Council Soon Will Consider Port Charges

The question of port charges for the coming winter will soon have to be dealt with by the Council, Commis-sioner Bullock said this morning, and he was preparing to submit a resolu-tion covering this matter. Last year the council made some reductions in the port charges in order to try and induce shippers to route more goods through this port. At the present time the Commissioner is gathering statistics covering the amount of freight through the port and the revenue derived and when this is compiled he will report to the council. The reductions made last year wer
