In the town hall, where the banquet was held, the decorations of bunting, palms and flowers were gorgeous. Choice music was furnished throughout the evening by the I. O. O. F. brass band of this town, and an excellent repast was supplied by Caterer Charles Kennedy, proprietor of the Atlantic House. Samaritan Lodge was opened at 7:30, is firmer. Millfeed is steady at $12 for and the general business disposed of. Then the grand master and grand lodge visitors were received with grand hon-ors. A part of the programme, which excited the warmest admiration for the excellent work of Crampton Lodge followed. It was the exemplification of initiation- secret and dramatic workby Star Lodge, No. 304, Crampton. The work was surprisingly good. The conferring of the third degree was then exemplified by Samaritan Lodge in a most efficient manner. At 10 o'clock the lodge closed and the assembly adjourned for supper. When justice was done to the excellent spread the toast list was introduced by the chairman of the banquet, Bro. Joseph Gibson. After "The Queen," and "The Army and Navy" were duly honored, Dr. McKay, M.P.P., replied in a lively vein of humor to the toast to "The Dominion Parliament and Ontario Legislature." "The Grand 'Master" was very ably responded to by Bro. J. A. Young. "The Grand Lodge of Ontario and the Sovereign Grand Lodge" brought some witty and able speeches from J. King, Toronto, grand secretary; R. H. Parrie, of Fergus, grand conductor; don, grand lodge solicitor, whose address was very important.

Rev. Bro. E. R. Hutt, the vice-chair- largest majority he ever had. man, then took charge of the toast list, and made some pointed remarks. "Our PRAISE FOR THE HOSPITAL. Guests" elicited a speech brimfull of humor from D. W. Blackwell, P. D. D. G. M., and able speeches from Byron McCarthy, Thamesford; H. S. Shaw, of Dorchester, and others. "The Ladies" were gallantly championed by Mr. Cunningham, of Thamesford.

During the evening catchy songs were rendered by Messrs. Oliver and Kirkpatrick, of Ingersoll, and others.

This clown, being painted and got up for the occasion, is introduced to the patrons of the show, before whom he does his best in the display of both physical and mental abilities. The average clown of the past has had the credit of truthfulness in his witticisms, but necessity knows no law. Something had to be done at that meeting, for the truths uttered from the Liberal platform the night before were calculated to sink their ship, and true to the instincts and tactics of the local brood, they at once had recourse to Sudden Death of a Guest at the Dominion House.

Mr. J. W. Clyne, of Washingham Center, Retired in Good Health, But Died Before Morning.

Mr. J. A. Clyne, of Walsingham Center, was found dead in his bed this morning at the Dominion House, cornight, saying that he wished to catch a train this morning. As he did not get up in time one of the hotel employes went to his room and found him cold in death. Coroner Flock was summoned and investigated the affair. He found that the deceased had vomited a little during the night, but had gone to bed perfectly sober, and there death had resulted from natural causes. Deceased was about 38 years of age and the proprietor of a saw mill at Walsingham Center. He paid frequent business trips to London, and had been here about two weeks ago, when he was apparently in the best of health. Prior to taking charge of the saw mill at Walsingham Center he ran mill at Clear Creek, also in Norfolk county. He leaves a widow and some children.

Toronto Woman Tramp With a Police Record.

Stole an $18 Overcoat and Pawned It for 75 Cents-The Pair Go Down-A Robe Thief Gets a Month.

Mary Myers, alias Mary McMullen and several other names, is 50 years, John Myers, travels from one place to a train as well as any tramp alive. Mary's name originally was McMullen, and for many years she sailed out of Toronto harbor as a cook on board different vessels. Yesterday Mary and Meyers called for drinks at the Grand Pacific Hotel, and then took a seat in the sitting-room. While the boarders were at dinner Mary picked up Mr Henry's overcoat, and, accompanied by John, proceeded to Fox's pawn shop, where they pawned the coat for 75 cents. The garment was valued at $13. John put the whole responsibility on Mary's shoulders for disposing of the coat, but did not hesitate to take the 75 cents from Mr. Fox. Both Mr. and Mrs. Meyers were sent down for two months. Mary was here about one year ago with another husband, whose face was covered with whiskers of a golden hue and who called himself McCallum.

James Vrooman, a tin peddler, was charged by Thos. Mashinter with stealing a robe from his cutter on the market Saturday, Jan. 29, between 7 and 8 o'clock. Vrooman took the robe and drove to George Shoebottom's store in South London, where he sold it to Ray Robinson for $2, saying that he bought the article from an Indian for two tin pails, a teapot and a dollar bill. Vrooman was found guilty and sentenced to one month in jail. Vrooman was arrested on Dec. 21 last, and on this occasion 50 cents in coppers was found in his pockets. Thos. Murray, an old offender, went down for two months as a drunk. Mike Malone and Edward Wilson, charged with stealing hats, were remanded until Monday.
