COLIN M'KAY'S HEROIC ACT SAVES LIFE OF WOUNDED MAN

Jumped overboard from steamer St. George to rescue patient who tried to commit suicide—Mr. McKay was formerly a member of Standard staff.

HOSPITAL SHIP ST. GEORGE.

Colin McKay, a former member of The Standard staff, who is doing his bit for the Empire, as second officer on H. M. S. St. George, recently saved the life of one of the patients. The ship was conveying to England from Rouen, when the C.P.R. liner St. George from the St. John-Digby route was requisitioned for the Admiralty service, as a hospital ship, Mr. McKay signed on as second officer and has been with the ship ever since.

AN UNIQUE CASE FROM WEST SIDE

Glue and cement were poured in a piano—Andrew Bennett arrested.

Andrew Bennett, of 119 Market place, West St. John, was arrested last night on a rather serious charge preferred against him by Mrs. Mary Manson who resides in the same house. The information sworn out by Mrs. Manson is for the wilful destruction of her property.

As near as could be learned in the West End last night regarding the case, Mrs. Manson, whose husband is now at the front with the 26th Battalion, resides in the upper flat of 119 Market Place, while Bennett with his wife and family reside on the ground floor. For some time past, it is said, matters have not been running smoothly between Bennett and Mrs. Manson. Some time late Saturday night, or early Sunday morning some person entered an upstairs window of the Manson flat and caused about two hundred dollars damage to Mrs. Manson's furniture. Using red paint some words were painted on the wall. Then with glue and cement the piano and chairs were destroyed. The cement and glue mixed was poured into the piano and between the keys, so much in fact, that on Sunday morning when the damage was discovered by Mrs. Manson the cement and glue had hardened so that the keys were solid and could not be moved.

The police would not discuss the case last night but it has been stated that Mrs. Manson has cause to believe that Bennett is the guilty person, and it is also stated that a ladder was used by the person who entered the Manson window.

Bennett appears to be a hard working man and was apparently surprised when taken into custody last night and claims that he will be able to prove an alibi to the effect that during the time that the damage is said to have been done in Mrs. Manson's home he was in his own home in bed asleep.

The case, however, promises to be a most interesting one before it is finished.

A Suggestion.

A prominent citizen speaking yesterday on the recruiting campaigns being carried on through the province told a Standard reporter that while all honor should be done to the young men who enlist to fight for their King and Country, something should be done for the young man who is brave enough to offer his services and is rejected because he is physically unfit. The citizen suggested that some badge of honor be given these young men who offer their services and are rejected. He pointed out that being loyal to their country than the physically fit young man who hangs back and will not try to enlist. He cited a few cases where young men are at present loafing about the city out of employment who have tried to enlist but who have been turned down. There are hundreds of such young men throughout the province who while walking about the streets are looked on as being those who have not even tried to get into a uniform.

The letter is signed by the following officers: F. McCarthy, W. R. Evans, C. Thornton and William Flanagan.

Rejoined Regiment.

Private F. Henry Murphy, of the 55th Battalion, left for Valcartier last evening. He had been home on leave of absence owing to the death of his only son, Leo, who it will be remembered was injured recently and died in the hospital soon after. Pte. Murphy wished to express his thanks to the doctors and nurses of hospital staff, especially Miss Lindsay, for their kind treatment to the boy while he was in the hospital. Private Murphy is well known around the city and his son was a particularly bright young lad and a general favorite among his acquaintances.

In addition to these two men signed on for the composite battery on Partridge Island, and Frederick J. Wilson and Charles Allan were passed for another unit going overseas.

The first of a series of recruiting meetings was held in the rooms corner of Dock and Mill streets, last night. The rooms have been fixed up for this purpose and present a very attractive appearance. The audience was not as large as it could have been, but considering that the Patriotic Auction was commanding a lot of interest at its inception, the number present was very creditable.

Philip Grannan, M.I.A., presided and the speakers were W. C. Kingston and Rev. M. E. Fletcher. Music was furnished by Messrs. Shaw and Jamieson. Both speakers, who have sons in the service of the King, dwelt on the importance of the war in a clear and forceful manner and exhorted those present to consider well the position of the Empire at this critical time and make up their minds as to what part they intend to play in the present struggle.

Rev. Mr. Fletcher called attention to the fact that the lumbermen of the province would likely curtail operations to a considerable extent this winter and that this would probably have a tendency to make work scarce in this line. He suggested that the best method of making provision for the winter's employment was to do the khaki and get in training to be prepared for active duty in the service of the Empire.

Mr. Kingston said that the present war was one of defense and that any man could feel morally right in offering his services. He told of having a boy in khaki and lamented the fact that his own age prevented him from taking an active part in the operations.

Archibald, who has accepted a call to the New Glasgow Baptist church, will leave for that place about the 15th of this month to assume his new duties.

STRICT MEASURES IN PROTECTION OF MILK

An important announcement is to the effect that the management of the Primrose Farm invite anyone who cares to do so, to have Primrose Farm milk tested by the highest chemical authority in Canada, and in the event of any impurity being found in that milk, they will pay attendant costs of the test.

This remarkable offer should be largely appreciated by all milk consumers, especially in view with previous experiences with epidemics due to infected milk.

Relative to possibility of advanced prices, the Primrose Farm management stated that, although milk feeds are higher than ever, and the production, care and protection of milk more expensive than in any previous season, they would not at present increase their prices.
