LONDON, July 24.
Chancellor Lloyd George has announced in the Commons the intention of the Government to introduce a bill to deal with labour disputes such as the present dock strike. The Chancellor did not define the measure, but indicated it was likely to involve compulsory arbitration and financial guarantees for observing agreements.

WASHINGTON, July 24.
"I do not believe we should give free tolls through the Panama Canal to our shipping either coastwise or international," said Senator Percy of Mississippi, yesterday in the Senate. He added that he did not believe the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain permitted the United States to discriminate against foreign shipping in the interests of American commerce. "The neutrality of the canal," he claimed, "had been guaranteed by the United States in return for Great Britain's surrender of her protest rights against its fortification." He declared that the United States could not claim under the British treaty the right to give favors to its own shippers. If such provision had been made a part of the treaty, it would have been instantly rejected by Great Britain. It has been said we cannot get a fair trial at the Hague Court, but if we were to present to any court our claim that we were entitled to these privileges under the treaty, we could not escape the charge on the part of all nations that we were making a disreputable attempt to evade our just obligation. Senator Cummins asked Percy if he thought the United States should give free tolls to all nations and should pay the expenses of operating the canal. "I'm in favor of tolls," replied Senator Percy, "but I can't see much merit in our giving the canal as an offering to the world, reaping our benefits in commerce and lower freight rates."

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 24.
"The German menace now occupying so much attention is only a myth. Belief in its existence has been encouraged by French Chauvinists or ultra-patriots, with the idea of embroiling Britain and Germany. I think a war between the two countries inconceivable. It is unfortunate that there is an element among the people who misunderstand the aims and aspirations of my countrymen." So spoke Dr. Herman Paasche, Vice-President of the German Canadian Press Association. The distinguished visitor will sail for the Orient to-morrow.

"We want to live in peace with Britain and the rest of the world. Our policy is defence not defiance. It is unfortunate that the policy of the German nation is misunderstood. I feel certain the great majority of the people of the German Empire desire peace, not war. Germany will never be the aggressor. Of course the misunderstanding, so far as Britain is concerned, is due to the increase of the German navy during recent years, but the growth of our navy is simply a national evolution, in harmony with the expansion and development of the German Empire and the strong position our nation occupies as a military people. We feel justified in protecting our seaports, lines of communication with our seaborne commerce, for it must be remembered that we have colonies in many parts of the world. War sometimes comes unheralded, and like other nations we believe in being prepared for invasion. The danger lies with France who is not well disposed toward us and sees a possible advantage in arraying Britain against us. Our main aim is to find markets for our industries, as we need our people at home. This is German expansion, and is not of the character attributed to us."

BERLIN, July 24.
German public opinion is not disturbed over the navy debate in the British Commons. The press generally seems satisfied with Germany's comparative position under the new order of things and praises Churchill's speech as being frank and without usual provocation. It criticises, however, his attempt to throw the responsibility for increased armaments on Germany.

PARIS, July 24.
That the world is not yet on the eve of a cessation of a struggle between Britain and Germany for naval supremacy, is the prevailing opinion in France. After careful study of the recent speech by Churchill, the continuation of the rivalry between the two nations causes a note of regret here; but there is an inclination to believe that it must go on, and France should learn a lesson from England's procedure and herself increase her navy.

LONDON, July 24.
Volleys of stones were exchanged, and many men hurt to-day in a fight between striking dock workers and strikers at the Clyde Ship-building Co.'s dock in Wapping district, London. The strikers, who were parading the streets to the number of thousands, broke ranks as they passed the Clyde docks, and rushing the gates tried to break them down or scale the walls. The police coming to the rescue of the defenders, clubbed the strikers off.

Fifty thousand strikers paraded the streets this afternoon. At a meeting held on Tower Hill, a dramatic incident occurred. Tiltett, the strike leader, after an address denouncing Lord Davenport, the Chairman of the Port of London Authority and a leader among the employers, asked the men to join him in prayer. Tiltett and the immense concourse with bared heads, prayed "Oh, God, strike Lord Davenport dead." In some quarters it is reported that a general strike of transport workers will be declared at an early date.

LONDON, July 24.
Churchill's speech on the supplementary naval appropriations has provoked widespread discussion both at home and abroad, and is held in some places to presage the institution of a naval law on similar lines to the German measure, to provide for systematic growth of the navy over a series of years. It was so interpreted by Lord Selbourne in debate in the Lords last evening. He declared Churchill's words should be written in letters of gold in both Houses of Parliament.

In the same debate, Haldane, Lord High Chancellor, who recently visited Berlin to discuss Anglo-German relations, made a statement to the effect that Germany had been told in the friendliest manner that whatever naval effort she might make, Britain would still make greater. We have said Haldane, added that we would do this with no intention of aggression, but because sea power is our life, and in sea power we intend to remain superior.

OTTAWA, July 24.
Richard Gregg, Commissioner of Commerce, has gone to Newfoundland on behalf of the Department of Trade and Commerce to pay an official visit to the Canadian Trade Agency at St. John's. While in Newfoundland he will look into the commercial conditions, there, taking note of the opportunity, if any, for improved trade between Newfoundland and Canadian ports. This visit follows upon the recent visit to Canada of Sir Ralph Williams, the Governor of the Colony. Both visits may be regarded as marking a revival of interest in each other on the part of Canada and the neighboring Colony.

Commissioner Gregg will confer with Mr. Nicholson, the Canadian trade agent at St. John's, as well as the leading importers and exporters.

It does not appear that there is any further significance to be attached to those visits, or that they indicate an effort to realize the old project of closer political relationship. Newfoundland figures in the proposed trade agreement between Canada and British West Indies, concessions granted in Canadian and West Indian markets being extended to Newfoundland for a period of three years without any reciprocal advantages being obtained in the Newfoundland market. The Commissioner of Commerce will doubtless obtain some information during his visit as to the disposition of Newfoundland to become a contributing partner to the proposed scheme of reciprocity within the Empire.

Wedding Bells.

DUFFY-FLYNN.

At St. Andrew's Altar in the R. C. Cathedral yesterday afternoon a pretty wedding took place when Mr. Andrew Duffy, brother of Mr. M. Duffy, grocer of Cabot Street, was united in Hymen's Bonds to Miss Jennie Flynn, late of Philadelphia, but formerly of Avondale. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Sheehan before a large number of friends of the happy pair. The bride wore a pretty costume of white satin with crystal trimming and white picture hat trimmed with ostrich feathers. The bride was given away by Councillor J. J. Mullaly and was assisted by Miss Thompson who wore a pretty costume of white silk. Mr. John Fitzgerald, of Channing's pharmacy, cousin of the groom, assisted at happy personage. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's mother, 23 Goodview Street when the health of the happy couple was honoured. Speeches being made by the best man and Councillor Mullaly who wished them all success and happiness. Afterwards the bride and groom left by the 6 p.m. train for Holyrood where the honeymoon will be spent. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome gold watch and to the bridesmaid a pearl brooch. Both received many presents including a cheque from Councillor Mullaly, silver and cut glassware, tea sets and a valuable carving set from Mr. and Mrs. Halley, of Pittsburgh, Pa., U. S. A. The Telegram extends its congratulations.

After the laying of the stone His Grace addressed the people at some length and in fervent tones. He congratulated them on the inception of this new work which showed their interest in the advance of Education. He said this new building would be not only an ornament to the Old Capital of Placentia, but would be a centre of culture and enlightenment to the whole Bay. He hoped that everyone throughout the length and breadth of the Bay would take a personal interest in the New Building, and give all the help in their power toward its completion. He had already given something from the Education fund to the good Pastor and promised something more next year. But it depended principally on the people themselves, and he hoped they would come forward generously to help the work. His Grace then spoke in general terms on the matter of Education throughout Newfoundland. He said this is almost the

Garland-Thompson.

The marriage of Miss Maud Thompson to Mr. Hedley V. Garland took place Tuesday evening, the Rev. J. S. Sutherland officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Maggie Thompson, whilst the groom was supported by Mr. W. Garland. Following the ceremony a reception was held at Smithville when the health of the bride and groom was duly honoured. A short musicale was also held there, the entertainers being Miss M. Seymour and Messrs. Hatcher and H. Cowan. The presents received were numerous and costly testifying to the popularity and esteem in which the newly wedded parties are held. Congratulations.

Regatta Notes.

Despite the unsuitable weather conditions over thirty crews had practice on the Lake yesterday afternoon and last night. The Shamrock was taken in last night to be painted and varnished for Regatta Day. The boat is slightly injured as a result of the collision. The Advocate's press crew had another spin on the Lake last evening and are improving wonderfully. It is the general opinion that the time on Regatta Day will be far below the records.

Whom It Did Concern.

The Very Rev. Dean of York, who recently completed his sixtieth year in the Church of England, was at one time chaplain to Bishop Wilberforce, and he gives in his reminiscences one very good instance of the bishop's visit.

When Darwin's "Origin of Species" was first published, a friend was discussing it with the bishop. "I don't really care whether my grandfather was an ape or not," the friend observed, somewhat heatedly. "It doesn't matter to me." "No," replied Dr. Wilberforce, "I don't suppose it does; but it made a lot of difference to your grandmother."

The Laying of the Corner Stone

Of the New High School, Placentia.

At 3 o'clock on Sunday, July 21st, the procession was organized as in the morning for the Confirmation. The procession was headed by the two bands of the "Star of the Sea" Society. The members turning out in full numbers in their scarves and regalia.

The ground selected for the New School in the vicinity of the Hall, was gaily decorated in bunting. His Grace the Archbishop in full pontifical robes bearing the Crozier and Mitre accompanied by the clergy, Rt. Rev. Mgr. Reardon, Very Rev. Fr. St. John, Doughty, Ashley and Fyde, performed the impressive ceremony of laying the stone, using for the purpose a silver trowel suitably engraved. In the cavity of the stone was placed a gilded casket, hermetically sealed, in which were placed some coins of the realm, some local and foreign newspapers, engravings of the Church of Placentia and photographs of the Rt. Rev. Pastor and of His Grace the Archbishop. In the casket was placed also the following Latin inscription, written for the purpose by the Archbishop:—

Grand Falls.

I have recently received letters from that place in which I am informed that Managers of the Company have determined to inflict a tax on their employees, stopping from their wages ten cents weekly or monthly, which is to be devoted to the erection of schools of the non-religious character. Such an imposition is both unjust and illegal. Besides being contrary to the Law of the land it is also a violation of the express words of their contract by which they are bound to give to their employees every educational facility that the people may demand and require. It is my intention to make in union with the other Catholic Bishops a determined protest and resistance against this unjust and impolite aggression. I can not believe that this action is being taken with the knowledge or consent of Lord Northcliffe, and the Managers of this Institution must be brought to understand as soon as possible that we are not going to allow this invasion of our rights and that any attempt to interfere with, or override the system of Denominational Education established by law in this country will not be permitted and is doomed to certain failure."—Com.

FOXES.

Your attention is directed to the sale of pure blood black breeding foxes in another column.

The S. S. Wilhelmnia, which lost her way in the fog near Peter's River on the evening of July 1st, and was beached, has been refloated. All the cargo had been saved from the ship and she had been given up as a total wreck, being high and dry on the beach when the captain and chief officer, who are now in the city, left her. A few days ago a heavy gale raged from the direction of the south east, there was a heavy sea running and very soon the big steamer floated off into deep water. The occurrence was witnessed by several of the residents of Peter's River and immediately four men boarded the ship and let go her anchors after she had drifted some. The Wilhelmnia is at present at an anchor at Gull Island Point. The prize no doubt for the possession of the vessel will be brought on here and the Balaiche, which is now at Sydney, will take her in tow coming to St. John's. It is believed that the damages caused the Wilhelmnia are slight else she would be leaking some. She is a steel screw steamer of 2,671 tons gross, was built in 1876 and cost over a hundred thousand dollars.

Shooting Match.

At the Rifle Range yesterday the Club competed for the R. G. Rendell Challenge Medal and the J. C. Parsons handicap prize. Mr. N. Rice won the former with a score of 85 points, and the latter by Mr. L. C. Mews with 83 points. Messrs. W. H. Rennie and C. S. Strong were close on the winners. Fog prevented good scoring. Wednesday next the J. W. Morris prize will be competed for. This prize will be the means of creating a keen contest. The competitors fire seven shots from the different ranges in a time limit of 50 seconds, different style targets, which should mean good practice for the Toronto squad.

N.S.S. Co. the Winners

In Football Match at Bell Island Yesterday—N. S. Co. Defeat D. I. S. Co. by 4 Goals to 2.

Tuesday evening before an assemblage of fully 2000 people the N. S. Co. footballers and those of the D. I. S. Co. met in the game of the season at Bell Island. Excitement was so intense that the plaintiffs of the assemblage was heard fully 1½ miles away. The game was very keenly contested and after a hard struggle the N. S. Co. won out by 4 goals to 2. The Nova Scotians have thus won the cup which the champions, the D. I. S. Co., have held the past two years. After the game the N. S. team and a large number of their friends were banquetted at the mine house and a jolly time was spent. Mr. W. J. Higgins refereed the game.
