Large Number of Visitors Flocking Wolfville: Old Graduates to Bid Farewell to Dr. Trotter

WOLFVILLE, N. S., June 3 .- Comencement week in Wolfville, the seat of Acadia College, with its affiliated schools, Acadia Seminary and Horton Collegiate Academy, is the occasion of many reunions and exchange of friend-ly greetings as old friends and graduates return each year to witness the closing exercises. The beauty of the natural surroundings, in the variety of its scenery, the profusion of its apple blossoms and the wealth of foliage, assists materially in keeping alive the affection for their alma mater and loyalty for her welfare that annually brings back so many of her sons and daughters to the recurring anniver-This year a larger number of visitors than usual and old graduates are returning to bid farewell to Dr. Trotter, the much esteemed president, who has so faithfully labored during the nine years of his presidency for the upbuilding of the institute here.

This morning assembly hall of the college was filled with the youth and beauty and wisdom of the cultured and educated people of the maritime prov-This year the management was fortunate in securing the Rev. Jos. McLeod, D. D., of Fredericton, to de-liver the baccalaureate sermon. Dr. Trotter took charge of the exercises and as the college bell ceased ringing at 11 o'clock, the long procession of students in cap and gown, filed into the hall and took the places reserved for them. Dr. Trotter offered the invocation. The music by a large choir, under the direction of Prof. Maxim, under the direction of Prof. Maxim, was especially good. The address, which was full of power and practical thought, was listened to with the greatest attention by the large audience. Dr. McLeod took his theme from Luke 22: 27: "I am among you as he that serveth," and the following is but a brief digest of the learned discourse:

The introduction was a brief expo-sition of the incident in which Christ, rebuking His disciples for their strife about who should be greatest, taught that true greatness is in service, empathizing His teaching by the statement of the text, "I am among you as he that serveth."

The subject of the sermon was Service.

The subject of the sermon was Service. In every sphere, the preacher said, the emphasis is on service. Men are measured by their practical value. The highest use of life is to make it a ministry. Jesus is the ideal servant. "He went about doing good." All His work was for men; and to service for men He sends forth His disciples. The good Samaritan story enforces this, as does also His sketch of the final judgment. "How dwelleth the glory of God in him," who, knowing his neighbor's need, fails to minister to it! The ways of service, it was pointed needs and talents. The opportunities are in every-day life. What seems least in the judgment of men is often greatest in far-reaching effect. The spirit of religion should be manifest in all relations and duties of life. All life should be held sacred to high purposes. largely attended, and many conservative of Christic arch. dngs which would keep men from par-ticipation in the affairs of worship and national life. ## CHEAPEST RATES EVER KNOWN FOR EXHIBITION

C. J. Milligan, manager of the exhibition, returned from Moncton on Saturday evening where he was holding a conference with Mr. Tiffin of the I. C. R. concerning the rates for the exhibition this fall.

He reports that the result of his visit was especially satisfactory, as he arranged for the best rates that ever have been received for any exhibition held in this city.

The I. C. R. arranged to give a one fare return rate to all exhibits coming to the St. John exhibition, and it was further arranged that after the ex-hibits had come to St. John that these exhibits could then get a half fare rate to the Sussex and Chatham exhibitions and return home for nothing. The passenger rate is also exceptionally good, as there will be one fare return rate good for the whole exhibition week. Then there will be three days of ex-cursion rates from all points east of Campbellton and west of Amherst, and then there will be two excursion days which will include points outside of the above named points. On these days special trains will be run from Moneton to St. John and all trains from other points will connect with these special trains. The rates are exceedingly low those days. As an instance of low they are from Moncton to St. John and return the fare will only be one

The days will be Tuesday, Wednes day and Friday of the exhibition The I. C. R. has also decided to send send its famous exhibit to the John fair this year, but as yet the de-tails have not been arranged, as the railway will exhibit not only here but at Toronto and Halifax, and as the show and the St. John show are on the same dates, there is some difficuly in arranging matters satisfactorily This exhibit will also include the fan ous colored pictures of the different points along the road of the I.
