Ernest H. Turnbull, formerly of St. John, but now a resident of England, is visiting in this city. He will sail for home again on January 6th.

The deputy commissioner for agriculture, T. A. Peters, has returned from Port Elgin, where he inspected a very fine grist mill lately erected there by J. and C. Hickman. The mill is a three story structure with a high basement, and was built at a cost of about $10,000, having a capacity of eighty barries per day. It is run by steam power. A provincial subsidy of $1,000 will be granted the proprietors. This new mill is the largest in the province, with the exception of Sherwood's mill at Centreville, Carleton Co., which has a capacity of 100 barrels per day.

Rev. W. D. Andrews, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church, has accepted a call to Hartford, Conn., and leaves for there in January.

Announcements were received here where in transit the officials are at a subsidial and adminston it was found the money had been abstracted and a dummy substituted in its place, though by whom or where in transit the officials are at a brital form the city's plants, whereby the their secured $7,000 and vanished without leaving the faintest clue.

Having to leave the cage for a moment to go into the vault close by, both inspector and teller were dumbfounded on returning to find a parcel containing seven thousand dollars had vanished.

An investigation began immediately, but no clue was obtained, and it is believed now that some skilful and daring daylight robbers committed one of the most daring robberies recorded in Canadian crime.

Another equally daring robmery was discovered last evening, through which as a capacity of 100 barrels per day.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Maxwell took place this afternoon and had a large attendance. The body was taken to St. Ann's church, where services were conducted by Rev. Dean Partridge. Interment was made in the rural cemetery. The chief mourners were John Maxwell, Robert Maxwell, M. P. F., T. E. Dyer and James Biggs.

The supreme court will meet next Friday pursuant to adjournment and deliver judgment in the Cushing case and also in the case of Miss Mabel French of St. John, who is seeking admission as an attorney.

declared that at another time, when she was inclined to be hilarious and tickled the soles of his feet with a eather, he did not see the joke and tried to choke her. While living in Washington, a year ago Christmas Eve, Finacom called upon her. The night was cold and it was snowing and blowing a gale. Finacom begged to be permitted to remain, saying he was ill, and, Mrs. Ritterhoff declared, she gave her consent. She said that while Finacom called her "Minnie" and "Baby" he had never kissed her. As to letters she had written and signed "Cap," because she was born under the influence of Capricorn, Mrs. Ritterhoff said she merely wrote to "show off." "To show off what?" she was asked.

"My ability to write love letters and exercise my vocabulary and see how many ways one could write a love letter," she replied.

She believed the letters were taken from her desk, as she had never mailed them to Finacom. Her mother, Mrs. Bray, testified in her behalf.
Ritterhoff testified that his wife called him a monkey if he turned his toes in, deprived him of his tobacco and told him he would be shot if he smoked another cigar.
