AMEMBASSADOR FOR WASHINGTON

LONDON, To-day. The Exchange Telegram stated this afternoon that it has learned on good authority that Prince Von Buelow, formerly Chancellor of the German Empire, is to become Ambassador to the United States.

NEGOTIATING PEACE.

LONDON, May 24. The Exchange Telegraph Company says: In diplomatic circles it is believed that Prince Von Buelow, former German Chancellor, is proceeding to Washington charged by the Emperor with a special mission. Prince Von Buelow is one of the foremost statesmen in Europe, and has been referred to during the last few months as the man who might be elected by Emperor William to conduct preliminary peace negotiations, should they be undertaken. He had been mentioned in this connection, not only on account of his experience, and recognized ability, but because he has occupied a rather detached position so far as the actual conduct of the war is concerned.

THREE MONTHS' IMPRISONMENT.

LONDON, May 24. Jas. R. White, formerly captain of the 1st Gordon Highlanders, and son of the late Field Marshal Sir George White, the defender of Ladysmith, was sentenced to-day to three months' imprisonment in Aberdare, Wales. He was convicted under the Defence of the Realm Act for having attempted to induce coal miners to strike in order to compel the Government to show leniency towards the leaders of the rebellion in Ireland. After leaving the army, in which he won the Distinguished Service Order for services during the Boer War, White became a Socialist and went to Ireland to live. He took part in the riotous Larkin strike in Dublin in 1914, and joined the Sinn Fein Society.

DEFIES AUSTRIAN REPORT.

ROME, May 24. The Austrian statement that the Italians surrendered trenches in east Selz, is denied in an official bulletin issued to-day. The bulletin says: The Italians voluntarily abandoned 50 yards of line trenches in this vicinity, but continue to hold three hundred yards of trenches, which they took from the enemy.

WIRELESS FEAT.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., May 24. The American steamer Ventura, has just arrived here from San Francisco, and reports that she picked up a wireless message from the station at Tuckerton, N.J., when 9,000 miles distant from that point. This is said to be the world's record.

GERMANS HOLD DUBAUMONT.

PARIS, May 24. German troops have occupied Fort Dubaumont, while the French hold the immediate approach to that position. This announcement was made in an official bulletin issued by the French War Office this evening, which says that two new divisions of Bavarians effected the re-capture after a series of furious attacks.

Splitting Pains in the Muscles Driven Out Quickly by "Nerviline."

Rheumatic Pains Go—Suffering Ceases—Cure Comes in Even Chronic Cases.

For aching bones and sore muscles nothing will soothe away the pain like Nerviline.

For nerve-wracking twinges in the muscles, for torturing backache or lumbago, you'll find Nerviline is full of amazing power.

You see, Nerviline has the power—it's about five times stronger than ordinary remedies, and can penetrate very deeply. It contains juices and extracts of certain herbs that give it a strange power to drive out congestion, inflammation or pain.

You are safe in using Nerviline. Just rub it on—it won't blister or burn, and can do nothing but good.

Whenever there is pain or suffering Nerviline will go and will drive it out. It penetrates to every cell of a sore muscle; it sinks to the heart of every stiff sore joint; it searches out the pain of rheumatism quickly.

Give Nerviline a trial. See how fast it will liber your lame back, how quickly it will cure neuralgia, headache, how fast it will break up a bad cold or ease a sore throat.

The best family pain-remedy ever made is Nerviline. Forty years of great success proves this.

For emergent ills, when the doctor isn't handy, there is nothing better than the 50c. family size bottle; trial size 25c., all dealers.

The War Vote.

£300,000,000 WAR CREDIT—ASQUITH EXPLAINS EXPENDITURES—CHURCHILL'S CRITICISMS OF CONDUCT OF WAR.

LONDON, May 23.

In proposing the vote for further credit Premier Asquith laid before the House of Commons an account in detail of some of the government's recent financial operations. He took up the period between April 1 and May 20, stating that the actual outlay during those fifty days was £2,410,000,000. The expenditure for army munitions in that time accounted for £1,419,000,000, loans to Allies and Dominions, £745,000,000, outlay for food supplies, railways and miscellaneous items £175,000,000. Eliminating payments by the Bank of England in respect of advances abroad for which allowances had been made in previous votes, the daily average expenditure had been reduced to £4,600,000. There had been no increase but a slight decrease in expenditures for the fighting forces. The total outlay was somewhat larger, mainly on account of loans to the Allies and Dominions. The average expenditure for the army and navy for munitions was just under £3,000,000 daily. Speaking of the loans to the Allies, Asquith said, without that financial assistance it literally was not the combined confidence of the Allies could not be prosecuted with success and efficiency. The House would not grudge the addition to the expenditures in order that the whole financial, naval and military fabric, upon those co-operative works the success of our joint effort depends, should be kept in a state of efficiency. The Premier added that he could hold out no hope that there would be any appreciable reduction in expenditures, estimating that the £300,000,000 asked would last until the middle of first week in August. The Premier said he moved his vote in moving the first vote, but that at this stage he would deal only with the financial position.

CHURCHILL'S CRITICISMS.

Winston Spencer Churchill, former First Lord of the Admiralty, who was the first speaker in the general debate which followed, expressed his regret that Asquith had not reviewed the general strategic situation and said it was unreasonable for people to expect the war to turn suddenly decisively in favor of the Allies, contending that the armies at war were too evenly matched at the present time to permit such a change. The Premier said he was not in a position to do so, but that he was not in a position to do so, but that he was not in a position to do so.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS.

France, May 23. A unique incident occurred to-day, when for the first time during the war, an aeroplane mistook a hostile aeroplane for its own. The German aviator and his pilot, who landed within our lines, saw their mistake too late when the figure in khaki running up made them prisoners. The machine was new and of the latest type.

BULGARIANS MADE PRISONERS BY ITALIANS.

ROME, May 23. Along the Isonzo front Bulgarians have been made prisoners by the Italians showing that the former have joined with the Austrians in their present offensive. The heavy guns of the Austrians are much more numerous in this region than those of the Italians, but they have not been able to overcome the well-organized Italian defenses.

SALONIKA.

PARIS, May 23. The Entente Allies have occupied the station of Florina, south of Monastir, according to a Salonika despatch. The Germans have bombarded the village of Potholes, south of Douir.

ASQUITH AND THE IRISH PROBLEM.

LONDON, May 24. Premier Asquith will announce in the House of Commons to-day the abolition of the office of Viceroy of Ireland, according to the Daily Express, and Lord Wimborne, whose resignation has not yet been accepted, will be offered another post of importance under the Government. The Daily News says the scheme for the solution of the Irish problem, which has received the largest support of the Cabinet, is for an agreement between the Irish leaders accepting the principle of separate parliaments for Ulster and the rest of Ireland, after the war, but until the war ends for the coalition executive council with officers equally distributed between the parties.

BATTLE RAGING.

PARIS, May 23. The battle around Verdun continues to rage with a violence unexampled even in this region. The Germans are striving with every source in their power to capture Hill 304, and Deadman's Hill on the left bank of the Meuse and to win back the famous Fort Douaumont on the right bank, which was wrested from them by General Nivelle's brilliantly planned and executed offensive.

SHAKESPEARE AND WAR.

Sir Frederick Pollock, addressing the Ancoats Brotherhood on "Shakespeare and War," said: "Shakespeare's work contained no general moral judgment about war. Like Justinian, he accepted it among the inevitable facts of life. Princes and nations fought, and arms was the natural profession of a gentleman. Shakespeare as a playwright was offered not only stirring incidents, but precious occasions for developing every kind of character—Falstaff being one of the most notable examples. The need for rapid action on the Elizabethan stage limited the presentation of actual warfare to a series of personal episodes.

For any recognition of military science one must turn to the satirical romantic drama of 'Troilus and Cressida,' and for the business-like anecdote to the legendary play of 'Cymbeline.' The speech of Ulysses on the discontented Ajax and his followers in 'Troilus' might be said to embody in 'Troilus' might be said to embody the staff officer's view of war. In the same scene the professional pessimist was pilloried—a slave whose gall coins slanders like a mint.

The lines given to the messenger at the opening of 'Henry VI.'—doubtful lines, which might, however, have been touched by Shakespeare's revising hand—referred to various factions. One fell pat for our latest variety of politician, the air service candidate—'Another would it swift, but wretched wings'; and the other equally pat for those who desired to discuss terms of peace in detail before the enemy was beaten:

A third man thinks, without expense at all.

By gulfair fair words peace may be obtained.

"Shakespeare took the measure of war just as he found them, but in one passage in 'Henry V.' the Prussian devil's policy of frightfulness stood rebuked:—'We give express charge that in our marches through the country there be nothing compelled from the villages, nothing taken but paid for, none of the French upbraided or abused in disdainful language, for when lenity and cruelty play for a kingdom the gentler gamester is the soonest winner.' That was the Shakespeare whom the Germans pretended to understand better than his own countrymen did.

"Someone might ask if Shakespeare thought that England was worth fighting for. Apart from such splendid passages as John o' Gaunt uttered in 'Richard II.' the answer was written over all his work.

"Besides," Sir Frederick added, "there are some questions really too impertinent to be put to any honest English gentleman, even when he is dead and immortalized these three hundred years."
