

COURSE OF STUDY.

The Curriculum of Study of the College is divided into three courses, viz :—The Regular Course, the Commercial Course, and the Special Course.

The Regular Course includes the subjects every student must take, unless exempt as being in another department. This course is divided into four Forms, each of which is considered sufficient to require a College year for passing through it.

Students in the Commercial and Special Courses are exempt from such subjects of the Regular Course as the College Senate may from time to time decide.

The standing of each student is determined by an examination, or given upon the presentation of a certificate of equal standing from any similar institution in the Province, or Canada.

The course fits for passing Matriculation and First Year Examinations in the University of Toronto, for Matriculation in Law or Medicine, as well as for entrance on the Courses of Agriculture, Civil Engineering, and for beginning Theology in any of the Canadian Colleges.

The Course in Commercial subjects, including Penmanship, Business Correspondence, Book-keeping and Banking will form a prominent feature of the College.
