

April 12, 1933.

Howard Murray, Esq., O.B.E.,
Aldred Building,
Montreal.

Dear Howard,

I know that you will agree with me that it is always wiser to at once straighten out things that may lead to misunderstandings.

I understand that it was the responsibility of the M.R.T. to arrange for the Quebec elimination contests for the Drama Festival and that organization did approach the McGill Players' Club, who promised to compete and then withdrew, on account of examinations.

The point I wish to make is that the Players' Club is not the University, and our Department of English feels that it has been ignored. Whether it would have entered the competition or not is another thing, but after all, it is by the courtesy of the Faculty of Arts and the Department of English that the M.R.T. occupies Moyse Hall. They notice in the press accounts of other universities competing, and they have come to me about it.

Ever yours faithfully,

Principal.