The prize winners were: Mrs. Lawson, ladies' bean toss, fancy willow table; Chas. Barnhill, air gun, set of carvers; Chas. Williams, slug gun, library lamp; Henry Byers, nine pins, fancy table; Chas. Compton, bean toss, fancy wooden rocker.

The first donation to the new club formed at the Centennial school grounds as an outcome of the playground movement was received today. It is a fine new basket ball of the official size and requirements and was donated by the playground committee. The club desires through the press, to thank the donors for their greatly appreciated gift.

CENTENNIAL GIRLS' CLUB

HOLDS ITS FIRST MEETING

Flourishing Juvenile Organization

Which is An Outgrowth of the Supervised Playgrounds.

The first regular meeting of the Centennial Girls' Recreation Club was held last evening, Aug. 13. The meeting was opened at 7 o'clock by the president, T. S. Hill, in the chair. Roll was called, and 25 members responded to their names, excused for two of the absentees were received.

The president addressed the meeting and briefly presented the work and object for which they were banded together. The motto: "Work well, play well," was explained and the results to be obtained by order and promptness at work and at play were pointed out and the cultivation of a cheery, happy willingness to do one's part.

Election of officers was then taken up, and Capt. Ada Wetmore and Mary McCarthy were appointed secretaries. The following officers were duly elected: First vice president, Mary Killorn; second vice president, Susan Withers; secretary, Grace Ferguson; treasurer, Mary Kelly.

A payment of five cents per month for dues was decided upon.

No further business was taken up at the hour for dismissal (8 o'clock) had arrived. The meeting then adjourned to meet on Wednesday evening, Aug. 21, at 7 o'clock.

DISPUTE OVER RIGHT OF WAY

Dr. Gilchrist and Frank Watson, of the north end are in a lively dispute over the question of a right of way. Mr. Watson is in partnership with his brother, James Watson, in the grocery business on the cor. Main and Elm streets. They have a right of way, it appears in connection with Dr. Gilchrist in the rear of their store. The doctor's dining room faces on this space in the rear and the latter alleges the Watsons have been throwing waste material in this space, which, in view of the proximity of the dining room window, is very unpleasant. Yesterday some boxes and material was removed by the doctor, who had a load of wood put in its place. This in return was scattered by Mr. Watson and his clerk, hence the trouble, which will possibly find its ending in the courts.

EVIDENTLY A FRAUD

Apparently, at least, St. John has been visited by a third party, who with a pious face and smooth tongue is fraudulently soliciting money for church purposes.

Rev. James Crisp tells of having been visited by a man giving his name as George Boyd, and soliciting subscriptions for a new church in Annandale, Queens county. The reverend gentleman asked the man the name of the postmaster at Annandale, and has since discovered that the name given was incorrect and that no new church was being erected, nor was any going to be built at Annandale.

EARL GREY AT NAUWIGEAUW

His Excellency Will Visit the Elnor Home Farm on Friday

The reception to Earl Grey at the Elnor Home farm in Nauwigewauk, is to be a unique affair. Mrs. Close, whose mother founded the home, arrived in the city yesterday and is at the Royal. She said that the children and people of the village were taking lively interest in the visit of the Governor General on Friday.

The following compose the local committee which will be in charge of the arrangements there: A. C. Fairweather, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Armstrong, Rev. A. W. Daniel, Rev. H. Whalley, Miss M. Gilbert, Miss H. Thomson, B. Hill and R. G. Jewelling.

The reception will be very informal. There will be no addresses, the Governor General merely being welcomed by Chairman Fairweather.

His Excellency will go out in an automobile and will inspect the farm and stock.

Miss Close said that through the generosity of Mrs. E. H. Bottetore of Montreal, and another, the home will be established at Docbec near St. Andrews, and a third farm is also to be established, but its location will not be announced for a few days.

A NAGGING FOR THE SNAGGERS

They are Said to Be Loitering Over Their Job Along the River.

That there is unnecessary delay and expense in connection with the contract for "snagging" the river this year, is the opinion of steamboat men at Indian town.

It might be explained that "snagging" refers to the removal of sunken timber along the route of steamers between here and Fredericton. This work is done by the tug boats.

This season the work is being undertaken by the tug boat Marguerite, and a scow with living quarters, for a crew of men is taken in tow.

One steamboat man told a Times reporter yesterday, that those who have the contract or have to do with it appear to be in no hurry to finish the job. They had, he said, made Glenwood their headquarters. No matter what part of the river the tug is working a return to Glenwood is made each evening.

"There is not the slightest necessity for this," said the steamer man "and it is a great loss of time. And I'll tell you further," said the river man, "every stick that is picked out is brought to Glenwood and landed, and after being dried and sawed, is sold to the steamer companies for fuel. Then the tug is known to be gone into place where steamers never have or never will go. For instance there were in the Jones Creek and up against a main fence so close that by returning to Glenwood each day, a great deal of extra time is consumed to complete the work."

Last year the tug Quigley, Capt. McLeod did all the work in three weeks, and now these people have been at it for four weeks with much work yet to do.

In the snagging operation, last season, the tug put the timber ashore just where it was stuck, and also tied up at night where work was completed. It can therefore easily be seen that by returning to Glenwood each day, a great deal of extra time is consumed to complete the work."

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE

A fire in the A. & I. Isaac cigar manufactory and tobacco warehouse on Princess street about nine o'clock last night, resulted in some considerable damage.

The building, which was formerly the Morley Conservatory of Music, was insured for $5,000 in the Liverpool and London and Globe, and for a like amount in the Queen. There was a heavy stock on hand, which was insured for $3,000 in the Western, London Assurance corporation, and Commercial Union. The loss in stock was heavier than in the building.

One of the chemical engines and No. 1 hose cart collided on the way to the fire, doing some slight damage.
