it glossy: it will relieve inflammation, itching and all irritation of the skin; it will relieve inflammation, itching and all irritation of the skin; it will relieve inflammation, itching and all irritation of the skin; it will relieve inflammation, itching and all irritation of the skin; it will enter bites and stings of insects; it will take away the pain of cuts, burns, bruises and sprains; it will allay the pain of rheumatism and cure headache. For these reasons, it ought never to be absent from the dwelling of any family, and no one should travel without it. To Professor Holloway.

Sin,—I beg to inform you that for nearly 5 years I hardly know what it was to have a day's health, suffering from extreme weakness and debility, with constant nervous headaches, gittiness and sickness of the stomach, together with a great depression of spirits. I used to think that inothing could benefit me, as I had been to many medical mes, some of whom, after doing all that was in their power, informed me that they discordered that I had some spinal complaint beyond the reach of eure, together with a very disordered state of the stomach and liver, making my case so complicated that nothing could be done for me. One day being musually ill and in a dejected state, I saw your Pills netwerised, and resolved to give them a trial, more perhaps from curiosity than with a hope of being cured, however I soon found myself better by taking them—and so I went on persevering in their use for his months, when, I am happy to say they effected a perfect cure.

case is that of Mr. Caron, Tailor, Hutchinson's buildings, Clarence-street, who was so dreadfully had that he was confined entirely to his hed-room or six months, prior to his commencing with your Pills, and attended regularly by his medical man, who pronounced him to be in a dying state,
