The Rev. S. P. Irwin, B.A., for the past seventeen years rector of Trinity church, Watford, St. James' church, Brooke, and Christ church, Sutorville, has been appointed rector of the parish of Kingsville by the Bishop of Huron, and will leave for his new charge about July 1st. The people of this vicinity regret to learn this for Mr. and Mrs. Irwin have very many friends, not only in their own congregations, but among the people of other denominations; yet all congratulate them on Mr. Irwin's appointment to a more important charge. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin will be missed by the entire community. As a rector he has preached acceptably and been most faithful in the discharge of his office and especially helpful in cases of illness and trouble. During his stay here new churches have been erected in Watford and Sutorville and the congregations of all three churches have largely increased. The good wishes of the entire community go with Mr. and Mrs. Irwin and family to their new home in Kingsville.

GRIFFITH EXCELS ALL OTHER PICTURES

D. W. Griffith's wonder spectacle, "Way Down East," taken from the famous New England play of that name will be seen at the Lyceum, on Monday, May 8th.

In "Way Down East" the master of silent drama has excelled himself. Griffith has taken this simple story of plain people and infused into it the charm of New England homesteads with their quaint surroundings, dreamy perspectives of enchanting roadways, meadows and hills; old fashioned sleighing parties, barn dances and bucolic humors in a manner which creates a new art form. It is a tale of the love that conquers all things but which is retarded for the time being by gossip and thrilling adventures prompted by the stern dictates of a simple people who have but one code of honor. It progresses charmingly and with those intimate touches of Griffith beauty which makes all his works stand out so appealingly to a climax which is the greatest scene ever depicted within the four walls of a theatre. The audiences are thrilled and thrilled until they fairly gasp for breath and find relief with the termination of the suspense in great outbursts of applause and cheers.

This may sound a trifle overstated but it is the bare truth and not one tenth what the most staid critics in all the big cities have said about it over and over. Its record is the most phenomenal ever made by a theatrical attraction in America and it is a daily or nightly occurrence to see bankers, society women and school-boys spontaneously join in the applause which rocks the theatre.

It is presented by the finest cast that ever assembled for a screen presentation and in addition to the plaintive picture of Anna Moore as depicted by Lillian Gish and the manly David of Richard Barthelmess The other characters are played by Burr McIntosh, Mary Hay, Kate Bruce, Lowell Sherman, Creighton Hale, Mrs. Morgan Belmont, Edgar Nelson, George Neville, Vivia Ogden, Florence Short, Mrs. David Landua, Josephine Bernard, Emily Fitzroy, Patricia Fruen and many others.

SARNIA PRESBYTERIAL W. M. S.

The Eighth Annual meeting of the Sarnia Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society will be held in the Presbyterial Church, Parkhill, on Wednesday and Thursday, May 10th and 11th, 1922. The opening session commences at 3.30 p.m. on Wednesday. There will be a public meeting on Wednesday at 8 p.m., with Rev. A. Shepherd presiding.

The two sessions of Thursday commence at 9.30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Addresses will be given by Mrs. Page of the General Board; Mrs. F. Rae, McKenzie, B.D. Homan, China. The program is full of interesting topics and the meeting should prove one of great benefit to all who attend.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nash Complete Fifty Years of Married Life and Celebrate the Event Surrounded by Their Children.

An event of unusual interest occurred in our midst on Friday of last week when Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nash two of the early settlers of Watford, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, surrounded by their children and grandchildren.

All day long the venerable couple received the numerous friends who called to congratulate them on completing the half century of wedded life, all of whom were served with refreshments. At 8 o'clock in the evening, a lavish and substantial full course dinner was served which embraced some luxuries unknown 50 years ago. The rooms and table decorations were roses, hyacinths, carnations and trumpet daffodils. The children and grandchildren presented Mr. and Mrs. Nash with a purse of gold accompanied by a handsomely embossed address, as follows:

To our Father and Mother:—"On this your Golden Wedding day, we gather here, not only to honor you, but also as a manifestation of our appreciation and gratitude, and as a loving remembrance of this event we ask you to accept these presentations, and with them God's richest blessings of health and comfort for many future years."

Your loving children and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Shay
Mr. and Mrs. E. Silence and Edward and Robert
Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Nash, and Stewart
Mr. and Mrs. S. B. White, and Vernon, Burton, Alfred and Edward
Mr. Alfred Nash.
Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Nash

The address was read by the youngest son and the presentation of a basket of golden roses and gold pieces was made by their youngest grandchild.

Mr. Nash made a neat and appropriate reply on behalf of himself and wife, expressing their appreciation of the kindness and loyalty of their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Nash are both natives of England. Mrs. Nash's maiden name was Levia Benjafeld. They were married in St. Michael's church London, Eng., on April 23rd, 1872, by Rev. Mr. White, rector. Eight days after their marriage they emigrated to Canada, coming direct to Watford, where they have remained to the present time, highly esteemed residents. Their six children and seven grandchildren (all boys) were present at the anniversary dinner and a very happy time was spent by all.

A feature of the event was the attendance of the bridesmaid, Mrs. G. Simpson of Waukegan.

Mr. and Mrs. Nash wish to extend to their many friends thanks for their loving remembrances and good wishes and assure them that the same are fully appreciated.
