SECOND DAY OF THE ONTARIO RIFLE ASSOCIATION MATCHES

The Searce in the Revolver and Walker Canvas Targets—How They Work— Notes on the Grounds—Fair Shooting All Round.

The second day of the matches opened very doubtfuily, rain falling, but the light being fair and the targets looking well, some good scores were made soon after the firing of the "gun." After the rain ceased the weather was all that was desired, and

THE CANVAS TARGETS give every satisfaction, the method of working being as follows : A competitor makes an "inner," suppose the hole made by the bullet is seen in the canvas by the marker, who sits in a long trench in front of the row of targets he at once attaches the red disc to a knob on the left of the target, and as he draws the latter down the disc goes up by means of a pulley, and the register-keeper seeing it records it "four" at once. The marker now hangs a very small "spotting disc" on the place, and then sends the target up for the next shot, the marksman being thus enabled to see exactly where the last shot truck. When the target is drawn down the next time the "inner spotting disc" is taken off and the hole pasted up. The great advantage is that on a challenged shot any target can be examined by the officer in the trench without stopping the firing on the others. Col. Otter deserves great credit for the trouble he has taken to make this part of the matches a success. THE TELEPHONE SERVICE makes things very lively between the firing points and the targets, and also between the secretary's office on the common and the statistical office in the new fort. The method used for arranging the score by Major Miller 18 well worthy a visit, and will be graciously explained by that gentleman or his assistant, Sergt. W.llians, Q. O. R. Sergt's Heakes and Cook, Q. O. R., are kept busy at the ammunition and entry wicket respectively.

The match proves a great source of amusement to those who are not engaged at shooting the regular matches, and also lucrative to the association coffers, and had the entrance fee been smaller, would have proved more so. Surgeon Macdonald was on duty, and not being severely taxed by patients, succeeded in making the highest score with his revolver, viz: 26.

THE EXTRA SCORES MATCH at 200 yards was also opened to all members and will remain open through the meeting. The following are the leading

Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Industrial I xhibition.

President J. J. Withrow presided at the neeting of the board of directors of the Industrial exhibition association last night. A large amount of routine business was transacted. The former decision of the board to exclude coffins and kindred goods board to exclude cofins and sindred goods was revoked as far as the exhibit of the coffin company of Ridgetown, Ont., is concerned. The display, however, is to be made in such a manner as the manager approves of. The exception was made for this company because they had been put to considerable expense, and were partially given to understand that the exhibit would be allowed. Many members of the board. given to understand that the exhibit would be allowed. Many members of the board, however, expressed themselves as uncompromisingly opposed to the exhibitions. W. R. Bingham was awarded a desirable spot to erect a tent, where a 25c. dinner will be furnished. A fresh oven for baking pastry will be built at the kitchen, which is otherwise very complete. It was resolved to maintain the same price of admission throughout the same price of admission throughout the whole day. The offer of the Virginia to-

EDITORS OFF FOR MANITOBA. Annual Excursion of the Press Association

Yesterday. The Canadian press association held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the council chamber of the court house. J. B. Pense (president) of the Kingston Whig was in the chair. The report of the secretary-treasurer showed a balance of cash on hand of $200. The officers were elected : Geerge Tye (Brampton), president; J Blackett Robinson (Toronto), 1st vice.-president; G Patullo (Woodstock), 2d vice.president; W C Climie (Bowmanville), secretary. The party, which numbered 115 ladies and gentlemen, then proceeded to the Union station and took a special train on the Credit Valley railway for Manitobe, to which province the annual excursion being held.

The PRESIDENTAL ADDRESS.

The president in delivering the annual address, briefly but ably reviewed the progress of the profession in Canada since the date of last meeting. The reformations in newspaper laws, which were agitated at last convention, were announced to have been convention, were announced to have been successfully carried out. The petition for the repeal of the law enforcing prepayment by publishers of newspaper postage had been noticed and its prayer fully age had been noticed and its prayer fully granted by parliament. An important amendment to the law of libel had also been effected, which greatly adds to the privileges of reporting public meetings. The project of establishing another news agency in New York for the careful discrimination and condesing of the property and the property a ination and condensing of news matter was touched upon. The president also com-mented upon the stability and growing inmented upon the stability and growing influence of the press throughout the country, on all questions of public moment. To its already imposing list of 565, at the last meeting, 28 new publications had been added, showing that in numbers, at least, they were certainly equal to the capabilities of the country

Clever Capture by a Night-Watchman. John, the Scotch watchman from Dublin, had an exciting chase and quite an adventure yesterday morning. While pacing his weary beat he saw a small animal running down Wilton avenue and he followed in pursuit, succeeded in catching it, and wrapping it tenderly in the folds of his cape he returned to Yonge street and proceeded south towards Shuter, where he deposited the animal in a fruit box and called a receiver and received the succession of called a passing policeman to see what a nice little musk rat he had caught. But the policeman, like the king in Hamlet, declaring it was "smelling rank to heaven," pronounced it to be a skunk. MEETING OF THE SUBSIDIARY COURT OF FORESTERS.

The High Chief Ranger's Address-Repor of the Executive Committee—Change in the General Law.

The Subsidiary high court of Canada of the ancient order of Foresters assembled for its annual session in the Canadian Oddfellows hall at Yonge and Alice streets yesterday forencon. There were about thirty-six delegates present, representing courts in St. Marys, Owen Sound, Chatham, Stratford, Windsor, Barrie, Yorkville, Meaford, Guelph, Oshawa, Hamilton, Galt, Brantford, Dundas, Preston, Woodstock, Bowmanville, Mitchell, London Ingersoll, Pt. Edward, St. Thomas, Kincardine. Seaforth and Toronto. High Chief Ranger Lucas, of Toronto, presided, and in his welcoming address said that the order had made gratifying progress since the formation of the high court. Although but one new court had been opened the membership had increased by 400. In the membership had increased by 400. In a few months the Montreal courts would be affiliated with them. The success of the subsidiary high court was now assured, it having so far accomplished all that had been hoped for. Following the chief ranger, came a report from the executive committee which stated in detail the general business of the order since the formation of the high court. Since the last meeting the Windsor district, with 162 members, and Toronto district with 640 members, had dissolved and registered courts in the respective districts, instead of being appointed by the high chief ranger as heretofore. The above were the main changes made in the general law. The court rose until to-day when the officers will be elected and other business the formation of the high court. Since the last meeting the Windsor district, with 162 members, and Toronto district with 40 members, had dissolved and registered their members in the funeral fund. A colonization company having been formed in London, in connection with the Independent order of Foresters, but using the name of their order, a circular was issued to the courts, and to the minister of their terior, repudiating all connection with it. The sick and funeral fund was composed of the three courts lately forming the Windsor and Chatham district, and a court opened at Barrie in February. Money was raised by loan from the courts, and good necessary for the demand of the order kept in stock. The endowment fund was in a prosperous condition, the amount generally applied for being $1000. Some alterations in the rules governing the fund were proposed. The Ancient Forester had been taken in charge by the council, and its issue continued as the organ of the order. Several additions to the ritusl of the order were proposed. This closed the business of the forenoon.

The afternoon and night sessions were devoted to the consideration of changes in the general law. A long debate ensued on the question as to whether the local courts or the subsidiary high court should defray the expenses of delegates to the high court. The question was finally referred to the committee on mileage and per diem. The Montreal districts were altered as follows: London, Kineszcine and St. Thomas to form one district; Windson and Mitchell to be a district; Windson and Mitchell to be a district; Marian and Buckthorne to be a district; and Oshawa and Bowmanville to be a district; in an Oshawa and Bowmanville to be a district; Marian and Buckthorne to be a district; in the first of the forest in the respective districts, instead of the general railway acts of 1868 and 1879 and came to take the windson and the proposed. From a Station to a Warehouse. The increase in imports at this port has been so great recently that the custom officials have experienced no little difficulty in storing goods in the limited bonded wareh use at the Great Western station, foot of Yonge street. To prevent an entire blockade in the receipt of goods Collector Patton was obliged to take advantage of an order from the commissioner of customs to clear the warehouse once a week instead of fortnightly, as heretofore. Several merchants thought this was pretty sharp practice, but Mr. Patton was pretty sharp practice, but Mr. Patton had to get the goods out of bond, else there would be no room for the new shipments would be no foom for the new shipments that were constantly arriving. Even with a weekly delivery it required to work overtime and extra help to keep pace with the state of affairs and to avoid a blockade. Either the accommodation at the Great Western sheds should be relieved at the treatment. modation at the Great Western sheds should be enlarged or the weekly delivery must continue, despite the protest of some of the city merchants. This was the condition of things when Mr. Hickson and the other leading officials of the Grand Trunk, who now have the management of the Great Western came into town. Mr. Patton yesterday called on Mr. Hickson and represented to him the difficulties which the custom house officials experienced on account of the inadequate bonded accommodation at the Great Western staaccommodation at the Great Western station.
