CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—A despatch to the Tribune from Kankakee, Ill., says Walter Cobb and G. W. Shields, well-known men of Kankakee, who have just returned from a 45 days' trip to the Hudson Bay region, bring back a story told by Indians of the far north that may relate to the missing explorer Andre and one of his two companions.

panions.

At Moose Factory, a Hudson Eay Trading Post at the mouth of Moose River, the men stationed there reported that a party of Indians who came down from the north last spring told of the finding of the bodies of two white men at a point 900 miles north of Moose Factory.

The story of the Indians was that the bodies were found in a basket, and that the bodies had been buried by Indians. The Indians brought nothing in support of their story, but the men at Moose Factory, Cobb ami Shields say, are inclined to believe the tale.

medicine which has been found to anmibilate the appetite for alcoholic dribts and all drugs, even in the most hopeless cases, is attracting a good deal of attention among those interested in temperance work. The medicine is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless and absolutely free from narcotics.
It leaves no evil after effects and can be carried in the pocket and taken in absolute privacy, thus dispensing with the publicity, loss of time and expense of an institute treatment.

The medicine has been tested and is

Lumber Was Taken.

(Indianapolis News,
Several years ago John Burke, who resides near Columbus, Ind., had a coffin made from a walnut tree which was felled by himself. When the coffin was finished Mr. Burke placed it in a store building belonging to Michael.
McShane, of East Columbus, and has since calmly waited for the summons which would call him to the occupancy of the coffin. Last week Mr.
McShane rented his store building to Joe Young and this made a removal of the coffin necessary. Accordingly Mr.
Burket took it out to Garland Brook Cemetery and it was placed in a vault.
