JUNE hath 30 Days.

A voice is heard, that mortal ears hear not
 Till thou hast touch'd them; 'tis the voice of song,
 A loud Hosanna sent from all thy works;
 Which he that hears it with a shout repeats,
 And adds his rapture to the general praise.
 In that blessed moment, nature, throwing wide
 Her veil of opaque, discloses with a smile,
 The author of her beauties—who retired
 Behind his own creation, works unseen.

WASTE.

Oh! waste not then the smallest thing
 Created by Divinity;
 For grains of sands the mountains make,
 And atoms infinity.
 Waste thou not then the smallest time,
 'Tis imbecile infirmity,
 For well thou know'st, if aught thou know'st,
 That seconds form eternity.

Pictures of Father and Son.—An old woman, who showed the House and pictures at Towcester, expresses herself in these remarkable words:—"That is Sir Robert Farmer, he lived in the country, took care of his estate, built this house, and paid for it; managed well, saved money, and died rich.—That is his son, he was made a lord, took a place at court, spent his estate, and died a beggar."
