PARIS, May 19.—Almost every tour-is a bachelor, many times a mil-lonaire, and lives in a princely resi-dence. He bought Millet's "Angelus" "1815." In his deciling years he has become eccentric and his chief commer ment park established here. For several weeks past a small army of workmen have been preparing for this season, which will without doubt be the most successful in its history. When the public flock over there on Monday they will see much that is new and novel. Among the innovations is the Crystal Maze, an old fun-making device with many modern improvedevice with many modern improve-ments, until now it is one scream of laughter from the entrance to the exit. Then there is the "Human Whirl," an-other hilarious device for the children, where they can have more fun than they would have with a cage of live monkeys. The pretty little Gem Thea-tre, which will seat about four hun-dred nearly is control of the seat about four hundred people in comfort, will be com-pleted for the opening. Some of the old devices which catered best to the public and created most amusement have been retained. There is the

THE TORONTO WORLD

Nominate Someone

One hundred dollars in gold will be awarded to the person nominating the winner of the First Grand Capital Prize in the World $15,000 Prize Contest.

Welcome Your Opportunity

A number of candidates have been nominated from the several districts, but the contest has hardly started as yet. Many more will enter the race within the next four weeks and you should be one of the number. It is very important that you begin work at once. Don't spend your time clipping the coupon in each issue, but go out and secure paid-in advance subsriptions to The Toronto World. Of course the coupons are worth ten votes each, but a new subscription for even one month is worth thirty times as much. A new subscription for The Daily and Sunday for one year instead of being worth only twelve times as much as one month's subscription is worth twenty times as much. You can readily see the advantage of securing new paid-in-advance subscriptions. A little judgment, a little confidence in your own ability and a little work will win the prize of your choice.
