BOSTON GIRL LEAPS TO DEATH IN NEW YORK

Violet Bishop, Patient in Hospital, Jumps From Fourth Story Window While Delirious

New York, Aug. 26.—Violet Bishop, a twenty-one year old pneumonia patient in Presbyterian Hospital, climbed over a three foot wire guard in a window in a ward on the fourth floor at 8:30 a. m. and jumped to the ground. She died in the hospital about half an hour later, of internal injuries.

The hospital authorities said that Miss Bishop jumped from the window while in a delirium such as is usually associated with pneumonia.

Miss Bishop was a native of Boston. She was the support of a widowed mother and a graduate of the Sargent School of Physical Training. Her specialty was playground work and she was brought to New York seven months ago by Miss Margaret Shearer, the head worker of the Varick street house.

Miss Bishop was assigned to a playground at Edgewater, N. Y., as instructor. On Saturday she complained of being ill, and was sent to the Presbyterian Hospital, where it was found she was suffering from pneumonia.

ST. ANDREWS DOES 'ITS BIT'

As a result of a self-denial day held in St. Andrews on the 22nd inst., the ladies of that town have secured contributions of more than $611 for the British Sailors' Relief fund. Mr. Fenwick, the secretary of the fund, writes the local secretary that both Victoria and Vancouver have taken hold of the fund in an enthusiastic manner and have appointed strong committees.

Montreal a week's celebration at Dominion Park is being planned for the benefit of the Sailors' fund. It is to be known as "Sailors' Week."

The Man In The Street

Do You Get This?

When is a man on the right side of the street? When is on his left. This answer might appeal to some, but it did not appeal to a recent delinquent who faced the police court recently for driving on the wrong side of Main street. The alleged offender saw that he was liable to a fine of $18 for being on his right side, but on his right side meant on his left side, and by being on his left side according to law, but would be on the left side according to the position of his left and right hand. During the alleged violation, the driver of the team was told to keep to his right side. This he did, and by following the instructions of the officer he went to the right side and he should have been on the left side, when he would have escaped the arm of the law by being on his right side. The defender refused to see the difference between right, as opposite to wrong and right as opposite to left. Incidentally the "game" got the man's release and a heavy fine was allowed "to stand."

The local government seem to have forgotten that they promised to fix the Marsh Road and even went so far as to call for tenders. And still the angry motorist must go over the bumps. However, these few little bumps are in perfect accord with the rest of the roads, which the government is also supposed to be fixing.

Battle of the Giants

It is still undecided whether the street railway motorcars and conductors or the police force are superior in strength. The tie leaves room for more speculation by tug-of-war followers, and especially those who were following this particular meet, as to how to place their money for Labor Day, when the giants are scheduled to battle again. All the enthusiasts hope it will not be a tie, for those on the inside track of the police force team know that much depends upon a decision one way or the other, at the next battle.

There's a new joy in life. Matt and Jeff are with us once again.

The French soldiers must discard their beards. So declares a military order. What a joy to the St. John barbers could they get that contract, particularly at the new fifteen cent rate.

One of the real good fellows of the town owns a bit of lake property a few miles out and the boy started home there. The other day he was returning to the city when he encountered a Hackberry Finn with premature fishing outfit and something in a tin can. "What have you there, my boy," said the city man as he drew up. "Trout, sir," said the juvenile fisherman. There they were in the can and alive. A deal was quickly struck, the boy started homeward a quarter dollar to the good and the city man turned about and drove back to his lake. In the glistering waters he put the trout. "Now," said he, in close communion with himself, "she's stocked."

THREE NEW TEACHERS FOR FAIRVILLE SCHOOL

Necessary to Open a New Room Because of Increase in Attendance

On next Monday morning the Fairville schools will reopen after the holidays and a good attendance is looked for. It has been found necessary to place a new grade 3 to relieve the overcrowded class and a room upstairs in the new building has been prepared for occupancy.

This work has been done by Contractor Perry Kelly during the holidays since he has prepared a room in which not only the teacher but also the scholars should take pride as everything is entirely new.

Miss Douglas and Miss Gorman of Arthur's staff have both retired and their successors, with the teacher for the extra room make three new teachers. They are Miss Vera Smith, Miss Miss Jansson of Woodstock, and Miss Jamieson of North End.

While classes have not yet been definitely allotted by the trustees, it is likely that Miss Smith will have Grade one, Miss Jansson Grade three and Miss Jamieson Grade four.

The outside of the Point school has been nicely painted. There is no change in the teaching staff.

On Friday evening the board of trustees were in communication with the St. John Board of Health officials and it is understood the same sanitary measures adopted this year in the city will be carried out in the Fairville schools.

C. F. Chamberlain of 27 Clarence street, whose son, Private Harold Chamberlain, was killed in action on August 12, has received letters of condolence from the prime minister and members of the government and also from Hon. J. D. Hasen. Mr. Hasen's letter reads as follows:

Ottawa, Aug. 21.

Dear Mr. Chamberlain:

It was with feelings of very great regret that I learned today of the death in action on August 12, of your son, Private Harold Chamberlain.

I am writing this letter for the purpose of extending my sincere sympathy to you in your sad bereavement. Nothing of course can lessen the effect of the blow and of the sorrow caused to you and his family and intimate friends, but at the same time it is a satisfaction to know that he died serving his country, fighting in defence of those who are left at home and of the free institutions that are so dear to the heart of every Canadian and Britisher.

The letter from the prime minister and members of the government reads:

The prime minister and members of the government of Canada send their deepest sympathy in the bereavement which you have sustained.

ABUSE OF UNIFORMS WILL BE STOPPED

Government Acts to End Practice Tending to Bring Services Into Disrepute

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—As a result of abuse which has grown up since the war in connection with the wearing of military and naval uniforms, medals and the like by those who are not entitled to do so, the government has taken action to prevent a recurrence of this. Regulations have been enacted under the authority of the War Measures Act which prohibit the unauthorized wearing of uniforms, medals, etc., under pain of penalties provided. The order-in-council passed is as follows:

"Whereas, during the period of the present war there has grown up a practice which tends to bring the military and naval services into disrepute, to discourage recruiting, to weaken military discipline and facilitate the commission of frauds, the practice, namely of the wearing of military or naval uniforms and decorations and medals by persons not authorized or entitled to wear them, therefore, if any unauthorized person wears any naval or military uniform or any uniform so nearly resembling any such uniform as to be calculated to deceive or if any person without lawful authority supplies a naval or military uniform to any person not being a member of His Majesty's forces or of the Canadian militia, or if any person without authority or right wears a naval or military decoration or medal he is guilty of an offence under the criminal code and on summary conviction is liable to a penalty not exceeding $50, and in default of payment is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.
