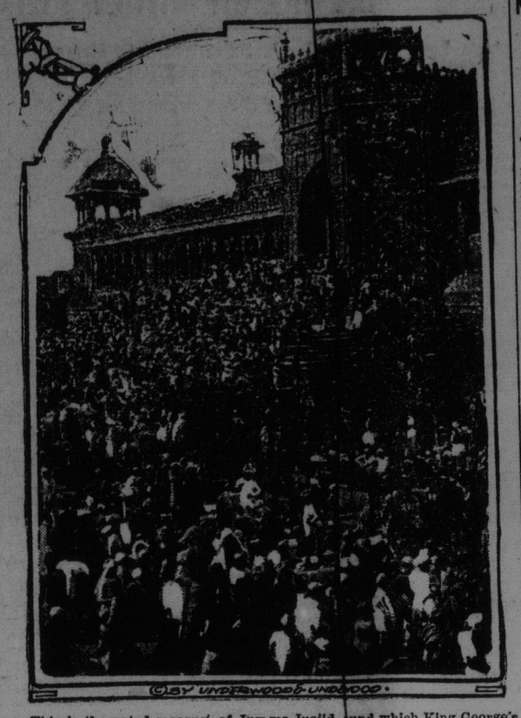
Eighty Dollars a Day Is Cheapes in Delhi



©BY UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD.

This is the noted mosque of Jumma Jusjid, and which King George's glittering Imperial pageant passes as one of the ceremonies in the Durbar parade at Delhi. In ancient days the Mogul rulers used to come humbly to the mosque to pray for the success of their reign. This photograph was taken during the Durbar when King Edward was proclaimed Emperor of India.

New York, N. Y., Dec. 11.—A cable from Delhi today says: "All is in readiness for the great Durbar ceremony tomorrow, and Delhi is like a scene from the Arabian Nights. The streets are gorgeously decorated, and the population has been swollen from 200,000 to nearly half a million. Hotel keepers are reaping a great harvest. Prices at the leading hostelries stand at $100 a day, although the special rate of $80 a day is made to visitors who remain for three weeks.

The exorbitant rates have kept away thousands who had intended visiting tomorrow's ceremony. British and native regular troops and petty princeling dyguards fill the streets, jostling wi the extraordinary polyglot crowd which are made up of representativ of a hundred races and creeds. King George and Queen Mary this morni reviewed the troops and presented n colors to three British and two nati regiments.

Most of t native rulers were present and sp ially screened pavilions were provid for their wives and daughters.

In the afternoon their Majesties attended the fi al game of the polo tournament. A ate banquet will be held this evenin

WANT RIGHT TO CONSTRUCT SIDING

W. B. Snowball, at Meeting of Chatham Council, Wants Concessions for Prospective Mill Owners.

Chatham, N. B., Dec. 7.—By far the most momentous event that has taken place at a council meeting for many months was W. B. Snowball's presence at the council session Monday evening to arrange for certain small concessions on behalf of the prospective purchasers of the pulp mill. These included the right to put a siding from the new railway to the paper room; the renewal of the present assessment figure; the settlement of outstanding taxes, and the right to generate electricity and distribute it over a limited area.

The meeting was held with the Mayor in the chair, and all the aldermen present except Ald. Brown and Kerr.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, the mayor announced that Mr. Snowball was present to lay some matters before the board.

Mr. Snowball in commencing stated that he wished to discuss with the council some matters in regard to the Miramichi Pulp Mill and the sale of that property. He referred briefly to the fact that the mill now had been closed for upwards of a year; that he had made every endeavor to ensure its running again, and had while in England spent weeks in bringing the matter before possible purchasers. Although handicapped by malicious reports that were sent out about the property, he had finally succeeded in interesting one party in the scheme to such an extent that he came out to Canada and ultimately arranged for two gentlemen to come to Chatham to inspect the property.

Mr. Snowball digressed to voice his disapproval of the impolitic act of the finance epartment of the town in choosing he day on which these gentlemen we here to seek to force a payment taxes. However, these gentlemen h made their report and the matter as now being given very favorab consideration by the English capitalists concerned. They had requested me to learn, however, if the council would grant some concessions in the event of their taking over the plant. As their decision would probably e reached in a few days he asked the council to let him know their opinon of the requests very early so tha he could cable the information immediately.

The concession or privileges asked were:

To continue te tax assessment on the property ate of valuation, in other words, to reat the new company in the same manner as the old company.

They wished to have the right to bring a siding from the new railway line, starting about opposite Donald Fraser's roperty and coming up to the paper hipping room, and also to the coal sheds, for the purposes of loading pulp cars and unloading coal cars with the utmost despatch and cheapness. It was the costly methods that the old company had to adopt to get their supplies to the mill that made the project unprofitable, and the new company, if they take it over, wanted to feel assured that they can get rid of all those money-wasting schemes. The track will cross the highway and the run up close to the building. As the street is practically spoiled for light raffic on account of the present lin the additional track would not make matters any worse.

Ald. Carvill agreed with this and said people wer using Wellington street now, instead of Water street.

The people o the other side, also said Mr. Snowball wanted a certain portion of the outstanding taxes remitted. Part they felt they should pay, but they objected to paying about half of the $2,000 outstanding.

They also wanted the right to carry electric power across the street and over the full extent of their own property and as far as the Richards mill. The company will probably generate their electricity on the river bank and use it in running part of the mill.

Mr. Snowball stated that the people negotiating for the property were looking to largely increase the output of the mill and greatly augment its manufacturing possibilities. By having cheap electric power, it would be possible to attract one or more small industries here and the pulp mill itself would probably not only make pulp, but would go into paper and paper box manufacturing, etc.

Mr. Snowball felt that the town should seize the opportunity to assure capitalists that it was willing to do everything to help the mill. To have it running again, will be a considerable advantage to the town, said he.

"I should think so," said several aldermen.

Mr. Snowball felt confident that once the new people decided to take the mill they would commence repairs at once, as they wish to get it into running order in the shortest possible time. Next May would be about the earliest it could be opened, however.

If these people take it, he said, you need have no fear about their running it, as they have plenty of backing and would never be caught by a shortage of money.

The members of the council all expressed their willingness to anything within reason and it is felt certain that the council will formally agree to give the concessions asked.

The council will also take up the question of running the ferry between Chatham and Ferryville on the opposite side of the river.

The mission circle of St. Luke's church held a very successful sale of fancy articles and home made candy on Monday evening. Upwards of $46.00 was realized.

FRUIT PRODUCED IN THIS PROVINCE

New Brunswick's Exhibit at Winter Fair Demonstrates Horticultural Development of Province - Prize Winners

To the Editor of The Standard.

Amherst, Dec. 11.—The fruit department of the big winter fair now in full swing here, as a whole is about the average size. Prince Edward Island contributing 60 plates having 6 entries of 10 plates each. Kings county, 20 plates. Queens county 30 plates, Prince county 10 plates.

Nova Scotia exhibits 210 plates from 21 contributors. Annapolis county has 20 plates, Hants county which leads them all in quality, has 30 plates. Kings county 20 plates. Pictou county 40 plates. Queens county 10 plates. Colchester county 30 plates. Antigonish county 20 plates. Cumberland county 40 plates.

New Brunswick exhibits 150 plates from 7 counties. Victoria county 20 plates, Kings county 30 plates, Sunbury county 10 plates, St. John county 20 plates, Charlotte county 10 plates, Queens county 30 plates, Albert county 30 plates. Fifteen contributors.

No special effort was made by the New Brunswick department of agriculture or the Fruit Growers' Association to induce our fruit growers to send exhibits of their fruit to the Amherst fair, farther than that the department would undertake to see that what was contributed, reached its destination and was properly displayed, thus relieving the management to some extent of the very onerous duties they have to carry during exhibition week. And just here I would like to mention that I feel personally indebted to them for courtesies extended and their thoughtful kindness during my stay at Amherst while in charge of the New Brunswick section of the fruit department. The fruit growers of the seven counties who made exhibits are to be congratulated on the fine showing they made, and if the other counties who could have put up similarly good exhibits had been represented, it would be of course added to the general interests of the province. However, as it was, New Brunswick came in for many complimentary expressions of genuine, and pleasant surprise and hearty congratulations of success that awaits the future development of our apple industry.

As compared with the exhibit of two years ago, New Brunswick fruit shows a marked improvement, being smoother and free from spots and blemishes and therefore of a higher standard. It is comprised of nearly all the winter varieties shown by the Nova Scotia fruit growers—the exceptions being in the Stark, Blenheim, Pippin, and the Non Pareil classes—which are not as yet very generally grown, but which I fancy will prove equally hardy with us, particularly the Blenheim.

The opportunities afforded here for comparison of our fruit with that of our sister provinces of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island are the best possible, and are well calculated to demonstrate our possibilities.

It is greatly to be regretted that more of the farmers and fruit growers of New Brunswick cannot find it convenient to attend the Winter Fair, particularly as it is proving so great an education along agricultural lines. When railway facilities are at hand the fares are so reasonable as to offer greater inducements, but along the St. John Valley I can sympathize with the people, having had to stage it some 35 miles myself to reach railway transportation to reach here. However, now that the Valley Railway is a certainty within the next two years, we are full of hope for the future. What a day of general rejoicing it will be when it is an accomplished fact, and we can avail ourselves of the facilities it will provide. Then the Winter fair should receive a large delegation from the river counties.

Refined, Delicate Skin Secured by Absorption

"No complexion can be considered beautiful if the skin is course in texture," writes Henrietta Cowles in Eastern Styles. "This trouble can be overcome by opening and cleansing the pores, the closing of which makes the skin rough. To open the pores and remove dirt and impurities, use the mercolized wax process. The wax completely absorbs the rough, faded or discolored outer skin and unclogs the pores. The fresh, young skin underneath then in evidence is exquisitely delicate, refined and beautiful. And it is kept so, as the pores now freely expel effete matter from the body and drink in the life-giving, circulation-promoting oxygen.

"Mercolized wax, because of its wonderful absorption power, is fast superceding other treatments for coarse, pimply, yellow, muddy or blotchy skin. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off next morning. The wax, to be had at any drug store, is entirely harmless."
