A GIGANTIC WOODEN STATUE.

In the Japanese capital there is a gigantic image of a woman, made of wood and plaster, and dedicated to Hachiman, the god of war. In height it measures 54 feet, the head alone, which is reached by a winding staircase in the interior of the figure, being large enough to comfortably hold twenty persons. The figure holds a huge wooden sword in one hand, the blade of the weapon being 27 ft. long, and a ball 12 ft. in diameter in the other. Internally, the model is fitted up with an extraordinary anatomical arrangement, which is supposed to represent the different portions of the brain. A fine view of the country is obtained by looking through one of the eyes of the figure. The admission to all parts of the structure is two cents.
