There were nine births in the city during the past week, three being males. Five marriages were recorded.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Peter's Y. M. A. will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Patronize Ungars; they give their employees a half holiday on Saturday, through June, July and August.

An I. C. R. official car passed through the city on its way to Boston. What its mission can be no one knows.

Dr. J. M. Smith removed on the first of the present month to his summer residence, the Seaside Cottage, Lancaster.

William McQuade Charles O'Hara, Thomas Coffey and Mr. Francis have returned from a fishing trip to Victoria Lake. The catch was 300 trout—all beauties.

The entire fire department of Bath, Me., is on strike because the city council has refused to increase the men's wages. The town is depending on the militia to look after its fires for the present.

The parlor car service between this city and Boston will be resumed next week. The first car will leave here Tuesday attached to the 6:45 a. m. express. The service was discontinued about Christmas last.

The last meeting of the season of the Junior League of Centenary Church was held in the school room last evening. It took the form of a social night. Mr. Thorne gave several selections on the gramophone and later refreshments were served.

The regular monthly meeting of the Slaughter House Commissioners was held yesterday afternoon. It was reported that during the month 625 head of cattle, sheep and pigs had been killed. The inspector stated that the slaughter houses and vehicles are in good condition.

Bertha Davidson, a girl of fourteen years, sought shelter at the central police station late last night. She told a sad story of neglect and abuse. She had been living with a family. She was looked after by the police for the night.

The Star is again compelled to state that no news items, no personals, no correspondence received at this office will be published unless they are accompanied by the name of the writer, which will be held in confidence.

MRS. ROBERT BLAIR DEAD.

Much sympathy will go out to the family of the late Mrs. Robert Blair. Her death is a sad one. Mrs. Blair's husband, at one time president of the St. John Gas Light Co., died several years ago. Mrs. Blair had been in excellent health until about two months ago, when a severe attack of grippe was experienced. She had improved and was felt to be on the way to full recovery when a relapse came and though everything that medical skill at the hands of Dr. Thorne and Dr. T. D. Walker and devoted nursing could do was done, she passed away during the night.

YACHTSMEN GETTING READY.

At a meeting of the executive of the R. K. Y. Club last evening, Dr. D. E. Mervyn, J. H. Finn and H. W. Thornton were elected members. The Champlain committee have all arrangements for their part in the celebration well advanced. At last night's meeting sub-committees were appointed.

A squadron committee will gather the yachts together in the harbor, a decoration committee will look after the illumination of the yachts. The costume committee will arrange the dress of the crew of the Champlain bark except the four leading characters.

JOE GANS THE WINNER.

BALTIMORE, June 3.—Joe Gans, the lightweight champion pugilist, was given the decision over Harry Cohen ("Kid" Griffin), of Brooklyn, in the seventh round of their 15 round bout before a large crowd at Madison Square Garden.

BEST PLACE TO SEE THE CITY.

Where Do You Think is the Best View?

Star Reporter Claims that Outlook
from Top of Fire Alarm
Tower Beats All.

From what place in the city can I get the best view of the city? is a question that is being continually asked residents of St. John by visiting friends and tourists. As steadily increasing numbers visit this city year by year, thanks in a great measure to the splendid work being carried on by the Tourist Association.

It has been suggested that if one should straddle the weather vane of Trinity church steeple or ascend by unknown methods to the cross on the Cathedral spire or even wait till the Centenary church steeple is built and then take a trip to the top, if it were permissible, they would command the view required. But the favorite spots are the lookout at the Park, "Red's Folly," Fort Howe and the Lancaster Heights.

The view from all these points is well worthy of the trouble in getting there, but good as these vantage points may be, there is still one in the city that is far superior and of which few citizens are aware, or perhaps, to be more correct, have never given any thought or consideration to.

The place referred to is the tower of the central police station, where hangs the big fire alarm bell, that ponderous mass of metal that summons from the various parts of the city the lads that do such heroic work in saving city property and oft human lives.

This building stands, it is done, on one of the highest parts of the city, with its massive tower affords a vantage that is unequalled.

A Star reporter happened to be in the building the other day when the men were going up to wind the machinery that manipulates the big bell after the electric current sets it in motion. A massive weight of over one thousand pounds is the power that under the dictation of the electric batteries in No. 8 fire station causes the big hammer to strike and strike again.

With each alarm the weight falls a few feet and so it is that after a certain number have been sent in it is necessary to rewind the machinery. It is like hauling up a strip cable, only a double heavy linked chain, resembling a bicycle chain, is used and it takes two men several minutes with rests, to wind up the big machine, as the drop for the weight is quite a long one.

This, however, is aside from the question in hand, the unexcelled view from the belfry. From massive cross beams, a floor above the clock like machines referred to, hangs the bell. Originally it was enclosed by heavy slats, but storms have so wrecked it that on one side a man could drive a team through, while the other sides are so demolished that an unobstructed view of the city and surrounding country is had from all sides.

It was by the side of this weather beaten bell that the reporter first realized what a magnificent view of our city and country can be had for a little trouble. Of course, it is a view not open to the general public, but it is a little effort on the part of the Tourist Association and not much money for the erection of an observation stand.

THE FIRST HALF HOLIDAY.

Today the wholesale merchants commenced closing their places of business ahead of the Saturday half holiday. The following have closed their doors: T. McAvity & Sons, Emerson & Co., W. H. H. & Co., Ltd., the S. Hayward Co., Kerr & Robertson, H. Horton & Son, John W. Addison, M. E. Agur, the McCleary Mfg. Co., J. E. Burpee, the Jas. Robertson Co., Ltd., J. J. Barry.

The Clerks' Association now have the signatures of all the clothing houses, dry goods establishments, boot and shoe stores, etc., with one or two exceptions.

The following King street wall paper dealers will close their establishments throughout the city on Saturday during June, July and August: George Nixon, Reid Bros., F. E. Holman & Co.

COLLEGES DISAGREE.

Athletic Union Between Acadia M^t.
A. and U. N. B. May Be Broken Up.

While only in its infancy, it looks as if the union of Mt. Allison, U. N. B. and Acadia colleges for the holding of annual intercollegiate sports would die, owing to apparent inability of several colleges to agree upon the rules to govern the union.

Representatives of the three colleges met here last night with the purpose of forming a permanent organization, the arrangement under which today's sports are held being only a temporary one, but the meeting resulted in a deadlock, with Mt. Allison on one side and the U. N. B. and Acadia on the other.

Under the rules which govern today's sports, only under graduates in actual attendance are eligible to participate in the sports. This Mt. Allison objected to have changed so as to allow graduates in bona-fide attendance at their institutions taking a post-graduate course to participate.

Acadia and the U. N. B. delegates objected strongly to this, and there the matter hangs. Dalhousie and law and medicine courses always plays post-graduates on its teams and so if Mt. Allison continues to hold to its present clause, there may be two college associations, Dalhousie and Mt. Allison on one, and Acadia, U. N. B., St. Francis Xavier, and possibly St. Dunstan's, of P. E. I., in the other. As the proposed rule also affects football teams, it looks as if the annual interesting games between Acadia and Mt. Allison and U. N. B. and Mt. Allison may be put an end to.

While the matter is not yet definitely settled and there are to be future discussions over the matter, the breach seems to be a big one. In the interest of amateur sport, which is having a hard enough time in these provinces, it is to be hoped that some satisfactory agreement may yet be reached.
