My Mother.

The sweetest sound was ever sung,
Or uttered by a human tongue,
And loved by all, both old and young,
Is the dearest name of mother.

A mother's love, the brightest gem
That ever shone in diadem;
No man can ever with a pen
Tell all the love of mother.

A mother's love, a mother's prayer,
Has kept me safe from many a snare.
Oh, that I could repay thy care!
My mother.

And where on earth, now, can you find
Another that will be so kind,
So warm of heart, so pure of mind,
As mother?

Oh, how ungrateful I would be
To one who was so kind to me,
As not to write a verse for thee,
My mother.

The hay harvest just over was one of the earliest on record. Haying commenced on June 20, fall wheat on July 1. The country generally, especially North Middlesex and South Huron, is suffering for want of rain.
ADARE.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., July 13.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above-mentioned remedy is likly to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

Dominion Alliance.

Lively Discussion at the Council Meeting.

Personalities Employed and Lampooning Resented.

Toronto, July 16.—The Council of the Dominion Alliance for the Total Suppression of the Liquor Traffic was in session yesterday at Temperance Hall to prepare for the big Provincial prohibition convention, which will open today in the pavilion. Mr. J. R. McDougal, of Montreal, one of the Quebec vice-presidents, occupied the chair.

The executive committee presented a report reviewing the work done and the results obtained since the annual convention, held in Montreal in 1894.

In the afternoon a resolution by the committee appointed to prepare a deliverance for the alliance, caused an animated debate. It read: "That while we recognize the work done by our executive, we regret that more active steps were not taken in the late Dominion election to more thoroughly carry out the plan of campaign as outlined at the Montreal convention."

The feeling occasioned by this resolution sufficed to divide the council into two nearly equal and strongly opposed camps. Those responsible for the resolution were the friends and supporters of Mr. W. W. Buchanan, the editor of the Templar, who was an unsuccessful prohibition candidate in the recent elections and who desired in this way to express disapproval of what they claim was inactivity on the part of the Dominion Alliance during the campaign. They thought that more aid should have been given Mr. Buchanan and other temperance candidates by the alliance. These gentlemen also wanted to express censure of Hon. Geo. W. Ross for having appeared on a Liberal platform where a prohibitionist was running. The discussion, which became very heated and decidedly angry, simmered into a recriminatory argument between Mr. Buchanan and Mr. F. S. Spence, each of whom was well supported by his friends.

Mr. Spence asserted that he had been consistently slandered, lampooned and lied about in the Templar.

Mr. Buchanan's reply was that he had not descended to personalities at all, but that he had fearlessly and honestly criticised the alliance with the object of stirring it up to a proper sense of its duties and obligations. He denied with much emphasis that the existing dissatisfaction in temperance circles was due to the criticisms of the Templar.

Mr. J. K. Stewart drew attention to the fact that Mr. Buchannan had occupied a seat on Mr. McCarthy's platform in Toronto, although Mr. McCarthy was not a prohibitionist, and that he had also asked Mr. McCarthy to speak for him in Hamilton. Mr. Buchanan had done this, Mr. Stewart said, although it was a self-evident fact that prohibition could never be carried in this country without the co-operation of the Roman Catholics.

Mr. J. J. Maclaren made a strong speech in support of Mr. Spence's contention, and Messrs. G. H. Lees, F. W. Watkins and L. C. Peake (all of Hamilton) defended Mr. Buchanan.

Rev. Dr. Dewart said that if the Templar had not stirred up strife it was not the Templar's fault. Mr. Spence was not the only person it had lampooned. He gave it credit for zeal, but complained that it attempted to read out of the prohibition ranks all who would not throw over principles and party at its dictation. He claimed his right to exercise his best judgment in voting for the candidate and party which he believed had the best interests of the country at heart. He did not propose to be dictated to in the exercise of his franchise by any organization.

Mr. Buchanan said that the Alliance existed for the very purpose of laying down a platform to which members were expected to be loyal. If they did not intend to be loyal they should leave the organization.

After some further discussion a motion was made to amend the report by eliminating the last resolution. This motion being put, was carried, Mr. Buchanan and his friends voting against it to a man.

It was agreed to appoint a committee to wait on the Dominion Government and plead for prohibition, or a national plebiscite on the question. If no promise is given of early action, then the Flint resolution to be again introduced.

For the office of president Senator Vidal and Mr. Fred. W. Watkins were then nominated, and Senator Vidal was elected by a vote of 30 to 12. Senator Vidal expressed his appreciation of the honor done him. He has been president of the Alliance since 1876.

The election of vice-presidents resulted as follows: For Ontario, Mayor Fleming and Hon. Senator Aikins; for Quebec, Hon. S. A. Fisher and Mr. J. R. Dougall; for Nova Scotia, A. R. Dickey, M.P., and T. B. Flint, M.P.; for New Brunswick, Rev. Jas. McLeod, D.D., and A. H. Hannington; for Prince Edward Island, Hon. David Laird and S. Crabbe; for Manitoba, Rev. Dr. Bryce and J. Redford Mulock; Northwest Territories, Frank Oliver, M.P.; British Columbia, Aulay Morrison, M.P., and J. B. Kennedy, M.P.P.

The other officers elected were: Corresponding secretary, F.S. Spence, Toronto; recording secretary, J. H. Carson, Montreal; treasurer, W. H. Orr, Toronto.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhea, cholera, and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief, and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

Endeavorers Return

London's Delegates to the Washington Convention Arrive Home.

Greatly Surprised by the Hospitality of Our American Cousins.

Canon Richardson Describes the Main Features of the Great Gathering.

The delegates to the great Christian Endeavor convention from the Episcopal Church in this city—Bishop Baldwin and Rev. Canon Richardson—arrived home from the American capital yesterday. Both gentlemen are deeply impressed with the great hospitality shown to the visiting delegation by the citizens of Washington. Canon Richardson, when interviewed by an "Advertiser" reporter this morning, stated that at no other convention ever held were there so many foreign delegates present. There were about 40,000 in all, and of these 28,000 were from Canada, England, France, Germany, Austria, Africa, South America, Holland, Armenia, China, Japan and other countries. At this convention there was no lack of British flags. They were prominent not only on the platforms of the different edifices, but along the streets and in the procession. The London delegates reached Washington on Tuesday afternoon, amid a downpour of rain, which continued until Saturday afternoon. The rain on Wednesday afternoon is described by the delegate as almost a waterspout. This was responsible for the collapse of the great tent, "Willesden," which was erected at a cost of $2,000. There were three of these tents, the others being of a similar size and cost, and were named "Tent Endeavor" and "Tent Washington." Each of these had a seating capacity of 10,000. The tent was blown down about 4 o'clock on Wednesday morning, the opening day of the proceedings, and after everything was in readiness. Every effort was made to raise the immense canvas, but without success, notwithstanding every appliance in Washington was used for the purpose. The different halls and commodious buildings then had to be extemporized to meet the requirements of the 10,000 Endeavorers from Tent Willesden.

The Canadian delegations had their headquarters at the Central Presbyterian Church, at the corner of I and Third streets. Among these were prominent divines from all over the Dominion and a large deputation from Toronto. Rev. A. F. McGregor, provincial president of the Ontario Christian Endeavor Society, was an active worker. Bishop Baldwin made a number of addresses in various places, and his profound sincerity and earnestness had a powerful effect upon the many thousands who heard him.

On Saturday afternoon about 50 of the Canadian and British delegates were honored by an interview with Sir Julian Pauncefote, British ambassador to the United States. They assembled at the British embassy, and were received most graciously by his Excellency and Viscount Gough, military attache. The Bishop of Huron acted as spokesman for the party, and in a few graceful terms expressed the loyalty of the delegates present to the British Crown and institutions. After that the whole party joined in singing the National Anthem. Sir Julian, replying, expressed the deep-seated gratification he felt at so fervent a display of national sentiment.

Among the prominent Canadians who addressed the great convention were: Bishop Baldwin, Rev. John Neil, the celebrated evangelist, Rev. Dr. Wilson, Rev. Edgerton Young, Rev. William Patterson, Cook's Church, Toronto, and Rev. Canon Richardson.

The English delegates of prominence were: Rev. J. B. Morgan, Rev. Arnold Streuli and Rev. W. H. Towers.

The song services which took place on the east side of the capital formed the feature of the whole convention. Patriotic songs were sung by a choir of 4,000 voices, assisted by the celebrated Marine Band. There was an immense assemblage of people at this affair, and although the number of people could not be stated definitely, it is said to have been in the neighborhood of 70,000.

The singing of the British National Anthem and "The Maple Leaf Forever," was a striking feature all through the whole convention.

The Armenian representative, the canon says, delivered one of the most powerful speeches on the recent Armenian atrocities he had ever heard. At times he was violent and at others a modulation of such heartfelt and sympathetic appeals, which moved the great mass to tears. He commented on the noble service rendered to missionaries by Sir Philip Currie, British ambassador, and eulogized the actions of sympathetic England. He condemned in severe terms the non-interference and the cold-hearted carelessness of the American people and the American Government. He thanked them for the measures of pecuniary relief, but felt that had the United States gone hand-in-hand with Britain to suppress these outrages upon God's people, they would have stood as a rock immovable before the rest of the whole world.

In the closing exercises the Bishop of Huron preached an eloquent sermon from the words, "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you." At the same time Canon Richardson had charge of a large meeting at another part of the city.

About the Liver

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing billiousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope, until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle, and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

TEN MINUTE SESSION.

Dan O'Shea and Ann Haskett Before the Police Magistrate for Breach of Bylaw.

The magistrate's court this morning occupied only ten minutes. Dan O'Shea was summoned to answer a charge of allowing his horse to run at large. Mr. O'Shea explained that the animal was a most sagacious equine. It had a peculiar liking for spring water, and after going to a neighboring spring it refused to drink the water at the house. Mr. O'Shea was advised to train the horse to bow to circumstances, and was allowed to go.

Ann Haskett owns seven cows. These were left in charge of a boy, who ran away and played, just like any other boy, while the cows held high carnival on the highway. She will see that it does not occur again.

John Wright, a lonely, one-eyed drunk, was allowed his liberty.

There's health, strength and energy in every bottle of Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound. Guaranteed to cure.

Major W. H. Cooper, 16 Gloucester St., Toronto, says:

"I can now eat, sleep, and think better, and feel altogether a different man. Before taking it I had suffered for a long time from severe pains in my back and a feeling of exhaustion upon the slightest exertion, slept badly, and was subject to fits of the "blues." This has all disappeared and I feel like a new man, all of which I attribute to Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound."
