BIG STRIKE IN TORONTO CITY MAY SOON END

Strikers Ask For Reopening of Negotiations.

MEETING CALLED TODAY

Mayor Church Says It Only Requires a Little Give and Take on Both Sides.

[Special and Canadian Press.] TORONTO, June 2.—An early collapse of the sympathetic strike in Toronto is anticipated. An indication of this was given this afternoon by representatives of the striking unions holding a conference with the mayor in the latter's office and requesting his aid to reopen negotiations with the employers in the metal trades with a view to a satisfactory adjustment of the differences existing between them and the men. Another conference will be held in the mayor's office tomorrow morning.

Mayor Church this evening expressed optimism as to the outcome. He said he was confident an agreement could be arrived at.

Needs a Little Give and Take. "They were very near a settlement in Ottawa," he was said, "and it requires just a little conciliation on both sides to bring it about."

Three prominent local labor men are taking part in the preliminary negotiations. President K. C. Brown of the metal trades council, which started the sympathetic strike, Fred Brantford, frequently labor representative on arbitration boards, and R. Harper.

Shipyard Men Would Return. Mayor Church is responsible for the statement that a strong representation of employees in the shipyards, who joined the strike, are willing to go back to work if the sympathetic strike is called off.

The seriousness of the present labor unrest in Toronto, which has paralyzed the metal trades industry, tied up work on more than 1,500 buildings in the central business district, and has closed the clothing trades, and has closed the shipbuilding yards, is realized by the many who are affected, according to Mayor Church.

However, R. C. Brown, chairman of the metal trades council, declared today that officials of the street railway industry are anxious to defuse the strike by offering the metal trades council property to their meeting, nor had they told it that the metal trades council would stand by the street railwaymen until their demands were settled.

Today Mayor Pion of the Street Railway Company said he did not know where the metal trades council was, but he would be glad to meet them if they would meet the wage demands of the men, which will be made when the agreement expires on June 16. The strikers realize that their chance of success is upon their ability to tie up private industry, because of the attitude of the public utilities, and are covering all to do this.

Meetings are being held to organize all classes of workers. The leaders, they believe, the statements of Mr. Brown and Mayor Pion, endeavor to persuade the strikers to return to work.

Methodist Church Involved. The quarterly board of St. Paul's Methodist Church, of which Rev. W. H. Hincks is pastor, is to ask Rev. Dr. Brown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, for the definition of the term "social revolution" which is embodied in a resolution which the conference passed in Hamilton last fall.

"If Dr. Brown, sitting as a court, cares to tackle it, he may do so," said Dr. Hincks. "If not, there is a court of appeal, composed of men who are judges and lawyers, and experienced clergy, and these might take up the issue."

There is a feeling among members of the Methodist Church that the conference in its resolution may have gone too far. This feeling is said to be due to the general unrest and the repeated reference in labor circles to the resolution of the conference.

Firemen Not Sympathy Strikers. Toronto firemen, having appeared before the board of control in the morning, where their representatives said that their union would not be deferred two weeks, so that they might escape the impression that they struck in sympathy with the metal trades, there was nothing for the council to discuss at its special meeting today.

The deferred ultimatum expires on June 16, when the street railway men are ready to strike. Both unions are in the public utilities council.

There must be in the neighborhood of 15,000 workmen idle in the city at the present time.

The closing of the shipbuilding yards, which will be a fact if there is no settlement of the marine trades federation demands tomorrow, since boiler-makers and shipbuilders would be forced out, throws 2,000 workers out of employment.

The carpenters' strike affects 5,000, while the garment workers' action drives 4,000 into unemployment.

The metal trades strikers number at least 4,000.

An Effort to End Strike. The joint industrial council of the building trades met again this afternoon. The labor representatives attended, but there was no statement forthcoming following the meeting. As a last-minute attempt to settle the strike between the metal trades workers and their employers, W. E. Dillon of the Builders' Exchange called the five labor representatives to a meeting, and they agreed to a resolution to call upon the Government to enact a 48-hour week and recognize collective bargaining. The message was sent to the Government, and Mr. Dillon asked for the privilege of addressing the conference of workers, employers and civic officials who are endeavoring to settle the metal trades strike. This was refused him, and Mr. Dillon then expressed the opinion that the joint industrial council might as well make out of existence if the Government was not prepared to accept the views of a board which it had constituted.

AUSTRIAN DELEGATES SHOW CIVILITY IN RECEIVING TERMS

Attitude Is in Marked Contrast To That of the Germans.

DR. RENNER REPLIES

Thanks Allies For Food Received—Says It Saved Nation.

St. Germain, June 2.—Austria was today given fifteen days to reply to the terms of peace presented by the Allied nations.

M. Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, was the first prominent figure to arrive today at the meeting, at which the terms of peace were presented.

The council of four held a brief meeting before going to St. Germain this morning. Premier Orlando of Italy being present. During the meeting the Adriatic question was discussed.

The Austrian representatives arrived at 12:22 o'clock, entering the chamber by a rear entrance. The delegates were dressed in conventional morning dress. The Austrians were escorted in by an Italian officer.

Immediately upon their arrival at 12:22 o'clock the session was formally opened by M. Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, immediately began his address.

Many Are Present. M. Clemenceau spoke for only three minutes. The hall was densely packed, many of the secretaries having been admitted to the chamber, and the denseness of the throng detracted somewhat from the impressiveness of the ceremony.

The entire peace treaty was not presented to the Austrians today and the fifteen-day stipulation with regard to the reply refers only to the portion of the terms handed them to today's session.

Premier Clemenceau spoke in French. His remarks were translated into English, then into Italian, and then into German.

Premier Clemenceau's brief remarks were confined to explaining the limit for the reply and the method of further negotiations and proceedings.

"Members of the Austrian delegation," he said, "I shall have reservations to make, but it constitutes the principal work, which you can forthwith deliberate."

Chancellor Speaks. Paul Dussan, secretary of the peace conference presented the terms to the Austrians at 12:37 o'clock. Dr. Renner, the Austrian chancellor, and head of the delegation, then began an address in French.

He opened with a complaint at the delay of the presentation of the peace terms. "The chancellor declared," he said, "the Republic was entirely free from the Hapsburg dynasty. It would never have declared war itself, he said. The chancellor concluded his address at 12:50 o'clock."

Dr. Renner stood while reading his speech, and his attitude, like that of the entire Austrian delegation, was extremely courteous and dignified. He was dressed sharply in white with that of Count von Broderhoff, Kantzau and the Germans at Versailles.

The conciliatory tones of Dr. Renner apparently created a good impression on the Allied delegates. The Austrian members seemed quite friendly.

Dr. Renner expressed gratitude for the food relief that had come from the Allied food commission. He promised to do his best to bring about a peace on the basis presented.

"Our state rests in your hands," said Dr. Renner in his speech, "and we hope before the conscience of the world that the Allied nations exercise this power."

Wants Wilson's Principles. Dr. Renner made appeal to the principles of the League of Nations, which the armistice was asked and granted, and alluded to the present sufferings of Austria. It was only thanks to the generosity of the Hoover commission that the life of the Austrian population had been saved, he said.

Dr. Renner asked for a peace of right and justice, and for assistance to tide over the trouble. He said he would examine the terms of the Allies' loyalty, and his best to work out a peace on such a basis.

The new republic of Austria was free from the old, unfortunate traditions of the Hapsburg monarchy, and from the horrible crimes of 1914. Dr. Renner said. He declared that Austria desired to take her modest part in the work of the League of Nations.

The chancellor said commissions had been formed in Vienna to regulate the division of the public property of the monarchy among the new states. "We hope to explain to you here this status of Austria and its states of the old monarchy," he added.

Dr. Renner will probably go to Switzerland tomorrow.

After Dr. Renner's address, Premier Clemenceau asked if anyone else desired to speak. There was no response, and he declared the ceremony ended.

WILL AUDIT BOOKS. WINDSOR, June 2.—Robert Shell of Clarkson, Betworth & Gordon, chartered accountants of Toronto, has been appointed to audit the books of the Southwestern, Windsor and Andoverburg Railway, to determine if higher fares are necessary to allow the employees increased wages.

ULTIMATUM BY WINNIPEG MOB TO PREMIER

Norris Has Till Today To Comply With Demands.

CROWDS GETTING ROWDYISH

Drivers Are Pelted With Stones—Raid on Citizens' Committee Thwarted.

[Special and Canadian Press.] WINNIPEG, June 2.—For the third time in rapid sequence returned soldiers and strikers called on Premier Norris at the parliament buildings today and threatened him with serious consequences if he did not enact legislation, which the speakers claimed, would settle the strike. He was given until tomorrow to comply, just as the city council is given until Tuesday to withdraw its ultimatum to the police that in future they must recognize the police commission as their supreme authority.

The police will probably decline tomorrow to do so.

Mayor Gray states he will see the city is protected, which means calling out the military.

Today the parade to parliament numbered eight to ten thousand. All are very noisy.

The railway workers refused today to go back to work. The ultimatum to them expired at 11 p.m.

Indulge in Stone-throwing. Attacks by stone-throwing on drivers is going on all over the outskirts of the city.

The trainmen's mediation board is making progress at metal workers' conference.

Premier Norris of Manitoba, and his cabinet were requested to resign by speakers of the delegation of returned soldiers, strikers and strike sympathizers, who took possession of the provincial legislative chamber for the third time today.

Premier Norris told the crowd that he would not give up his office, but that he would use every effort to obtain legislation which might tend to improve industrial conditions in Manitoba.

Demand Special Session. After the speakers in the crowd demanded Premier Norris' resignation, on the ground of incompetency to deal with the strike situation, others demanded that Norris and his cabinet arrange for a special session of the Provincial Legislature to pass laws making collective bargaining compulsory. The crowd told the premier that they "would be back tomorrow for his answer."

The paraders then marched across the Red River to St. Boniface to interview the mayor and city council. Some of the city employees of St. Boniface have been on strike.

Try to Raid Committee. This morning, prior to their visit to the Parliament Buildings and shortly after executives of the railway brotherhoods, attempting to mediate some of the questions involved in the Winnipeg strike, met the crowd, numbering several hundred, gathered in front of the city hall. They told Mayor Charles F. Gray they were going to visit Parliament.

ment for the third time, and that they "would visit the board of trade and newspaper offices on their way." True to Their Promise. While parading the downtown streets the mob tore a sign placed by the citizens' committee from the board of trade building. Policemen and detectives prevented the crowd from forcing its way into the building.

ANIMAL STATUES

The Sparks' Circus, which is tied to give two exhibitions here at Queen's Park Wednesday, June 11, have many novelties and new features this season, among which is the justly famous Woodford's Animal Statues.

This display consists of snow-white Arabian stallions and pedigreed white English setter dogs. There are three of these acts, exactly alike, one in each ring, and from an artistic sense easily hold the position of the most beautiful display of the entire circus program.

A number of different famous hunting scenes, and the wardrobe, trappings and paraphernalia being in the purest of white, give an appearance of marble that leaves a lasting impression of beauty with the audience.
