THE GROCERY SITUATION

The following comment on the market situation as regards food stuffs will appear in Canadian Grocer this week—
The sugar situation is one of extreme interest at the present time, and indications are that supplies will be none too heavy from now until the end of the year. The trade should urge conservation along lines suggested by Canada Food Board, otherwise enforced action may be expected.
Prices on the 1918 pack of canned salmon are out and reveal a substantial advance over last year's opening, though in some quarters the opinion was expressed that quotations are lower than had been expected.
Canned peas are also being quoted, and the lower scale of prices will be generally maintained. Canned fruit is high, cherries and gooseberries being named at higher levels than last year for new pack goods.
Montreal—This is one of the quietest weeks of the season. With a great exit from the city of holiday seekers the population is temporarily less, and the summer resort trade is having its innings. Price changes are remarkably few, and while revisions will be made for new pack canned peas and also on B. C. salmon, these are not yet worked out by the jobbing trade.
Some new fruits are arriving. As a general thing the prices of all fruits are high, and the same might be stated of vegetables. Watermelons are off the market, and Montreal melons are high in price.
The coffee outlook is brighter, as far as future supply is concerned. Shelled walnuts are still going up, but wholesale prices have not recorded any change here. Molasses still is scarce. The sugar outlook is not very rosy, but with careful conservation and observance of the regulations there will probably be ample to meet the needs.
Toronto—It is understood that arrangements are being made in Washington to permit export of prunes and peaches to Canada in limited quantities, as allotted by the Canada Food Board. Applications to the United States government for export licenses must be accompanied by a Canadian license to import. This applies to all goods, whether from spot stocks or futures. This, in a nutshell, sums up the situation as it has developed in respect to these two lines, and the feeling generally among the trade is that orders already placed will, in a large measure, come through.
Prices named on China green teas show very substantial gains over opening prices of last year. In respect to Japan, prices on second crop teas, which usually cost from four to five cents per pound less than first crop, are actually costing slightly more than first crop.
Quotations available on canned salmon for the 1918 pack show a substantial increase over opening prices of last year, with prospects of a short pack in the better grades.
Canned peas are lower for new goods, with 100 per cent. delivery expected and general run of pack considered high quality. Cherries and gooseberries follow the trend of other fruits so far packed in that high prices have been named.

Prices on rice show some revisions over figures prevailing for some time, and the tendency on all lines is upward. Stocks are in very fair shape, but replacement is becoming increasingly hard. Winnipeg—Particular mention was made last week in this report of an embargo placed by the American government on dried prunes and peaches. The situation has been considerably relieved since then, and it is believed that licenses will be obtained to export these lines into Canada.
The trade were all very much pleased to receive the news this week that canned peas had opened up much lower than they opened last year. The decline at the factory will amount to about twenty cents a dozen, but the real difference locally will be about fifteen cents a dozen, owing to the fact that freight rates are somewhat higher this year. On the other hand, pitted cherries opened up very high, in fact all fruits are expected to be higher this year. Canned tomatoes are said to have opened up in British Columbia last week about thirty-five cents a dozen below last year.
The strike of postal employees ended on Wednesday, July 31, to the great relief of everybody in western Canada. While the strike extended to other cities in the west, Winnipeg was the chief sufferer, as the strike here was continuous, and business was completely tied up. The wholesale houses who do business by catalogue suffered particularly, but no more than the mail order houses which sell direct to the consumer. The strike was no respecter of persons, for it tied up all business from the biggest to the smallest. By Saturday last things had resumed a normal state again.

HARDWARE MARKET

Hardware and Metal—Lined oil features the markets this week in a decline in some quarters of ten cents per gallon. A decided drop in the seed market of thirty-five cents over figures prevailing last week has brought this about, though the feeling generally is that little lower prices can be looked for. The situation in regard to supplies shows no material improvement, and only curtailed demand enables crushers to take care of orders.
A fifty cent advance in galvanized sheets has been made in some quarters. The question of supplies becomes increasingly difficult, and jobbers face a period when dwindling stocks are about the best they have to look forward to. Practically all sheets now being sold are going to manufacturers engaged in war work. Jobbers have served a very useful purpose, it is intimated, in looking after this demand, when otherwise a cessation of operations might have resulted from inability to get delivery from the mills.
Further advances in manufactured steel and iron products are apparent in quotations named on screw hook and strap hinges, spring butts, door hinges, and shelf brackets. The scarcity of tin plate has influenced prices of bread makers to higher levels, and new prices on sash spools for next season are up about 30 per cent.
Jobbers are in some cases qualifying orders accepted for future delivery. These are to be subject to government regulations and restrictions, advances or changes in the tariff or freight rates, and any other conditions arising out of abnormal manufacturing and labor markets which may occur between date of order and date of shipment.
Manufacturers of roofing generally are holding orders to a thirty-day basis, and store prices do not extend beyond August 31. The uncertainty as to the future is bringing about these changes in terms of sale, and it is thought little looking business will be handled for next spring as compared with past years.

QUICKER THAN A BULLET.

The Loon, Diving at the Flash of the Gun, Saves His Life.

Dippy the Loon is more often heard than seen, though to those who know the lakes of the northern United States and Canada he is familiar enough at a distance. This is especially true of those lakes deep in the green forest, for Dippy is a lover of solitude.
Dippy belongs to the order of diving birds and is often called the Great Northern Diver, because he is a very wonderful diver and swimmer. His legs are chiefly for swimming, and for this reason, are placed so far back that when standing on solid ground he appears to be upright. His feet are fully webbed and are big enough to drive Dippy through the water at great speed.
On land Dippy is so clumsy that it is with difficulty he can get about at all. He cannot rise into the air from land, and so he is seldom found more than a few feet from the water. His wings are narrow and small for his size, but once Dippy gets under way in the air he flies swiftly and far. In order to rise, he uses wings and feet—paddling over the surface of the water for some distance to get up sufficient speed for his wings to lift him. In this respect he is like an airplane which attains great speed on land or water before it can rise.
The common loon is glossy black on the upper parts, at times showing violet and green tints. Back and wings are spotted and barred with white. There are streaks of white on throat and neck. His breast and belly are pure white; his bill straight and pointed. Dippy is a big bird, being nearly three feet long. There is a black-throated loon and a red-throated loon—a very handsome fellow.
Loons feed almost exclusively on fish. They are wonderfully keen sighted and so quick in movement that they often dive at the flash of a gun and are safely under water before the shot reaches where they were swimming. People's Home Journal.

The monthly Communion Sunday of the Holy Name Society fell yesterday, and at the 7 o'clock Mass in the Cathedral the men received Holy Communion in a body. After Mass twenty-four new members were formally received into the society.
