

Administration.—A Government Administration.

Public service.—A service for the use of the public in general.

International service.—A telecommunication service between offices or stations of different countries or between stations of the mobile service, unless these latter are of the same nationality and are within the limits of the country to which they belong. An internal or national telecommunication service, which is capable of causing interference with other services outside the limits of the country in which it operates, is considered as an international service from the point of view of interference.

Restricted service.—A service which may only be used by specified persons or for particular purposes.

Mobile service.—A radiocommunication service effected between mobile stations and land stations and between mobile stations themselves, special services excluded.
