Company Summary

Established in 1986, IAF BioChem International Inc. is a Canadian-owned pharmaceutical company committed to the research, development, manufacturing and distribution of products for the diagnosis, prevention and treatment of diseases involving the immune system. The company's initial product, the HIV-1 and HIV-2 AIDS diagnostic test kit is marketed worldwide. IAF BioChem is currently developing a number of viral and bacterial diagnostic tests based on the company's epitope synthesis technology. Additionally, ongoing extensive research programs include the eventual manufacture of vaccines and more recently, the discovery of nucleoside analogs for AIDS therapy.

IAF BioChem's AIDS diagnostic test kits are capable of detecting anti-HIV antibodies with 100 per cent sensitivity.
