To Fit His Complaint.

Chicago Evening Post.

"The doctor looked serious.
"You should be very careful for at least a month," he said.
"Is it as bad as all that?" asked the patient, anxiously.
"If the result is to be as satisfactory as I would like to have it, you cannot follow the rules that I lay down too carefully."
"I will do exactly as you say," said the now thoroughly alarmed patient.
"A man eating too heartily."
"Much too heartily. You should eat simpler food, and not so much of it. If you follow my advice you will cut your butchers' and grocers' bills just about in half."
"I'll do it, doctor."
"You ought to take more exercise, too," continued the physician. "How do you go to your office now?"
"On the street cars."
"Stop it at once. You must walk to and from your office every day, rain or shine. Do you ever go to the theatre?"
"Quite often."
"You mustn't do it while under my care. How about smoking?"
"I smoke, of course, but only in moderation."
"Don't smoke at all," instructed the physician. "Throw away all your cigars and don't buy another for thirty days, at least, or I'll throw you out the case."
"I'll do it, doctor, but—but—"
"Do you drink?"
"Occasionally, but I—"
"Stop it entirely."
"A little claret on the table now and then ought not to—"
"Not a drop at any time."
"All right, doctor. What next?"
"Nothing. Follow these instructions closely for thirty days, and by the time—"
"Yes," said the patient, eagerly.
"By that time what?"
"By that time," repeated the doctor, "you ought to have saved enough to pay me the balance due on that little bill you have owed me for a matter of about eighteen months. Good-bay."

AT THE GRAND.

Last night's performance at the Grand Opera House illustrated the expression "taken by storm," for the clever presentation of "The Tornado" completely captured the large audience, winning the most liberal and hearty applause. While the scenic and mechanical effects, representing the approach of the hurricane, the collision at sea and the dissecting room, were wonderfully realistic, the acting throughout was good. The company is evenly balanced and each part in the play well taken. Tragedy and comedy are intermingled throughout the piece in such a way that the interest never flags from the opening lines until the curtain falls.

—The company appears again Saturday afternoon and evening in Thomas' four-act comedy-drama, "The Burglar." Tonight, however, the play will mystify and amuse the patrons of the Grand.

REWARDED FOR BRAVERY.

A large gathering yesterday afternoon in the assembly room of the London Collegiate Institute witnessed the presentation of Royal Canadian Humane Society diplomas to three brave boys, Frank McKenzie, Leonard Parker and Fred Adams, who rescued their companion, Alceas Simons, from drowning in the River Thames last January, when he broke through the ice.

Judge Elliot presided, and introduced Mrs. Wood, of Toronto, who delivered an address full of tender feeling and humane advice. She explained the principles and practices of the Humane Society, and spoke of its growth and influence for good in Toronto.

The Dean of Huron moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Wood. Rev. Canon Dunn, of whom it was stated that 22 years ago he earned a certificate for saving a life, seconded the motion in a short speech highly eulogistic of the society and its aims.

Mrs. Wood then presented the diplomas to the three boys, who were warmly applauded.

School Trustees Hunt, Sanders and Wilkins were present.

CANADIAN ORDER OF ODDFELLOWS.

At the last regular meeting of the Royal Star of the West Lodge, No. 15, there was a good and profitable time spent, all the officers' chairs being filled. A committee was appointed to meet the other two lodges of the city to make arrangements to give the grand master, Bro. T. A. Wardell, a good, loyal reception on the 7th of December, when he will pay his official visit to London. The audit for the last quarter showed that the lodge was still gaining financially, and in members. Although it has not had many converts to bring the lodge back to the public, it is growing in a quiet way, and will add three members at the next meeting. The audit, loyal reception on the 7th of December. The lodge was honored with a number of visitors, among whom was the district deputy grand master, Bro.

PRESENTATION TO DR. VERRINDER.

The Chatham Banner of Thursday this describes a presentation to Dr. Verrinder, for many years a resident of this city: "Last night members of St. Joseph's choir, who have been under the direction of Dr. Verrinder, called on him at his residence and presented him and his wife with an address, expressive of their esteem, also a beautiful china tea set. Dr. Verrinder has been director and organist at St. Joseph's Church for upwards of three years, and retires the last of this month. The address was given by Wm. Primeau, and the presentation of the tea set made by Mrs. Rosa D. Primeau. Dr. Verrinder, though overcame with surprise and emotion at this new proof of their esteem and respect shown towards himself and Mrs. Verrinder, thanked them in a few short words, hoping that their present relations, though broken up in one way, would always continue in a friendly manner that has attended their connection hitherto."
