

Venezelos Resigns on the Advice of His Physicians

Father Delorme's Trial Re-opened—Late Woodrow Wilson's Funeral to be of a Private Nature—Indian Liberals Dissatisfied with the Viceroy Speech from the Throne

ATHENS, Feb. 4.—By the verdict of the four physicians who examined him to-day, Premier Venezelos will have to give up the Premiership of the Greek Government and abstain from all his political activities for an indefinite period.

ATHENS, Feb. 4.—Premier Venezelos and his Cabinet resigned office to-day. A new ministry will be formed by M. Kafandaris, former Minister of the Interior.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Funeral services for former President Woodrow Wilson will be held Wednesday and will be private in the sense that there will be no state ceremony. A large number of friends and former associates have been designated as active and honorary pallbearers. Rev. James H. Taylor, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, which Mr. Wilson attended in Washington, probably will deliver the eulogy. The plans provide for a brief service at his street residence at 1 p.m., Wednesday. The body will lie in state at the capital.

GENEVA, Feb. 4.—Former President Wilson's death has caused profound sorrow in the League of Nations organization and many tributes of respect and admiration for him are being voiced on all sides of the League headquarters. Mr. Wilson's death, it is pointed out, coincides with the presence here of United States participants in the League's activity and with the arrival of delegates for work in connection with the problem of armament reductions.

DELHI, Feb. 4.—Considerable disappointment is being expressed by Liberals and Independents over the speech from the throne read by the Viceroy, Lord Buxton, at the opening of the Legislative Assembly here, and the British Cabinet Minister's cautious announcement with regard to India in the matter of responsible Government. As a result of the disappointment a conference has just been held here between the Viceroy and the Indian National Congress leaders, including C. R. Das, leader of the Swarajists, the chief proponent of the conference. The Liberals in attendance included Srinivas Sastry, the noted Indian statesman.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The balance of ministerial appointments in Britain's Labor Government have been announced as follows:—Junior Lords and Commissioners of the Treasury: William Graham (Edinburgh Central) who is one of the intellectuals of the Labor Party; Frederick Hall (Northampton, Yorkshire) who is an ex-minister; Thomas Kennedy (Kirkcaldy) one of the ablest exponents of Marxian Socialism in Britain and John Robertson (Lanark, Bothwell) who started to work in a mine at eleven years of age and choose night shift for years in that he might go to school in the daytime. Treasurer of the King's Household, Thomas Griffiths (Pontypool, Monmouth) a former half-timer at a typists works, earning fourpence a day; he entered the Ruskin College when thirty-three and maintained himself at Oxford with his wife and family on fifty shillings a week. Comptroller of the Royal Household, John Parkinson (Wigan) who began work in the coal pits, a half-timer at ten years of age, and became full-timer at twelve; Vice-Chamberlain of the Household, John Davison (Smithwick) who began work in a bootshop. All are Labor members of the Commons. Their duties will be largely nominal.

MONTREAL, Feb. 4.—With the arrival of Andrew Steele, International officer of the United Mine Workers, who joined the officials of the union from Cape Breton, an attempt to settle the situation tying up mining operations there, was begun by a conference with officials of Besco this morning. The miners' representatives go into conference demanding a substantial increase in wages. As is usual with such conferences, no reports will likely be handed the press until the proceedings are over.

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 4.—There is something wrong with the methods employed by the middle man in handling Nova Scotia's fishery products, said Hon. F. B. Carvell, at the State Railway Commission, hearing into adjustment of prices, which opened here to-day. Mr. Carvell stated that fresh fish was selling in Ottawa at 16 cents a pound, which netted the fishermen about 4 cents per pound and cost only 9 to 10 cents to ship fresh. The fish after leaving the producers passed through four different stages Mr. Carvell said, and everybody seemed to get a rake-off.

MONTREAL, Feb. 4.—Thieves broke into the room of Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec, while he was in a hotel here Saturday evening, and stole $1,300 from his clothes. It is thought entrance was obtained through skeleton keys while he was in another portion of the hotel.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The Bombay Government has ordered the release of Ghandi, Indian Nationalist leader, who on March 13, 1922, was sentenced to six years' imprisonment for sedition.

MONTREAL, Feb. 4.—Looking perhaps a trifle thinner, but otherwise unchanged, Rev. Father Adelard Delorme appeared in the King's Bench here this morning before Mr. Justice Martineau, to answer to the charge of the murder of his half brother, Raoul Delorme, an Ottawa College student in Jan. 1922. The hearing was fixed for February 29th after Alban Gormann, K.C., Counsel for the defence, had asked for delay on the ground that financial difficulties had to be arranged before the trial commenced.

PAIGE RESIGNS.—HALIFAX, Feb. 4.—James F. Paige, Operation Manager of the Halifax Shipyard, a subsidiary of the British Empire Steel Corporation, announced his resignation late this afternoon. He held the position for years, having come here from Fort Arthur, Ont., where he was Manager of the Port Arthur Shipping Company. Mr. Paige has stated his intention of joining a large shipping firm in New York.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Great Britain has sent a challenge for the Davis Cup, the Premier Trophy of the International Lawn Tennis, now held by the United States.

MONTREAL, Feb. 4.—When W. Jensen, a prosperous farmer of Hemmingford, Quebec, stepped on a city-bound train at his home station with over $5,000.00 in his pocket on Thursday afternoon, last, he disappeared completely from the ken of his relatives and friends. This was brought to light to-night when his wife appeared to the Provincial police and told of being stranded in the city where she was visiting and where she expected her husband to join her. The police suspect crime in connection with Jensen's disappearance.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 4.—More than a million feet of high grade logs were carried away, hundreds of trees torn down and camp buildings and roadways damaged by a flood that raged twelve hours at Indian River, fifteen miles northeast of here on Saturday morning, according to word brought here to-day. The damage has not been estimated. The flood was subsiding to-day.

ST. ANDRE-DE-KAMONRAKA, P.Q., Feb. 4.—(Special)—"I have suffered terribly for several years from bad kidneys and indigestion. I was so weak that I was not able to do my housework. After taking some Dodd's Kidney Pills I felt better and the pains in my kidneys have disappeared. I recommend them to all weak women."

Mrs. E. Ouellet Tells of Dodd's Kidney Pills.—Sends a message of cheer to the thousands of Canadian women who carry a load of pain and weariness through their daily work.

Mrs. E. Ouellet, who lives here, makes the above statement. She feels that she owes it to other sufferers to tell them how she found relief.—Of the many persons paying their tribute of praise to Dodd's Kidney Pills, it is noticeable that the great majority are women. The reason given for this is that the great majority of women's ills come from the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys, healing and strengthening them, they enable the kidneys to strain all the impurities out of the blood.

Extraordinary Bill at the Crescent To-Night.—Biggest Variety of Acts Ever Witnessed in the City. The big vaudeville entertainment which takes place in the Crescent Theatre to-night, promises to eclipse all former shows, bar none. For variety of amusement it cannot be duplicated elsewhere. Everybody will be interested in the big time act of feats of equilibrium, novelty juggling and skillful hand-balancing. Of course there is only one in St. John's that can perform this big act and he is A. E. Holmes. Experience a genuine thrill to-night when you see him go through some hair-breadth escapes. The remainder of the bill consists of a singing and talking act by The Comedy Singing Trio. Frank Neville will be heard in the latest class ballads. Dan Delmar and Company have another laugh-provoking act to offer. It is entitled "The Escaped Station." Earl Philip Murphy, the Singing Violinist, in selected numbers.

DELOERNE AGAIN ON TRIAL.—Looking perhaps a trifle thinner, but otherwise unchanged, Rev. Father Adelard Delorme appeared in the King's Bench here this morning before Mr. Justice Martineau, to answer to the charge of the murder of his half brother, Raoul Delorme, an Ottawa College student in Jan. 1922. The hearing was fixed for February 29th after Alban Gormann, K.C., Counsel for the defence, had asked for delay on the ground that financial difficulties had to be arranged before the trial commenced.

AN INVITATION.—We cordially invite any person or persons who intend reading of a Dance, to inspect the NEW arrangements at the Grand Hall. We can save you money, and prove our just claim to the title St. John's Premier Ballroom. Make a "Date" with A. E. Holmes, Manager, phone 25.—1924.

The Colored Artists Again Score

A BIG SUCCESS.—Despite the most inclement weather of last evening, large audiences found their way to the popular Star, and not one regretted so doing. Messrs. Foster, Hawkes and Zabriskie, rendered, as on Friday and Saturday, a most highly delightful and entertaining musical entertainment, and it is unnecessary on our part to go into any length on their merits as this they have already well established, but as they become more acquainted with our audiences they seem to be going better on each occasion. The playing of Mr. Hawkes at the piano is simply wonderful, he being master of the art at every angle, whilst Mr. Zabriskie with his banjo is most anxiously waited for by all. Mr. Foster is just a scream, he being "born to the stage." His song monologues "Murder in the First Degree" won for him a big hand. Complimenting the wishes of the many requesters that have been made to him, he will on Wednesday afternoon and night sing a Baas Solo, and this number in itself will be well worth the price of admission. At the completion of each number last evening they were greeted with rounds of applause, and this particularly applies to the closing item "Be Ready for the Day," the large gathering applauding into the picture that followed. Messrs. Foster, Hawkes and Zabriskie wish us to state they very highly appreciate the reception that is being tendered them, and have nothing but the highest words of praise for all, as since their arrival everyone they have met, have been very warm in their greetings. During their engagement they will therefore do all in their ability to show this, and no movie fan should miss any of their changes, and this they will do three times weekly—Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

THE PENALTY OF SUCCESS.—The anxious praise only that which they can surmise; that which surpasses them they censure.—Collon. There is an old saying that nothing succeeds like success. It is a true saying and describes one of the facts of success. But success has other faces, too. Nothing succeeds like success: also, nothing antagonizes like success.

How to Wear It.—Of course how you wear your success makes a difference in the way other people feel about it. Whether you wear it patronizingly or insolently, or with false humility, or sensibly and unself-consciously, with your mind on something else. Some newly successful people wear their success in a self-conscious way like a woman with a new gown, which she is thinking about all the time and hopes everyone is noticing. Do you remember the "silly little maiden with the silly little bonnet, with a ribbon and a feather and a bit of lace upon it," of the old song? She thought the halcyon of the choir were, "Hardly knew you!" Well, some successful people are like that in their way of trying to relate everything that happens and is done to their own ego.

Ask The Critic.—If you want an expression of opinion on Three Flowers toilet goods, ask the most critical woman you know. Invariably you will be told that here at last are toilet requisites that no fault can be found with. Toilet things that please both for their practicality and beauty. Three Flowers Face Powder and Vanishing Cream have made a marvelous impression with fastidious people everywhere. You can judge for yourself by securing these dainty requisites at any drug or department store.

When I ran across the quotation—We admire success, we court it, we like to be associated with it, and thereby we enhance its successfulness; but also we are always ready to criticize and find flaws in the successful. A man who has been slowly rising these last five years until now he occupies a position of some prominence in his profession, complained to me one day that his friends never congratulated him nowadays on his success the way they used to at first. "Why five years ago if I had my name in the paper because I was handling some little piecey case, half a dozen of them would notice it and tell me about it," he said with a look of grievous bewilderment of his boyish features, "but now when I got that big verdict the only man who congratulated me was Judge E." (naming one of the biggest lawyers in the county.)
