

THE LAND WE LIVE IN.

THE WISEACRE.

WHEN you have chosen the proper way,
 And the proper thing to do,
 There's sure to be some fool to say:
 "I wouldn't if I were you."

THE ALDERMAN.

THE greater part of him is steal,
 Yet much is brass, and too, 'tis said,
 That often in some little deal
 His will of iron, by gold, is lead.

SUGGESTIONS FOR A STAINED GLASS WINDOW TO BE PLACED IN A FASHIONABLE
 NEW YORK CHURCH.

An Englyshe Nobelman Condescendaynce to be roadyed
 by Certain Americayns.