Woman 77 Years In English Workhouse

Miss Mary Fewell, 94 years old, has decided to pass the remainder of her life in the Billericay, England, workhouse, says the Detroit News. Miss Fewell has rarely left the institution in which she has lived for 77 years, and she knows little of the ways of the world. She is in good health and takes walks about the grounds and en-

HIGHEST PEAK Piracy at Sea Reported By AFRICA IS Ship Skipper JOY STICK LONDON, Feb. 5-The Bom.

LONDON, Feb. 5—The Bombay correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that the captain of a German steamer, Nordmark, on arriving recently at Colomba, reported that a pirate ship was combing nearby seas.

Four hours from Cochin the skipper said he saw two vessels, one of which was signalling distress frantically while the other speeded off when he approached. The crew of the distressed ship said they had been attacked by the other, a pirate ship, and sought escort to Cochin. The German crew said the pirate vessel was a smart craft of British design.

It is an American cloth-covered exercise book containing two verses of poetry. There followed the names of the two climbers, Carl Von Salis and Walter Von Ruchteschell, dated February 13, 1914.

TO KEEP CLEAN. FRANKLIN, N. H., Feb. 5 — A teacher in a local kindergarten asked one of her pupils what the eyes were for and he answered "to see with." Another answered that the nose was to "blow" and still another said that he ears were "too keep clean."

PONY IS NOT SO DUMB MINDEN, Neb., Feb. 5.—Merie Jacobson was puzzled to find his pony eating grain when he went into the barn in the morning, knowing that no one had fed the animal. He watched one day and saw the pony reach across the partition between himself and the the partition between himself and the next horse and bite him. This caused the horse to snap at him and drop a mouthful of grain into the pony's box. Seeking His Body The pony then ate the grain and repeated the process.

WOMAN HAS FINE FARM LONDON, Feb. 5.—Four years ago Mrs. J. P. Price went to Rhodesia, South Africa, to seek a fortune by farming. Her only experience of farming had been gained in England during the war. Today she has developed a large area of country, her farm, in fact, become one of the show places of the country. It was visited by the Prince of Wales on his recent tour.
