INTERESTING CASE HEARD YESTERDAY

Dr. J. T. Hazelwood Brings Action Against James E. Cowan Attorney at Law.

A case with some peculiar features, was tried yesterday before Judge Forbes, and judgment reserved. The action was brought against James E. Cowan, attorney-at-law, by Dr. J. T. Hazelwood, of Carleton, to recover the difference between $145 and $200, which he alleges is due him as the balance of a claim against the city.

Dr. R. Armstrong appeared for Dr. Hazelwood. It came out in the plaintiff's evidence that on Thanksgiving day, 1907, as he was driving along the street in Carleton, his carriage was upset, he being thrown out and his arm fractured. He put the matter in J. E. Cowan's hands to apply to the common council for a settlement. He also alleged that it was the understanding that Mr. Cowan was to receive $50 as his fee.

Negotiations, he said, were opened between Mr. Cowan and the council, and one day Dr. Hazelwood alleges Mr. Cowan called him up by telephone and asked him what was the smallest sum he would take in settlement. The doctor said that he answered $150 and subsequently Mr. Cowan offered him that amount, remarking at the same time that he thought he ought to have $10. There was some disagreement about it, and finally they split the difference, the doctor accepting $145, and Mr. Cowan keeping $55. Some time after, Dr. Hazelwood said, he knew that his claim had been passed by the common council, not for $150, but for $200, hence he had brought the action.

Dr. Hazelwood in his evidence swore that Mr. Cowan had told him that before he could get Hazelwood's claim passed he had been obliged to "fix" some of the members of the city council.

Mr. Cowan also gave evidence but was not questioned on this point. Judge Armstrong placed Ald. Frink on the stand and the alderman stated that he remembered the case quite well. Dr. Hazelwood's claim for $200 had been passed but the alderman denied emphatically that there was any take-off in the matter to any member of the common council. James E. Toole, a clerk in the chamberlain's office, also gave evidence. He said that he had drawn a check for $200 in Dr. Hazelwood's claim against the city. He had no knowledge that any part of the money was paid to any member of the common council and did not believe that any such thing took place.

Judge Forbes said this morning that judgment would be delivered on Tuesday.

ECHO ANSWERS "WHERE"

The Moncton Transcript has a cartoon in its issue of yesterday which shows Hon. George E. Foster in the political graveyard weeping over the political graves of Bennett, LeFevre, Fowler and Pope, while he recites this mournful dirge: "Where is now the Merry Party, I remember long ago; Bennett, Fowler, 'Dear LeFevre' I will miss them all I know; And poor Pope he too has left me, To the tomb they've gone to stay Sad and lone I'm left to wander Far away—far away!"

R. H. Macdonald

On Oct. 19th at Belyea's Cove, R. H. Macdonald died after an illness of two weeks. He was stricken with paralysis while at work in the field. The deceased was a life long resident of Belyea's Cove, being in his seventy-first year and will be greatly missed in the community. He was a consistent member of the Upper Wickham United Baptist Church with which he united thirty-five years ago. He is survived by five children, Mrs. Harry Belyea of Wickham, Mrs. A.
