HERE ON BUSINESS OF BIG BAPTIST CONVENTION

Rev. P. J. Stackhouse in City—Speaks Highly of John McKinnon's Work

Rev. P. J. Stackhouse is in the city today in connection with the Maritime Baptist Convention which will be held this year in Amherst, opening on Oct. 18. This is the big event of the year in the Baptist body, and a very large attendance is assured.
Mr. Stackhouse had a word to say about John McKinnon, a young St. John man who was with John Bradford in Amherst last summer, and was himself the director of playground work there in the season just closed. Mr. McKinnon is the most successful worker among boys that Mr. Stackhouse has ever seen in action.
"The boys love him," he said, "and his influence over them for good is remarkable. If he were free to come to us now we would like to have him engaged in community work."
Mr. Stackhouse says that Amherst is growing fast and is spending much money on streets, sidewalks, water and sewerage and for other public purposes. He noted also the fact that the new steel works there are turning out the steel for the structure of the new St. John post office.
Community work had been a success in Amherst, and medical inspection of the schools had produced most beneficial results.

JAMES FARLEY DEAD; VISITED HERE RECENTLY

Noted Strike Breaker Made Fortunes in This Work—Was Here Few Years Ago on Similar Mission

New York, Sept. 11—The death of James Farley, known through years of leadership as a strike breaker in many cities of Canada and the United States, was reported early today from his home in Plattsburg.

Farley headed and was generally given the credit of starting the "industry of strike breaking." Farley's profit came by a premium of so much a head paid to him for the men whom he furnished and kept in service during strikes, and in a few years he grew rich at his newly created business. He was credited with making $800,000 during the Interborough Rapid Transit strike in this city and still larger sums in later years, when he broke up strikes in Chicago, Cincinnati, San Francisco, and many other places in the United States and Canada.

Farley came to New Brunswick a few years ago in connection with labor troubles then existing in the southern part of the province. He was in St. John a time and stayed at a King Square Hotel but under an assumed name. Very few indeed knew who he was.

FINE ADDITION TO HANDSOME HOME OF THE LOCAL K. C.'S

Ready For Occupancy About First of October—Large Assembly Hall

The handsome new building of the Knights of Columbus, St. John Council No. 887 will be ready for occupancy about the first of next month. The final touches are being put to it now. The new building, which is attached to the older one of stone in front, is of brick and consists of a large assembly hall, a dining hall, kitchen, cloak rooms, bath, and ante-chambers. It is expected to prove a valuable and popular addition to the already large and beautifully appointed quarters of the knights in Colborne street, and will be greatly appreciated for large gatherings of a social nature and in the work of the council.

The large new hall is of brick nicely finished on the outside with stone facings, with 2% of 9" over the masonry from the lawn. There is another entrance at the rear, and two from the main building, upper and downstairs. The assembly room is the largest of its kind in the city. It has a clear floor space of sixty-eight by forty-eight feet, and is about thirty-five by eighteen feet. Each room is to be tastefully finished in modern style.
A new hot water heating plant will be installed by J. H. McParland & Son not only in the new building but also in the old structure. The masonry has been done by B. Mooney & Sons, the carpentry by Edward Farren, painting by James Poles and lighting by W. F. Rhea. H. H. Mott was the architect. The plans for the opening of the new hall have not yet been definitely arranged, but are being considered.
