

be enhanced throughout the Dominion. In other words, they do not know the people of the West as they should. Not an unprejudiced observer of the great West of Canada but can see the people have noble ideals, great respect for law, and keener sense of responsibility of power, than the older Provinces.

The policy of the Canadian Government in the not remote future, will be noticeably influenced by the West, and the people of the East and West should know each other better than they do at present. The Ministers, during the hiatus between the Parliamentary sessions, would gain much useful knowledge by devoting some of their vacations in the Great West of Canada, and learn something of the heritage of the Dominion, of which at present their knowledge is very superficial. The experiment would be exhilarating and most astonishing to many.

THE MOST REVEREND JOHN JOSEPH LYNCH, THE LATE ROMAN CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOP, TORONTO.

As a Prelate he was liberal to a degree almost unprecedented in the history of the hierarchy of the Church.

Though one of the most devout of Catholics, and a sincere advocate from conviction of the
