IN THE GRIP OF COCAINE.

Victims of the Drug Are Declared to Be a Fast Growing Army. A FEARFUL MASTER. Drives Away All Sense of Shame and They Will do Anything to Get it—There Are Cocaine-Selling Druggists.

(Toronto Mail and Empire). Cocaine, says an authority, is now the great looming danger of civilization, and despite determined efforts to prevent its use for other than medical purposes, the consumption is rapidly increasing. So common has the practice of snuffing cocaine become that the slang term "snowbirds" is well understood in the underworld to apply to the cocaine "bends."

Since its victims revel in the white powder, the term is not ill chosen. What is difficult to say, but it is fairly safe to assume that any fed or vice that claims many victims on the other side of the line is sure to have some following here, the number usually preserving a constant ratio to the rate of population in the two countries. There are druggists in Toronto who could tell a tale about the "snowbirds" who are among their customers, and doctors who could speak of their fights to help some poor unfortunate break the terrible chains of the habit.

A Habit of the Great Cities. An authority is Dr. William Jay Schiefelin, president of the National Wholesale Association of the United States, president of the United Federation of Churches, the Laidy League, the American Missionary Society, chairman of the Citizens' Union, the most powerful non-partisan political organization in New York state, and chairman of the New York Committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement.
