OME HISTORICAL ANTIQUES. Our thanks are due to friends who have faced in our hands some (to us) valuable orical and other documents conne with the early settlement of the County.

Among these were :--1. A journal or diary by the late Eben people bearing that name. Although many of the events jetted down in this diary do not pessess any special historical value, many of them have reference to persons and things of very considerable interest. For instance many references are made in that period. The writer was a land surweyor, farmer and cordwainer, and resided assortment of Gentlemen's Scarfs, Collars, Cuffs, Cashmere Mufflers and Silk Hand-Ebenezer Felch, jr., whose father was etill alive in 1776, a fact not before ascersained by us, and he had a son Ebenezer, who was born in 1764, and appears, from a ndum in the diary, to have been the first born, Daniel, who was born in $776, built the house now occupied by Miss Bathia Bent. His daughters, Esther end Annie, were born in 1769 and 1771 reequently born. The references to conoraneous farmers and neighbors are hany, and more or less valuable. We may
